Heart Fund Drive Waited

Visits to homes throughout the city and suburban areas will be made Sunday by some 350 volunteer workers seeking contributions for the Heart Fund.

Susie Rose Stacey, a member of the Calcutta Golden Girls 4-H Club, who has collected the largest amount of her group for the fund for the past two years, is shown receiving a fund envelope from Mrs. William B. The main "Heart Sunday" solicitation will take place between 2 and 4 p.m., and envelopes for mailing will be left at homes where householders are absent, Mrs. Bernstorf said.

Proceeds from the annual drive are used for research, community service and education about the disease.

The drive is sponsored by the Columbiana County Heart Association which netted over $4,000 last year.

Services provided by heart contributions last year included testing of throat cultures of 562 school children suspected of "strep throat" — forerunner of rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease.

Sixty-one of the cultures proved positive and the family and physician were notified and treatment suggested.

Thirty rheumatic fever patients were referred by the association to the state health department for free penicillin.

Thirteen county residents were referred to free heart clinics at Youngstown for diagnosis

Glenn Seeks Quiet Alone With Family

Cheers At Welcome Still Ring In Ears Of U.S. Space Hero

By JOHN BARBOUR

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. AP —Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr.— his name a household word and his face familiar to schoolchildren — sought seclusion today. Few Americans, including the President of the United States, would blame him.

For nearly three months he has been in the public eye.

But in something more than four fantastic hours Tuesday, he faced his grim task, and by his skill and the help of men of skill on the ground below, he accomplished it.

Friday he returned full circle to the place where his struggle was born, to Cape Canaveral and to Pad 14 where his Atlas rocket was launched and to Mercury Control where his friends and compatriots had waited and hoped for his safe return.

Probably the squeals and cheers of Cocoa Beach schoolchildren still ring in his ears—and the questions of newsmen and the glaring lights of television cameras are still in the recent threshhold of memory.

But there, too, is the first look on the face of his wife, Anna, as he stepped from the plane that brought him to Patrick Air Force Base. And still he must remember the look of expectancy in the eyes of his daughter, Lyn, 14, and his son, David, 16, as he disembarked.

He must remember, too, the pride and interest David had as he peered into the heart of the spaceship that had carried his father three times around the world in a frenzied orbit through space.

Glenn could probably remember something of his own words as he explained the equipment dangling, now almost uselessly, inside.

"Our boosters may not be as large as some others," President Kennedy had said, "but our men and women are."

The President had made the remark before presenting Glenn with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Distinguished Service Medal.

After the ceremony in front of Hangar S, where Glenn had trained and donned his space suit for his adventure last Tuesday, Glenn and his family and a few guests retired into the hangar for lunch.

Later, after the President had departed for Palm Beach, Glenn sat before a row of senators and congressmen and a tent nearly full of newsmen and tried to im-

Premier Declares Only Chiefs Should Tackle Arms Issue

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy is reported to have formally turned down Soviet Premier Khrushchev's latest demand for a summit meeting to open next month's disarmament conference in Geneva.

The President's reply was expected to reach the U. S. Embassy in Moscow today for relay to the Kremlin. The U. S. government probably will make it public in a day or two.

In Washington, it was understood that Kennedy again had urged Khrushchev to agree to a meeting of U.S., British and Soviet foreign ministers a few days in advance of the Geneva meeting, probably March 10.

Khrushchev's summit proposal was rejected informally earlier this week by the State Department. Kennedy was reported Friday night to have given approval to a formal rejection.

He had had some time earlier to study a translation of Khrushchev's proposal.

In his 2,500-word declaration, Khrushchev hewed to the Soviet line that disarmament was such an important subject only chiefs of state should tackle it. Accordingly, in tougher terms than before, he called on Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to reconsider their decision against a summit meeting to open the 18-nation disarmament conference in Geneva March 14.

Kennedy and Macmillan have said they favor starting the conference at the foreign ministers level, with a summit session to be held later if real progress developed.

Kennedy and Macmillan were reported in Washington to have discussed by telephone their reply to Khrushchev. It was considered likely that Macmillan's reply also was going out this weekend.

Macmillan was understood to have urged Kennedy to maintain the same flexible attitude toward a possible summit meeting in the spring that the two had indicated in their previous messages to Khrushchev.

There was some indication in Washington that Macmillan feared Kennedy's reply would reflect U. S. toughening on the summit issue. Macmillan wished to avoid this.

Informants said the main concern of the two Western leaders now is to obtain from Khrushchev a definitive reply to their proposal for opening negotiations at the foregin ministers level.

Most Of Ohio Crippled By Snow And Ice

Up To 10 Inches Reported In Worst Storm In Years

By The Associated Press

Most of Ohio lay under crippling ice and snow today from one of the worst winter storms the Buckeye State has seen in years.

The southwestern fourth of the state was nearly paralyzed by Friday night's downpour of ice and sleet. The northern half was digging out of snow which accumulated up to 10 inches.

Only the southeast fourth of the state was relatively spared, but there heavy rains sent streams to their banks.

The front moved into the state late Friday and quickly locked up highway traffic.

In the ice area which stretched from the Ohio River Valley to just north of U.S. 40, thousands of power lines were down, hospitals were using emergency supplies, trees toppled, utility poles snapped and live wires started hundreds of minor fires.

In Columbus, Dayton, Springfield and smaller communities motorists dodged fallen limbs;

Freeze After Heavy Rain Slicks Roads

Winter lambasted the East Liverpool area with a three-prong attack Friday night — snow, sleet and rain — then an overnight freeze that added to the woes of motorists.

Snow fell on the western side of Columbiana County and the Eastern side got sleet and a heavy rain that the Stratton Dam said totaled 1.6 inches.

The State Highway Department garage at Leetonia said all crews were sent out cindering about 6 p.m. yesterday and they had to plow some stretches where snow and slush accumulated to a depth of 6 inches.

They were out until 4 a.m. then returned with cinders at 7:30 after the temperature drop created ice on the wet and mushy roads.

A thin sheet of ice covered most of the highways in Columbiana County this morning, according to the Ohio State Highway Patrol at Lisbon. Officers said the roads were very slippery.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol at Steubenville said the highways in its area were "very hazardous."

The city escaped the brunt of the storm that hit the more northern counties and the streets were glazed only briefly by the early evening sleet as the hard rain that followed washed off the ice. It was probably the most concentraded rain of the season, exceeding an inch and a half in hardly more than 10 hours.

The dam measured the precipitation from 2:40 Friday afternoon until falling temperatures cut it off at 1:15 a.m. today. The city had an overnight low of 29 degrees about 6 a.m. and the dam said the mercury fell there to the freezing mark of 32 at 7 a.m.

A further drop in temperatures to the low 20's was forecast for this afternoon with tonight's expected range to be 8 to 12 degrees. But only snow flurries are forecast for the weekend as Sunday will continue cold.

7 Given Fines After Guilty Pleas In Raid

Penalties Of $300 To $500 Handed 2 Men And 5 Women

Two men and five women were fined $300 to $500 on guilty pleas Friday on charges involving gambling and prostitution at the Kitty Kat Klub on State Route 7 south of Toronto.

The charges were filed by agents from the Canton office of the Ohio Liquor Control Department last weekend in a raid on the old roadhouse.

Agents said a section of the tavern had been converted into a gambling parlor and that prostitution was being conducted in the upstairs.

The hearings were held yesterday afternoon before Jefferson County Judge Helen Miller Huntsman in Toronto.

Benny Pandelli of Warren was fined $300 for keeping a place of assignation and prostitution.

George Stirpenzski, 23, of Steubenville was fined $400 for keeping a place for gambling.

Judge Huntsman suspended all but $100 of the $300 fines she imposed on the five women on condition they leave the county immediately.

The five, charged with loitering and soliciting, are Tina Shell, 23, Jackie Wilson, 27, Joan Kolby, 22, and Carman Davis, 23, all of Cleveland, and Rita Anderson, 22, of Canton.

The agents confiscated a quantity of gambling equipment. During the raid, an explosion apparently caused by a bomb ripped a section of the tavern.

William A. Galayda, agent-in-charge, said the operators of the gambling house "evidently had stepped on someone's toes and the bomb was used to get the message across that they were intruding in someone else's territory.

Road Worker Struck By Car Passing Slide

Rogers Area Man Suffers Fractures Of Legs In Mishap

A State Highway Department employe was hospitalized Friday night with injuries suffered when struck by a car on the Wellsville-East Liverpool super-road while cleaning away a slide.

It was one of six accidents investigated late Friday afternoon and night by the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon blamed on to yesterday's icy and freezing weather.

Paul E. Watson, 42, of Rogers R. D. 1 is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with compound fractures of the legs and lacerations of the left cheek, lower lip and chin and above the right eye.

Watson was struck by a car driven by John E. Rardon, 19, of Lisbon St. at 11:30 p. m. on Route 7 about a mile and a half north of the Wellsville corporation limits, the patrol said.

Watson had parked a State Highway Department truck in the right lane and turned on all the blinker lights while he went to clear away a small rock slide which had been loosened by the heavy rain.

Watson was standing at the front of the vehicle and tossing small rocks off the highway when more rocks started falling. He then jumped back and was struck by the car which had started to pass the truck, the patrol said.

Rardon was cited for speeding and driving without an operator's permit.

Two Salem children were injured slightly when the car in which they were riding skidded on the ice and went off Route 30 at the Crockery City Farms yesterday at 7:15 p. m.

Officers said the car driven by

Trio To Face Grand Jury In Extortion Plot

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Under $20,000 bond each, two 17-year-old Steubenville High School seniors and a 20-year-old companion were held today for a federal grand jury. They are charged with trying to extort $4,000 from a Youngstown man by threatening to bomb his coffee house.

The trio—Charles Thomas Oxley, John Hamilton and John Anthony Reducha—entered no pleas Friday when arraigned here before U. S. Commisioner Henry C. Robinson. The U. S. District Court in Cleveland will get their case.

FBI agents arrested the three Steubenville youths in Toronto, near there, Thursday night. The FBI said Gus Leamis, 62, had received a demand for $4,000, after a bomb exploded near his business place on Feb. 11.

Steel Pact Talks Touch On Economics

PITTSBURGH (AP) — United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald and top steel management negotiator R. Conrad Cooper ended the eighth day of steel contract talks Friday without commenting on progress.

"All we can say," a joint statement said, "is that we had more of the same today—intense collective bargaining involving both areas of economics and other matters."

They refused to answer when asked if they are still hopeful of reaching agreement before March 1.

Commander Of B52 Falls Out Of Plane

WESTOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—The commander of an Air Force B52 Stratofortress fell from his plane Friday night while it was flying at an altitude of 31,000 feet over Thule, Greenland.

An Air Force spokesman said the commander was attempting to correct a minor electrical difficulty when the escape hatch was jettisoned accidentally and he fell out.

He was identified as Maj. Earl R. Cairl of Buffalo, N.Y., who was presumed dead.

Peiping Says U.S. Imperils Asian Peace

Denounces 'Armed Intervention' In South Viet Nam

TOKYO (AP)—Peiping charged today that U. S. military support of South Viet Nam seriously affected the security of Red China and Communist North Viet Nam and threatened the peace of Asia.

The United States "is already in an undeclared war in South Viet Nam," Peiping said in a statement broadcast by the New China news agency.

Peiping denounced what it called the armed U. S. intervention in South Viet Nam.

"This state of affairs cannot be allowed to continue," the Peiping statement said. "The Chinese (Communist) government holds that the cochairmen of the 1954 Geneva Conference and the countries concerned must promptly hold consultations and take appropriate measures to eliminate the serious danger of war in southern Viet Nam."

Peiping said, "Recently, the United States of America has become more and more bold and unscrupulous in its intervention and aggression in southern Viet Nam."

The statement called on the United States "to stop at once its armed intervention in South Viet Nam and immediately withdraw all its military men and immediately withdraw all its military men and equipment there."

Peiping said, "The armed U.S. imperialist intervention and aggression in southern Viet Nam constitutes a direct threat to the security" of North Viet Nam and "it also seriously affects the security of (Communist) China and the peace of Asia."

The United States has about 4,000 troops in South Viet Nam to train and supply the pro-Western government of President Ngo Dinh Diem. The Americans are not regarded as combat forces but have orders to shoot back if fired upon. They go on some military missions with South Vietnamese units as advisers.

Crossing Crash Damages Truck, Train, House, Car

A New Castle trucker was cited early this morning after his tractor - trailer and a westbound train collided at the Walnut St. crossing, leading to a spectacular crash in which he was injured and the rig, the locomotive, a house and a parked car were damaged and approximately 100 feet of spur track torn up, police reported.

Edward Brown, 28, of New Castle R. D. 5 is in "fair" condition at City Hospital with back injuries suffered in the crash at 1:53 a. m. He was admitted about two hours after the collision.

He was charged by Patrolman S. E. Hayes, who investigated, with reckless operation.

According to Patrolman Hayes' report, Brown did not see or hear the westbound train approaching the crossing. L. R. Till of Crestline was the engineer.

The sketchy report said Brown was headed north when the crash occurred.

His rig was damaged extensively, the officer reported, noting that one wheel can't be found. The front of the engine also was damaged.

The right front fender and door and left rear fender of a parked 1957 auto owned by Conward Adkins, 207 Walnut St. also was damaged.

Bid On Span Substructure Is $1,424,290

W. P. Dickerson & Son, Inc., of Youngwood, Pa., submitted the unofficial low bid of $1,424,290 to the Pennsylvania State Highway Department Friday for construction of the substructure of the proposed six-span bridge over the Ohio River at Shippingport.

It will carry Routes 168 and 68 from Shippingport and Industry Boroughs. The contract is expected to be awarded shortly.

The project covers three-fourths mile of roadway, includes grading, drainage and erection of two steel I-beam bridges for the approach.

Bids for the superstructure will be advertised at a later date. The main span will be 608 feet and cross the river on four piers with abutments at either end.

The city escaped the brunt of the storm that hit the more northern counties and the streets were glazed only briefly by the early evening sleet as the hard rain that followed washed off the ice. It was probably the most concentraded rain of the season, exceeding an inch and a half in hardly more than 10 hours.

The dam measured the precipitation from 2:40 Friday afternoon until falling temperatures cut it off at 1:15 a.m. today. The city had an overnight low of 29 degrees about 6 a.m. and the dam said the mercury fell there to the freezing mark of 32 at 7 a.m.

A further drop in temperatures to the low 20's was forecast for this afternoon with tonight's expected range to be 8 to 12 degrees. But only snow flurries are forecast for the weekend as Sunday will continue cold.

Faces Pen On Dope

CINCINNATI (AP) — Arthur Jackson, 46, of Dayton must spend 20-40 years in prison on charges of selling narcotics. Judge Louis Schneider convicted Jackson Friday and added a 2-15 year term for possession of narcotics.

7 Given Fines After Guilty Pleas In Raid

Penalties Of $300 To $500 Handed 2 Men And 5 Women

Two men and five women were fined $300 to $500 on guilty pleas Friday on charges involving gambling and prostitution at the Kitty Kat Klub on State Route 7 south of Toronto.

The charges were filed by agents from the Canton office of the Ohio Liquor Control Department last weekend in a raid on the old roadhouse.

Agents said a section of the tavern had been converted into a gambling parlor and that prostitution was being conducted in the upstairs.

The hearings were held yesterday afternoon before Jefferson County Judge Helen Miller Huntsman in Toronto.

Benny Pandelli of Warren was fined $300 for keeping a place of assignation and prostitution.

George Stirpenzski, 23, of Steubenville was fined $400 for keeping a place for gambling.

Judge Huntsman suspended all but $100 of the $300 fines she imposed on the five women on condition they leave the county immediately.

The five, charged with loitering and soliciting, are Tina Shell, 23, Jackie Wilson, 27, Joan Kolby, 22, and Carman Davis, 23, all of Cleveland, and Rita Anderson, 22, of Canton.

The agents confiscated a quantity of gambling equipment. During the raid, an explosion apparently caused by a bomb ripped a section of the tavern.

William A. Galayda, agent-in-charge, said the operators of the gambling house "evidently had stepped on someone's toes and the bomb was used to get the message across that they were intruding in someone else's territory.

Near Final Decision

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP)—The Algerian Committee for National Liberation, which has been conferring here secretly since Thursday on proposed peace terms for Algeria, is near a final decision, informed sources said today.

Bid On Span Substructure Is $1,424,290

W. P. Dickerson & Son, Inc., of Youngwood, Pa., submitted the unofficial low bid of $1,424,290 to the Pennsylvania State Highway Department Friday for construction of the substructure of the proposed six-span bridge over the Ohio River at Shippingport.

It will carry Routes 168 and 68 from Shippingport and Industry Boroughs. The contract is expected to be awarded shortly.

The project covers three-fourths mile of roadway, includes grading, drainage and erection of two steel I-beam bridges for the approach.

Bids for the superstructure will be advertised at a later date. The main span will be 608 feet and cross the river on four piers with abutments at either end.

A collision at 11:10 p.m. yesterday at E. 5th and Washington Sts. damaged cars operated by Lawrence Keuper, 32, of 1500 Dresden Ave. and James Gary Adkins, 21, of 1032 Edgewood Ave.

Adkins said he was headed south on Washington St. and his car stalled in the intersection and then was hit by Keuper's auto as the light changed. Keuper told police he stopped for the signal and then proceeded through the intersection but failed to see Adkins' auto.

An auto operated by Aibin J. Dietz, 69, of 209 E. 5th St. and the truck of William H. Hunter, 57, of R. D. 3 were involved in a collision at 8:22 this morning on Dresden Ave. at the blinker signal.

Hunter told police his truck skidded on the icy pavement and struck the rear of Dietz' slow-moving auto as both were headed toward the city.

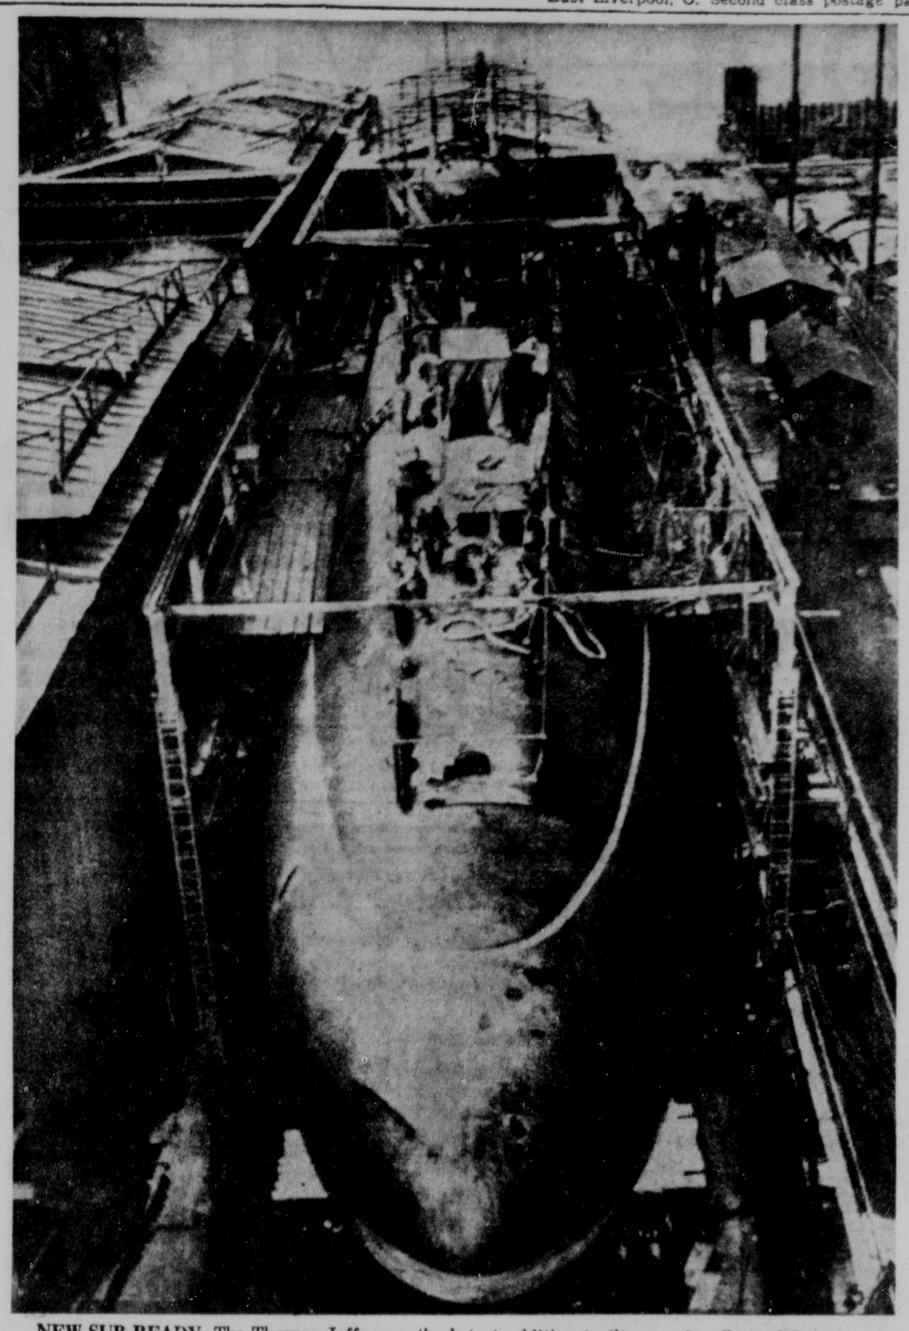

Professor Gives It The Old College Try

BOSTON (AP) — Emerson College professor Haig Der Marderosian is dieting — at $100 a pound.

The money — contributed by students and alumni for every pound lost — is going to the college fund.

The professor's goal is 100 pounds. He's lost 75 since Nov. 1 when he weighed 342¾ pounds.

"Fat came off in layers when I started," the professor says. "It's like chipping granite block now. But I hope to make it eventually."

South Side School Mothers Form Scout, Brownie Units

Mothers of South Side Schools near Hookstown met Wednesday evening in the Hanover Church and organized an Intermediate Girl Scout Troop and a Brownie Troop.

Mrs. Ray Trimble and Mrs. Russell Ball, Aliquippa District chairmen, assisted in formation of the groups. Mrs. Trimble is neighborhood chairman of the Hopewell-Independence - Raccoon Township and South Heights and South Side Districts.

Twenty-one intermediate and 17 Brownies were enrolled. The intermediates includes girls from the fifth through eighth grades and the Brownies from the second through fifth grades.

Mrs. Fred Campbell Jr. is leader of the intermediates with Mrs. Raymond Tate assistant. Girls in the intermediate age bracket may call Mrs. Campbell at 573-9275 and enroll.

Mrs. Paul Brandon is leader of the brownies and girls interested may call her at 573-4328. Mrs. William Sando is the brownie assistant.

The leaders, assistants and committee women will attend basic training school weekly for five weeks before assuming their duties.

The two groups will meet weekly in the Hookstown Grange Hall on Thursday nights. The date of the first meeting will be announced.

Hanover Township also organized its groups with Mrs. Albert Vespaziani as leader of the intermediates and Mrs. Margaret Weber, assistant. Mrs. R. E. Davis is the brownie leader. Their future meetings will be held in the Hanover Church.

Senior girls, ninth through 12th grades, may join the Senior Scout Troop at Raccoon.

Glenn

part something of his adventure to the American public.

"It was very spectacular, looking out into this orange glow and seeing those big flaming chunks go back along the flight path," Glenn said of the only incident that caused him "major concern" during the entire flight.

He already had conquered the problem of control of the spacecraft after the automatic control equipment had proved too costly in terms of precious fuel.

Then, after the decision to try a third orbit of the earth, a new problem had cropped up. Glenn's first warning came in a word from the ground below.

Don't jettison your braking rockets after they have fired, he was told.

These are rockets that slow the spacecraft for its plunge to earth. They are at the bottom of the bell-shaped spaceship.

Immediately below the rocket package is the shield that protects the spacecraft and the space pilot from burning up in the enormous heat of reentry into the earth's atmosphere.

The men below, alerted by a warning light, felt that this heat shield might have come loose. The rocket package, held in place by metal straps, also could hold the heat shield in place until the danger period was over.

"It became apparent something was tearing up on the heat-shield end of the capsule," Glenn said, "because there were large pieces —anywhere from pieces as big as the end of your finger to pieces probably seven or eight inches in diameter—breaking off the edge of the capsule and coming back up past the window.

"Well, that obviously was the retropackage (breaking rockets) breaking up . I thought at the time, however, that the retropackage had already been jettisoned.

"So there were some moments of doubt whether the heat shield had been damaged and whether it might be tearing up itself and this—this could have been a bad day all the way around if this had been the case."

But Glenn mastered the moment.

The heat in the capsule did become uncomfortable, and Glenn admitted to sweating profusely. This is why, he said, after he and the Friendship 7 spacecraft had been hauled from the water to the deck of the destroyer Noa he had decided to blow the hatch on the spacecraft and come out the easy way rather than struggle through the difficult exit at the neck of the spacecraft.

Glenn told of the remarkable sunsets over the earth's rim from a space point of view.

The sun goes down over the horizon of earth 18 times as fast as it does on a spot on earth, he said without elaboration. In space the sun is a huge bright light. As its light is seen through the atmosphere of earth, it turns into a brilliant orange and then into the colors of the rainbow.

At the news conference Glenn's sense of humor came to the fore. He told of seeing the weird "fireflies" unexplained, glowing bluish specks he saw when the sun was rising over the earth. After he had told Dr. George Ruff, the astronauts' psychiatrist, of these strange sights, Ruff asked him: "What did they say, John?"

Monday, after his weekend with his family somewhere, Glenn will return to Washington for a motorcade at 11:15 a.m. from the White House to the Capitol. There he will address a joint session of the House of Representatives and the Senate.

Tuesday, he speaks to the House Space Committee at a critical time—when the space budget is submitted.

Wednesday he speaks to the Senate Space Committee.

Then on Thursday he will ride in a ticker-tape parade up Broadway in New York City.

Arlene G. Troyer, 23, of Salem tore down 40 feet of fencing along the road. Merl Troyer, 15, and Faith Troyer, 12, were treated at Salem Central Clinic for minor injuries, officers said.

Cars driven by Richard E. Hetrick, 22, of Columbiana R. D. 2 and Dorothy Coseno, 39, of Leetonia collided on Route 344 about a mile west of Columbiana yesterday afternoon at 5:50.

Officers said Hetrick skidded on the icy highway and went left of center, striking the oncoming car. The woman suffered a laceration of the lower lip and was treated by a Leetonia physician. Hetrick was cited for speeding.

A pickup truck driven by Rondo S. Winters, 47, of Lisbon and a car driven by Vito J. Picione, 43, of North Olmstead were involved in a collision at 4:15 p. m. on Route 7 about two miles north of Route 30.

Officers said Winters had started to make a left turn into a side road when he was struck in the left side by Picione, who had started to pass. Picione was arrested for improper passing.

A pickup truck driven by Jay C. Knox, 42, of Wooster was struck in the rear by a car driven by Robert W. Mayes, 17, of Hamilton, Pa., at 9:40 p. m. on Route 62 about three miles west of Salem.

Knox had halted when another car slid into a ditch. Mays was cited to Juvenile Court.

A car driven by Ronald J. Noll, 17, of Salem skidded off the right side of Route 9 just south of the Salem limits and struck a utility pole at 11:50 p. m.

Officers said Noll lost control when his right wheels hit deep snow. Minor damage resulted.

U.N. Warned By Rhodesia

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The South African radio said today Southern Rhodesia's prime minister, Sir Edgar Whitehead, has warned the United Nations not to try and send any commission into his territory to investigate racial and other conditions.

One of his aides was quoted as adding: "If any United Nations' committee tries to sneak in here they are likely to find themselves looking into the business end of a rifle."

If Whitehead carries out this threat, he will be following white-ruled South Africa, which barred U.N. probers from entering mandated South West Africa last year.

Whitehead is scheduled to visit London next week to discuss Southern Rhodesian affairs and probably broach U.N. "interference" then.

The U.N. issue came to a head Friday night with an assembly request to its 17-nation Committee on Independence for Colonies "to consider whether the territory of Southern Rhodesia has attained a full measure of self-government."

The vote was 57-21, with 24 abstentions.

Object of the study would be to determine whether Britain is obliged to give the United Nations regular information on economic, social and educational conditions in Southern Rhodesia, as colonial powers are required to do on their nonself-governing territories. Britain contends that Southern Rhodesia has been self-governing since the early 1920s.

2,000 MPH B70 Bomber Taking Shape

PALMDALE, Calif. (AP)—The first 2,000-mile-an-hour B70 bomber, prototype of airliners that someday will span the continent in 90 minutes, is taking shape in a huge hangar on the Mojave Desert.

Newsmen got their first look—without cameras—Friday at some of the giant sections being put together to form the 185-foot-long, 250-ton monster.

The first B70 should be completed by September and ready for flight testing before the year ends. Plans call for two others to be built—and that's all.

Despite its brute size and force—the B70's six jet engines kick out twice the thrust of the Redstone rocket that shot Alan B. Shepard Jr. into space—there's a big question about the worth of the giant bomber.

After the first three have been tested, the administration will decide whether to build more or put the money into missiles.

More than a billion dollars already have been spent. Three-hundred million more will be added to the bill by the time flight testing is finished.

Meantime, more than 1,000 specialists are rushing the first B70 to completion at the North American Aviation, Inc., assembly plant here.

Glimpse Of Future From Steel Research

NEW YORK (AP) — Here is a glimpse into the future as seen from steel research laboratories:

Three - level railroad cars for transport of automobiles.

Redesign of automobile and truck frames, using high-strength steels to reduce weight.

Lighter, more efficient office furniture to fit modern decor.

Castro Stirs Up Rumors With Absence

By The Associated Press

Prime Minister Fidel Castro has been out of the public eye in Havana for the past 11 days. His absence — developing into something of a mystery — has stirred up a number of rumors, none of them confirmed.

In the past Castro has often disappeared for days. But a Mexico City newspaper published a rumor that Castro had slipped into asylum in the Mexican Embassy in Havana. The Mexican ambassador, Gilberto Bosques, told reporters in Havana the rumor "is absolutely baseless."

At U.N. headquarters in New York, Cuban Chief Delegate Mario Garcia-Inchaustegui was asked about the rumors and said: "This is not a serious question. It is completely phony."

Officials in Havana who would know declined to talk about Castro's whereabouts, but this is not unusual.

Castro was expected to attend recent ceremonies putting another ship into the Cuban merchant fleet. But since the first announcement of this by Havana radio, there has been no further reference to him in this connection. Reports of the ceremonies made no mention of his presence; he could not be seen in a television version monitored at Key West, Fla.

Another rumor that could not be confirmed was that Castro was in Moscow.

Castro's last major appearance before the Cuban public was when he read a 13,000-word speech on Feb. 5 attacking the United States and some Latin-American countries for their roles in the foreign ministers conference at Punta del Este, from late January to early February.

The fact Castro read the declaration—he normally speaks without notes in evidence—has led to speculation that a Communist-line leadership was running his government, and some restrictions had been placed on him.

Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson flew separately to Palm Beach after the President had seen Glenn. Kennedy and Johnson, who is head of the President's Advisory Council on Space, lunched together and discussed the U. S. space program.

Electronic Gauge Helps Blind Workers

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — A special electronic gauge helps blind employes make close measurements and inspections of bearing parts made by the Timkin Roller Bearing Co.

The gauge uses sound to tell the inspectors whether the part is usable or offsize.

Other blind employes make sure tools used on automatic screw machines are free os steel shavings.

Timken, which calls the blind inspectors "most efficient," has employed blind persons in such jobs since 1943.

Mason Had Unusual Suggestion For Gift

Shortly before Christmas, a mason named Damon Williams — a man with a firm belief in the value of advertising — painted this sign on the back of his truck:

"Give her a concrete driveway for Christmas."

Give Senate Some Expressions

Lausche And Young Swell With Pride Over Glenn

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Frank Lausche and Stephen M. Young swelled with native pride—and let the Senate have some expressions of it—after John Glenn of Ohio became the free world's first orbiting astronaut.

"I hope my fellow senators will not deem me vain if I take this occasion to make brief mention of the contributions Ohio has made to science, literature, Art, government, economy and the social evolution of our nation," Lausche said in the Senate.

Then he proceeded to call the roll of illustrious Ohioans from Johnny Appleseed to Astronaut Glenn — including the Wright Brothers, the man who wrote McGueffy's reader, and Presidents Grant, Garfield, Harding, Hayes, Harrison, McKinley and Taft.

"To stand at the head of a long list of illustrious and distinguished Ohioans now comes (Lt.) Col. John Glenn," he said.

Then Young arose to pay tribute to the Marine officer from New Concord, Ohio. He said, "as long as mankind exists on this planet, yesterday (Tuesday) will be remembered not only as a milestone in man's continuing thirst for knowledge, but as a day when the best in freedom, democracy and an open society was displayed to the world."

Rep. Charles A. Mosher, R - Ohio, has retired as publisher of the Oberlin News - Tribune and president of the Oberlin Printing Co.

Does this mean the first-term congressman feels his re-election is assured this fall?

"Sure, if that's the way you interpret it," Mosher said.

In a statement announcing his retirement from his newspaper enterprises, he said "I fully intend to do the kind of job here in Washington and also to conduct the kind of vigorous campaign this fall that will warrant my election again. I expect to win!"

Mosher said Brad Williams is stepping up from vice president to succeed him as president of the printing firm and publisher of the News-Tribune.

Rep. John M. Ashbrook, R - Ohio, has hit on a scheme to save the federal government a little money.

From now on, Ashbrook plans to mail his weekly letter to constituents every two weeks, with the first week's items on one side of the page and the second week's comments on the other side.

He figures it will save the government about $75 a week in envelopes and postage.

Ashbrook sends out about 3,500 copies of the letter under the franking privilege.

Although he plans to introduce legislation to prevent congressmen from blanketing their districts with "junk mail" he feels the letters to constituents are a legitimate function and a service.

When the Voice of America celebrates its 20th anniversary Monday, one Ohio guest will have a special interest in the ceremonies.

Rep. Walter H. Moeller, D-Ohio, is a regular participant in Voice operations, taping German language broadcasts to be aired to East and West Germans.

President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk are scheduled as speakers at the Voice of America birthday celebration in the auditorium of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Little Wonder He's Taken Into Custody

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Police took the man into custody for investigation, and no wonder.

The officers were called to Spa Beach by someone who noticed a man lying on the sand under a cloudy sky with a coat over his head. They found a 33-year-old man, fully clothed, partially buried under drifting sand.

They uncovered his head and asked him what he was doing.

"I'm getting a sun tan," he replied.

Senior girls, ninth through 12th grades, may join the Senior Scout Troop at Raccoon.

part something of his adventure to the American public.

"It was very spectacular, looking out into this orange glow and seeing those big flaming chunks go back along the flight path," Glenn said of the only incident that caused him "major concern" during the entire flight.

He already had conquered the problem of control of the spacecraft after the automatic control equipment had proved too costly in terms of precious fuel.

Then, after the decision to try a third orbit of the earth, a new problem had cropped up. Glenn's first warning came in a word from the ground below.

Don't jettison your braking rockets after they have fired, he was told.

These are rockets that slow the spacecraft for its plunge to earth. They are at the bottom of the bell-shaped spaceship.

Immediately below the rocket package is the shield that protects the spacecraft and the space pilot from burning up in the enormous heat of reentry into the earth's atmosphere.

The men below, alerted by a warning light, felt that this heat shield might have come loose. The rocket package, held in place by metal straps, also could hold the heat shield in place until the danger period was over.

"It became apparent something was tearing up on the heat-shield end of the capsule," Glenn said, "because there were large pieces —anywhere from pieces as big as the end of your finger to pieces probably seven or eight inches in diameter—breaking off the edge of the capsule and coming back up past the window.

"Well, that obviously was the retropackage (breaking rockets) breaking up. I thought at the time, however, that the retropackage had already been jettisoned.

"So there were some moments of doubt whether the heat shield had been damaged and whether it might be tearing up itself and this—this could have been a bad day all the way around if this had been the case."

But Glenn mastered the moment.

The heat in the capsule did become uncomfortable, and Glenn admitted to sweating profusely. This is why, he said, after he and the Friendship 7 spacecraft had been hauled from the water to the deck of the destroyer Noa he had decided to blow the hatch on the spacecraft and come out the easy way rather than struggle through the difficult exit at the neck of the spacecraft.

Glenn told of the remarkable sunsets over the earth's rim from a space point of view.

The sun goes down over the horizon of earth 18 times as fast as it does on a spot on earth, he said without elaboration. In space the sun is a huge bright light. As its light is seen through the atmosphere of earth, it turns into a brilliant orange and then into the colors of the rainbow.

At the news conference Glenn's sense of humor came to the fore. He told of seeing the weird "fireflies" unexplained, glowing bluish specks he saw when the sun was rising over the earth. After he had told Dr. George Ruff, the astronauts' psychiatrist, of these strange sights, Ruff asked him: "What did they say, John?"

Monday, after his weekend with his family somewhere, Glenn will return to Washington for a motorcade at 11:15 a.m. from the White House to the Capitol. There he will address a joint session of the House of Representatives and the Senate.

Tuesday, he speaks to the House Space Committee at a critical time—when the space budget is submitted.

Wednesday he speaks to the Senate Space Committee.

Then on Thursday he will ride in a ticker-tape parade up Broadway in New York City.

Arlene G. Troyer, 23, of Salem tore down 40 feet of fencing along the road. Merl Troyer, 15, and Faith Troyer, 12, were treated at Salem Central Clinic for minor injuries, officers said.

Cars driven by Richard E. Hetrick, 22, of Columbiana R. D. 2 and Dorothy Coseno, 39, of Leetonia collided on Route 344 about a mile west of Columbiana yesterday afternoon at 5:50.

Officers said Hetrick skidded on the icy highway and went left of center, striking the oncoming car. The woman suffered a laceration of the lower lip and was treated by a Leetonia physician. Hetrick was cited for speeding.

A pickup truck driven by Rondo S. Winters, 47, of Lisbon and a car driven by Vito J. Picione, 43, of North Olmstead were involved in a collision at 4:15 p. m. on Route 7 about two miles north of Route 30.

Officers said Winters had started to make a left turn into a side road when he was struck in the left side by Picione, who had started to pass. Picione was arrested for improper passing.

A pickup truck driven by Jay C. Knox, 42, of Wooster was struck in the rear by a car driven by Robert W. Mayes, 17, of Hamilton, Pa., at 9:40 p. m. on Route 62 about three miles west of Salem.

Knox had halted when another car slid into a ditch. Mays was cited to Juvenile Court.

A car driven by Ronald J. Noll, 17, of Salem skidded off the right side of Route 9 just south of the Salem limits and struck a utility pole at 11:50 p. m.

Officers said Noll lost control when his right wheels hit deep snow. Minor damage resulted.

U.N. Warned By Rhodesia

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The South African radio said today Southern Rhodesia's prime minister, Sir Edgar Whitehead, has warned the United Nations not to try and send any commission into his territory to investigate racial and other conditions.

One of his aides was quoted as adding: "If any United Nations' committee tries to sneak in here they are likely to find themselves looking into the business end of a rifle."

If Whitehead carries out this threat, he will be following white-ruled South Africa, which barred U.N. probers from entering mandated South West Africa last year.

Whitehead is scheduled to visit London next week to discuss Southern Rhodesian affairs and probably broach U.N. "interference" then.

The U.N. issue came to a head Friday night with an assembly request to its 17-nation Committee on Independence for Colonies "to consider whether the territory of Southern Rhodesia has attained a full measure of self-government."

The vote was 57-21, with 24 abstentions.

Object of the study would be to determine whether Britain is obliged to give the United Nations regular information on economic, social and educational conditions in Southern Rhodesia, as colonial powers are required to do on their nonself-governing territories. Britain contends that Southern Rhodesia has been self-governing since the early 1920s.

2,000 MPH B70 Bomber Taking Shape

PALMDALE, Calif. (AP)—The first 2,000-mile-an-hour B70 bomber, prototype of airliners that someday will span the continent in 90 minutes, is taking shape in a huge hangar on the Mojave Desert.

Newsmen got their first look—without cameras—Friday at some of the giant sections being put together to form the 185-foot-long, 250-ton monster.

The first B70 should be completed by September and ready for flight testing before the year ends. Plans call for two others to be built—and that's all.

Despite its brute size and force—the B70's six jet engines kick out twice the thrust of the Redstone rocket that shot Alan B. Shepard Jr. into space—there's a big question about the worth of the giant bomber.

After the first three have been tested, the administration will decide whether to build more or put the money into missiles.

More than a billion dollars already have been spent. Three-hundred million more will be added to the bill by the time flight testing is finished.

Meantime, more than 1,000 specialists are rushing the first B70 to completion at the North American Aviation, Inc., assembly plant here.

Glimpse Of Future From Steel Research

NEW YORK (AP) — Here is a glimpse into the future as seen from steel research laboratories:

Three - level railroad cars for transport of automobiles.

Redesign of automobile and truck frames, using high-strength steels to reduce weight.

Lighter, more efficient office furniture to fit modern decor.

Directive To Nurses: Watch Skirt Length

DES MOINES (AP) — A faculty directive to young nurses at Iowa Methodist Hospital there reads:

"The uniform skirt may NOT be shorter than two inches below the popliteal space."

The popliteal space is the back of the knee.

By The Associated Press

Prime Minister Fidel Castro has been out of the public eye in Havana for the past 11 days. His absence — developing into something of a mystery — has stirred up a number of rumors, none of them confirmed.

In the past Castro has often disappeared for days. But a Mexico City newspaper published a rumor that Castro had slipped into asylum in the Mexican Embassy in Havana. The Mexican ambassador, Gilberto Bosques, told reporters in Havana the rumor "is absolutely baseless."

At U.N. headquarters in New York, Cuban Chief Delegate Mario Garcia-Inchaustegui was asked about the rumors and said: "This is not a serious question. It is completely phony."

Officials in Havana who would know declined to talk about Castro's whereabouts, but this is not unusual.

Castro was expected to attend recent ceremonies putting another ship into the Cuban merchant fleet. But since the first announcement of this by Havana radio, there has been no further reference to him in this connection. Reports of the ceremonies made no mention of his presence; he could not be seen in a television version monitored at Key West, Fla.

Another rumor that could not be confirmed was that Castro was in Moscow.

Castro's last major appearance before the Cuban public was when he read a 13,000-word speech on Feb. 5 attacking the United States and some Latin-American countries for their roles in the foreign ministers conference at Punta del Este, from late January to early February.

The fact Castro read the declaration—he normally speaks without notes in evidence—has led to speculation that a Communist-line leadership was running his government, and some restrictions had been placed on him.

Kennedy flew up to Cape Canaveral, Fla., to greet Glenn, look over the spaceport from which the astronaut rode a roaring rocket aloft, and bestow a medal on him. Monday Kennedy, Glenn and the astronaut's family will fly to Washington and another massive welcome.

Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson flew separately to Palm Beach after the President had seen Glenn. Kennedy and Johnson, who is head of the President's Advisory Council on Space, lunched together and discussed the U. S. space program.

Electronic Gauge Helps Blind Workers

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — A special electronic gauge helps blind employes make close measurements and inspections of bearing parts made by the Timkin Roller Bearing Co.

The gauge uses sound to tell the inspectors whether the part is usable or offsize.

Other blind employes make sure tools used on automatic screw machines are free os steel shavings.

Timken, which calls the blind inspectors "most efficient," has employed blind persons in such jobs since 1943.

Give Senate Some Expressions

Lausche And Young Swell With Pride Over Glenn

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Frank Lausche and Stephen M. Young swelled with native pride—and let the Senate have some expressions of it—after John Glenn of Ohio became the free world's first orbiting astronaut.

"I hope my fellow senators will not deem me vain if I take this occasion to make brief mention of the contributions Ohio has made to science, literature, Art, government, economy and the social evolution of our nation," Lausche said in the Senate.

Then he proceeded to call the roll of illustrious Ohioans from Johnny Appleseed to Astronaut Glenn — including the Wright Brothers, the man who wrote McGueffy's reader, and Presidents Grant, Garfield, Harding, Hayes, Harrison, McKinley and Taft.

"To stand at the head of a long list of illustrious and distinguished Ohioans now comes (Lt.) Col. John Glenn," he said.

Then Young arose to pay tribute to the Marine officer from New Concord, Ohio. He said, "as long as mankind exists on this planet, yesterday (Tuesday) will be remembered not only as a milestone in man's continuing thirst for knowledge, but as a day when the best in freedom, democracy and an open society was displayed to the world."

Rep. Charles A. Mosher, R - Ohio, has retired as publisher of the Oberlin News - Tribune and president of the Oberlin Printing Co.

Does this mean the first-term congressman feels his re-election is assured this fall?

"Sure, if that's the way you interpret it," Mosher said.

In a statement announcing his retirement from his newspaper enterprises, he said "I fully intend to do the kind of job here in Washington and also to conduct the kind of vigorous campaign this fall that will warrant my election again. I expect to win!"

Mosher said Brad Williams is stepping up from vice president to succeed him as president of the printing firm and publisher of the News-Tribune.

Rep. John M. Ashbrook, R - Ohio, has hit on a scheme to save the federal government a little money.

From now on, Ashbrook plans to mail his weekly letter to constituents every two weeks, with the first week's items on one side of the page and the second week's comments on the other side.

He figures it will save the government about $75 a week in envelopes and postage.

Ashbrook sends out about 3,500 copies of the letter under the franking privilege.

Although he plans to introduce legislation to prevent congressmen from blanketing their districts with "junk mail" he feels the letters to constituents are a legitimate function and a service.

When the Voice of America celebrates its 20th anniversary Monday, one Ohio guest will have a special interest in the ceremonies.

Rep. Walter H. Moeller, D-Ohio, is a regular participant in Voice operations, taping German language broadcasts to be aired to East and West Germans.

President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk are scheduled as speakers at the Voice of America birthday celebration in the auditorium of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Little Wonder He's Taken Into Custody

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Police took the man into custody for investigation, and no wonder.

The officers were called to Spa Beach by someone who noticed a man lying on the sand under a cloudy sky with a coat over his head. They found a 33-year-old man, fully clothed, partially buried under drifting sand.

They uncovered his head and asked him what he was doing.

"I'm getting a sun tan," he replied.

Divorces--Long Distance

JUAREZ, Mex. (AP) — Lawyers in this Mexican border town offer divorces to fit the pocketbook.

They'll untie a bothersome marriage knot in a matter of a few days, if the pocketbook is well padded; in a few weeks, if it's more on the thin side.

In either event, there'll be few questions asked. The person whose marriage yoke has begun to feet a bit tight needn't spend enough time in Mexico even to get his shoes dusty, if he's in a hurry.

Some folks don't bother to come here at all, preferring to handle the entire matter by mail.

Grinding out divorces — principally for United States residents and other foreigners — is a thriving, lucrative business which the Juarez Bar Association estimates brings in more than a million dollars a year.

About 10,000 persons go their separate ways each year with the help of Juarez's lenient interpretation of the none-too-strict Mexican divorce laws.

The no-questions-asked procedure has drawn such well-known figures as Ingrid Bergman, Sophia Loren and Debra Paget to shed their mates here.

Dozens of signs that read "divorce matters handled efficiently," or "divorce matters," or just plain "divorces" greet the visitor along the main street of this dusty, crowded border town across the Rio Grande from El Paso, Tex.

It isn't nearly as widely advertised, but marriage matters are handled just as efficiently, with the same flexible terms tailored to fit the individual's means and inclinations.

Miss Bergman took advantage of both sides of the matrimonial coin which the city offers, divorcing Dr. Peter Lindstrom and marrying movie director Roberto Rossellini three months later — both by proxy and without ever having set foot in Juarez.

The popularity of Juarez as a divorce center grew after a crackdown in 1952 on quickie divorces in the southern state of Morelos, whose capital city, Cuernavaca, long had been a favorite spot for mate-shifting among international society.

The crackdown came just as Ethel Merman, star of the Broadway show "Call Me Madam," was in Mexico deciding she'd rather be called "Miss." Unable to obtain a quick divorce in Cuernavaca, Miss Merman headed for Juarez, and a steady stream of married folk who long to be single has followed ever since.

But Juarez doesn't take its position for granted and guards it jealously.

Recently Juarez lawyers raised a howl of protest when the state government announced a hike in the tax charged for filing divorce papers. They claimed that the higher tax, instead of bringing in more money for the state, would only result in less income by driving the thriving divorce rtade to another section of Mexico.

Garish, dusty Juarez doesn't have the charm that the divorce-seekers found in lush, tropical Cuernavaca.

In the days when it was the divorce mecca of Mexico, those fed up with married life lingered a while in the plush resort south of Mexico City while they shed their mates.

Woolworth dime store heiress Barbara Hutton liked it so well she decided she'd take a house after obtaining a divorce in 1951 from her fourth husband, Lithuanian Prince Igor Troubetzkoy. She's still living there.

Ends West Berlin Visit

Kennedy Confronts Red Policemen At Checkpoint

BERLIN (AP)—Robert F. Kennedy wound up his two-day morale-building visit to West Berlin today by confronting armed East German policemen at Checkpoint Charlie. The policemen grinned sheepishly and took his picture.

The U. S. attorney general stopped briefly at the checkpoint, the only place in the Red wall dividing the city where the Communists allow foreigners in and out of East Berlin, on his way to the airport. He took off later for Bonn with his wife, Ethel, and his younger brother, Edward.

The street on the Communist side of the checkpoint was empty except for East German guards and a group of East German photographers when the Kennedy motorcade arrived.

The other side was crowded with West Berliners who only moments before had greeted a Soviet staff car with jeers and boos. At the sight of Kennedy, they broke into cheers and began chanting, "Come back soon, Bobby!"

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt pointed out to Kennedy where Soviet and American tanks faced one another across the barricades at the checkpoint last October.

Kennedy then walked up to within inches of the white line marking the border. Two East German police officers with cameras grinned sheepishly at Kennedy, but no words were exchanged.

Across the wall, a score of East Berliners in an apartment block waved from their windows. Kennedy waved back.

Two small West Berlin boys presented Kennedy flowers. Behind them another group of children carried a placard saying, "Kennedy, Johnsen, Clay, all of them okay."

"Johnsen" was a slightly misspelled tribute to Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, who also received a tumultuous welcome when he visited West Berlin last August.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay is President Kennedy's personal representative in Berlin.

At a news conference before his visit to the checkpoint, the attorney general was asked about reported criticism in some Western circles of his younger brother's excursion into East Berlin. Edward Kennedy visited the Communist sector Friday and said it was a model of what he called the sterility of life under communism.

The reported criticism centered on the younger Kennedy's having shown his passport to East German guards on entering the Communist zone, something U. S. government officials are reluctant to do because the United States does not recognize the Communist East German regime.

The official Communist East German news agency ADN seized on the incident as a sign of "respect for the sovereign rights of the German Democratic Republic."

Edward Kennedy, however, does not hold an official U. S. government position and Americans not in an official capacity have often shown their passports on entering the Soviet sector.

At the outset of the attorney general's news conference, a newsman asked, "I understand there has been some criticism in the United States of the visit of your brother, Edward Kennedy, to East Berlin. Is there anything you would like to say about that?"

The attorney general was clearly prepared for the question. He said his brother's visit "was discussed and recommended by the State Department. I think the State Department showed good judgment."

The attorney general said that he did not visit East Berlin himself because "I have seen East Berlin twice. I have no desire to see it again."

Tuition Boosted $50

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — The Marietta College board of trustees announced today a $50-a-semester tuition increase, effective the 1963-64 academic year. The increase, to help raise faculty salaries, will make tuition $475 per semester.

Weather

street lights failed; communications were disrupted.

North of U.S. 40 a near-blinding snowstorm caused motorists to leave their cars in the downtown areas of many cities and struggle homeward on foot.

Cleveland Hopkins Airport closed down shortly before 10 p.m. when visibility was reduced to less than 450 feet.

One death was reported which could possibly be attributed to the storm.

In Lima a truck driver said he did not see 12-year-old Jimmy Eberle run into a street. The youngster, however, was first struck by a car and knocked under the wheels of the truck.

No other serious accidents or injuries were reported.

Clinton County was among the hardest hit in the ice - coated southwestern area. The hospital in Wilmington lost its power for several hours after electricity went out, but operated by an auxiliary system. Blanchester was blacked out all night and many other communities were dark for hours.

The ice even stopped trains in eastern Clermont County. The power failures cut off automatic signals and the trains came to a halt. Later operation was restored at a slow pace under manual signaling.

Falling electric lines also stopped several high school basketball games abruptly when gymnasiums suddenly were blacked out.

North of Ohio's U.S. 40 belt high winds sent the heavy snowfall drifting severely.

Traffic on the Ohio Turnpike was placed under a 40 m.p.h. speed but the toll road remained open.

Many other routes in the northern counties, however, became impassable and motorists were stranded by the scores.

A 10-inch snowfall was reported in Geauga County, while Cleveland was expected to have eight inches before the storm subsided. Akron had six inches.

Source Of Revenue? Put Animals To Work

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Buffalo's Mayor Chester Kowal, looking for new sources of revenue for the city, suggested putting the zoo animals to work.

Why couldn't the baby elephant and the camel be saddled up to give children rides for a fee, the mayor asked.

He was told a professional trainer would have to be hired first. Then, any profits left would probably be eaten by insurance costs, his advisers said.

The suggestion is quietly pending.

GLOBE, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky is a state in which to see the world. Besides Globe, its towns have such names as Versailles, Glasgow, Cuba, Madrid, Berlin, Holland, Newfoundland, Warsaw, Ghent, Lebanon, Boston, Wyoming and Texas.

51 Cases Wait Grand Jurors

About 51 cases will face the Beaver County Grand Jury when it convenes Monday at Beaver, including those of Harry H. Davis of Industry and Robert L. Caputo of Monaca on additional charges of embezzlement and conspiracy.

Davis was director and Caputo, assistant director, of the county Welfare Department and had been indicted by the previous Grand Jury on several counts in the same case.

Other cases include James Bridges of Midland, charged with assault and battery, and Paul Perkins of Midland, malicious mischief.

The list of names drawn for Grand Jurors includes Helen K. Bradshaw of Industry.

The list of names for petit jurors for trials the week of March 12 includes John Cavanaugh, Mary Doyle, Robert Graham and Sam Rosatone, all of Midland; John D. Anderson of Ohioville, Joe H. Conley of Hookstown, Louise Mayhew of Georgetown and Martha Montgomery of Shippingport.

The list of names for petit jurors the week of March 19 includes Willie Hudson, Ann Medich, Nat Moll, Dominic Presutti, Sue Tucker and Dora Williams, all of Midland, Rose Marie Traynor of Industry and Harry M. Lutton of Hanover Township.

Florida Newsman Couldn't Take Snow

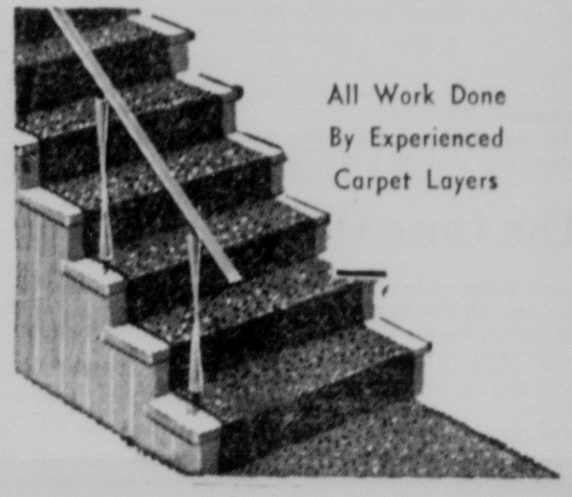

RIVERTON, Wyo. (AP) — The Riverton Daily Ranger recently hired a new man from a Florida newspaper.

The day of his anticipated arrival came. Instead of a new staffer came this telegram: "Got 34 miles west of Casper (about 66 miles from Riverton) and ran into a snow storm. Sorry can not take job. Am returning home."

North of Ohio's U.S. 40 belt high winds sent the heavy snowfall drifting severely.

Traffic on the Ohio Turnpike was placed under a 40 m.p.h. speed but the toll road remained open.

Many other routes in the northern counties, however, became impassable and motorists were stranded by the scores.

A 10-inch snowfall was reported in Geauga County, while Cleveland was expected to have eight inches before the storm subsided. Akron had six inches.

Source Of Revenue? Put Animals To Work

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Buffalo's Mayor Chester Kowal, looking for new sources of revenue for the city, suggested putting the zoo animals to work.

Why couldn't the baby elephant and the camel be saddled up to give children rides for a fee, the mayor asked.

He was told a professional trainer would have to be hired first. Then, any profits left would probably be eaten by insurance costs, his advisers said.

The suggestion is quietly pending.

51 Cases Wait Grand Jurors

About 51 cases will face the Beaver County Grand Jury when it convenes Monday at Beaver, including those of Harry H. Davis of Industry and Robert L. Caputo of Monaca on additional charges of embezzlement and conspiracy.

Davis was director and Caputo, assistant director, of the county Welfare Department and had been indicted by the previous Grand Jury on several counts in the same case.

Other cases include James Bridges of Midland, charged with assault and battery, and Paul Perkins of Midland, malicious mischief.

The list of names drawn for Grand Jurors includes Helen K. Bradshaw of Industry.

The list of names for petit jurors for trials the week of March 12 includes John Cavanaugh, Mary Doyle, Robert Graham and Sam Rosatone, all of Midland; John D. Anderson of Ohioville, Joe H. Conley of Hookstown, Louise Mayhew of Georgetown and Martha Montgomery of Shippingport.

The list of names for petit jurors the week of March 19 includes Willie Hudson, Ann Medich, Nat Moll, Dominic Presutti, Sue Tucker and Dora Williams, all of Midland, Rose Marie Trainor of Industry and Harry M. Lutton of Hanover Township.

Florida Newsman Couldn't Take Snow

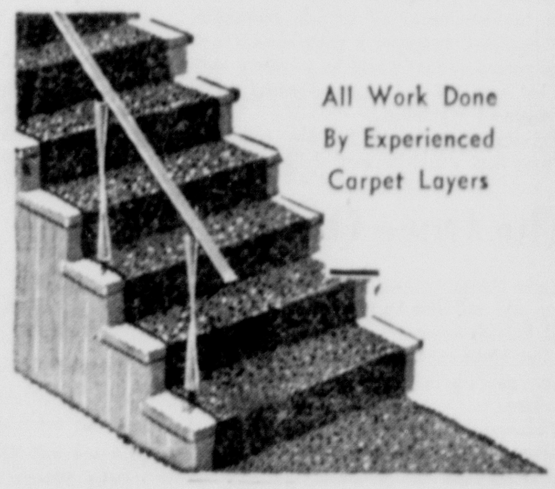

RIVERTON, Wyo. (AP) — The Riverton Daily Ranger recently hired a new man from a Florida newspaper.

The day of his anticipated arrival came. Instead of a new staffer came this telegram: "Got 34 miles west of Casper (about 66 miles from Riverton) and ran into a snow storm. Sorry can not take job. Am returning home."

How To Prove The President Wrong

Rejoicers and gloaters over the walloping defeat Congress handed the Kennedy administration's proposal for a department of urban affairs are entitled to their moment of triumphant emotionalism.

But they will be well-advised to let it pass quickl yand turn to some hard-headed thinking about the President's comment at his press conference immediately after the House defeated him. He said:

"We are going to have an urban department. It may not come this year, but in my opinion it will become as necessary and inevitable as the Department of Agriculture, or of Health, Education and Welfare."

Some may write this off as a defensive show of confidence. But we suspect President Kennedy spoke from a cool analysis of political facts, which he does very well.

A POLITICAL and governmental vacuum exists in municipal affairs. This includes both large and small communities.

Much of the machinery of local government in virtually every state rusted out long ago, but the demand for solution of local problems grows unceasingly and with staggering complexity.

Occasional, usually hesitant moves have been made to revamp the design of the old or to create new machinery that will work as effectively in revitalizing today's hometown as the rusted-out systems worked in building it.

With few exceptions, these moves have been rebuffed either on the local front, or in state capitols or both. Standing in the way of change has been a coalition of nostalgic sentimentalists and holdover functionaries who have too great a personal stake in the old machinery to let go.

So far the coalition has been eminently successful. Change has been forestalled. But the government vacuum grows more complete. The old systems either work badly or not at all and state legislatures refuse to revise them.

INTO THE VACUUM, inevitably, moves the federal government. State Sen. Charles W. Whalen Jr. of Dayton recently explained how:

"While local officials may decry the growth of federal power, it is only natural that they pursue a course of least resistance.

"If, therefore, a visit to a member of the U.S. House of Representatives eventually may result in a $10 million federal grant-in-aid, why should a local administrator take the time to conduct a six months' political campaign in an effort to convince 55 to 60 per cent of his constituents that it is in their best interest to impose a tax increase upon themselves?"

Sen. Whalen could have added the probability of eventual defeat.

This is the political reality we suspect President Kennedy sees when he predicts there will be one day soon a department of urban affairs. This is what convinces the federal official "the people" are demanding such an agency.

There is time to prove President Kennedy wrong. But hard-headed thinking just as realistic as his is necessary to do it.

STATES' RIGHTERS must stop talking anti-federalism and use the power of their states to give local governments modern tools to serve the needs of cities.

Home rule advocates must be as ardent in using these new tools—taking the burden on themselves—as they are ardent in talking about home rule.

Annexation and incorporation revisions, ne taxing authority, metropolitan federation amendments, changes in road and street fund distribution, to cite only a few, must become takeoff points for intelligent discussions toward action instead of dead issues before they are introduced in each successive legislative session.

No one should be misled into thinking that because change has been forestalled so far it will never come. The pull of the vacuum is too strong. Something is going to happen.

President Kennedy believes that "something" will be a federal department of urban affairs. Unless the people who fear it wake up and start moving, he is absolutely right.

–But Don't Go Near The Water

On Monday hearings on proposed legislation to control an international space satellite communications system will open in Washington.

They will be held by the Senate Aeronautical and Space Sciences Committee, whose chairman is Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla. The policy the hearings will help to determine will be with the American people a long time. It will bear watching.

Again there is the touchy issue of whether politicians should be allowed to determine as a matter of public policy that private enterprise can be barred from certain fields because they are too large to be trusted to private hands.

This is the same question public power developers have raised for the electrical industry, which has been threatened by federal takeover since the early days of the New Deal under Franklin D. Roosevelt.

It is the question raised in the case of atomic energy, where the federal government exploited its monopoly of necessity during wartime to keep tight postwar control of a source of power.

The issue is never settled.

THE GOVERNMENT takeover crowd never gives up, and the private enterprise people never give in. They take their shellackings and bob up to fight again another day.

The attempt to have government take over space satellite communications completely has been sidetracked by a Solomonic recommendation of President Kennedy for splitting the difference between public and private ownership.

Instead of yielding to those who wanted him to recommend all private ownership, the President proposed a government-chartered monopoly that would be privately owned but operated by a kind of cartel under government regulation.

Private enterprise in this new communications field would be kept at bay by being barred from holding either voting or dividend-paying stock. Its holdings would be useful only for determining rates for other services. Voting rights and dividends would be available only to outsiders in the communications field.

THIS WOULD BE one of the most stirring opportunities since the "darling daughter" was permitted to go swimming if she didn't go near the water. The only thing that makes it worth considering is the thought it may be the best deal private enterprise can get; that the alternative might be a communications counterpart of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Outsiders hoping to move in on this exciting new opportunity to provide service in communications for a profit should be reconciled to the "long pull."

The billion dollars' worth of stock that would be offered would cost at least $1,000 a share and buyers would be warned against hope of profit for years to come, though eventual prospects of profit would be excellent for everybody except the private enterprise that would make the profit possible; namely, the communications industry.

It would be barred from its own field by a political decision.

Romney Must Recognize His Party

By Raymond Moley

Without prejudging the potential provided by George Romney for the future of the Republican party, several practical considerations should be faced.

The road to the Republican National Convention is long and rough.

The problems carried by whoever wins the nomination must be very heavy. And this is a formidable burden even for an individual who has pushed his company into successful competition in an industry whose past is strewn with failures.

The benign pat on the back for the announced candidate for the governorship of Michigan by the emeritus head of the Republican party, Mr. Eisenhower, must be assayed with caution.

The former President's criteria for Republican leadership reflect qualities he himself presented in 1952 — complete freedom from any taint of Republicanism in earlier days, and a name well known in some field other than political life.

This, of course, overlooks the fact that a good name needs loyal and active work at the precinct level by experienced workers, effective organization and sound financial backing to win in Michigan and other states.

The former President may have forgotten how far short these qualifications were found to be in the disaster which befell his candidate, James P. Mitchell, in New Jersey.

In many respects George Romney meets the Eisenhower criteria. He said in a television interview that he never found it necessary to identify himself with the Republican party until he sought a place in the current constitutional convention in Michigan. He pointed out that there is a responsibility higher than partisanship.

This is only measurably true for, as he said, the responsibility of citizenship comes first. But one of the cardinal qualifications of a good citizen is respect for the two-party system without which the liberties of the individual would be in grave jeopardy.

MR. ROMNEY said further, no doubt referring to Michigan, that the "image" of the Republican party is that of a political entity dedicated to business as distinguished from citizens' interests.

This is the "image" Democrats have vigorously promoted for their opposition. It is true that the big automobile companies centered in Michigan have until recently been more concerned with lobbying in Lansing than with encouraging their employes at the management level to get into work at the precincts.

Any experienced Republican politician in Michigan could tell Mr. Romney that, but for the lack of adequate funds in the final weeks of the 1960 campaign and precinct work in Wayne County, an excellent Republican candidate, Paul Bagwell, would now be governor and Nixon would have carried the state.

It was not wealth but poverty that fell before the hosts and the money of Reuther and Gus Scholle.

The vitality of the Republican party in Michigan is in the chairmen of counties and local communities, and they will be there next fall when Romney will be a candidate.

If they work hard and effectively, Romney will win. But to start a campaign with critical comment about the party one wants to represent is hardly a way to elicit that sort of loyalty.

CERTAIN VIEWS about issues which Romney has expressed are fine as generalities. But in certain specifics he has taken a curious line which is not likely to endear him to those who feel that it is not the function of government to determine the size of a business, but only to be sure that there is adequate competition.

In testifying before the Kefauver subcommittee on Anti-Trust and Monopoly, Romney said that the size of companies should be limited to a specific percentage of the business of the industry.

This would mean a Procrustean bed created by government, either by distorting the interpretation of the anti-trust laws as they have existed over the years or by a progressive corporation tax. Either would constitute a vast and unjustified intervention by government into economic life.

So long as real competition is assured, the size of a company is a problem of the marketplace, not of management, Congress or the Department of Justice.

Michigan needs a good business manager in the governorship. Its decline and fiscal troubles, despite its wealth and sturdy citizenship, are deplorable.

Romney would probably serve in an outstanding fashion. In attaining that position, he should display something in the nature of recognition of the statewide organization of his party which will get people to work in the precincts for lying in wait for him is a tightly-held, efficient Reutherian machine which can mobilize thousands of experienced political workers and immense sums for a campaign.

Limit To Black Boxes

By Truman Twill

Something finally has come out of Astronaut Glenn's great experience that's down to earth.

In the future, he says, the science fellows can take out a lot of their automated clutter that made it nearly impossible for an astronaut to squeeze inside a space capsule. Astronaut Glenn says he proved a man can do most of the things that need to be done better than the electronic marvels the geniuses loaded into the first space ships.

This can be understood by everybody worrying about being replaced by a dry cell, a solenoid button and some transistor tubes.

The time is at hand when human beings still in possession of all their buttons must get tough about buttons-missing science fellows hell-bent on proving they can repace men with automated "systems."

We are going to have to show these creepies that we can replace them with common sense. If their adoration at the shrine of efficiency has so unhinged them they think a mechanized world would be more desirable than a world in which human beings still made their own decisions, it's obvious they are ready for padded cells.

Astronaut Glenn says he proved that a man "is a heck of a lot better than a black box."

Note he did not say a black box was not in itself an impressive and awe-inspiring contraption. He said only that man in himself also was an impressive and awe-inspiring contraption and could do some things better than a black box could do them because he had intelligence and judgment.

We are told that civilization is turning into a collection of black boxes — an automated society.

We are bewitched by the discovery that black boxes can do a wide variety of things.

We are bemused by the idea that black boxes — when they work perfectly — are more trustworthy than men.

Astronaut Glenn suggests we had better be bemused by the idea that black boxes do not always work prefectly and that men have judgment that beats anything found in a black box.

The upshot of this down-to-earth wisdom by the only man ever proved to have orbited the earth in outer space is a kick in the bread box for black-box people.

The moral is that men like John Glenn are not ready to step aside for a black box just to please some genius who made one. The long-range moral is that black boxes exist only for the benefit of men and should be used only for that purpose. Men do not exist for the benefit of black boxes.

They'll have to go first.

Kennedy Questioned On Urban Affairs Plan

Despite the fact that the House of Representatives overwhelmingly defeated the administration's latest reorganization plan, President Kennedy predicts that the establishment of a Department of Urban Affairs, which he unsuccessfully advocated is inevitable.

David Lawrence

The President, unhappily, has not analyzed the real reason for the setback. It wasn't personal. It wasn't based, as he suggests, on opposition from rural areas to giving aid to cities. It wasn't motivated by the ill-advised interjection of a racial issue in the announcement that Robert C. Weaver, a Negro, would be appointed to head the new department.

The refusal of Congress to go along was due primarily to a deep-seated revolt against the concept of a centralized government which could conceivably convert the White House into the most powerful political machine this country has ever known.

If a department of urban affairs is needed to work with municipal governments, it is just as logical to ask for the creation of two other departments—one covering all relations between the federal government and state governments and another to embrace all relations with county governments.

Likewise, it can be argued that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has too broad a scope, and that it should be separated into two departments, so that one can specialize in education.

The basic mistake is in the concept that new departments are needed for urban affairs, just because city problems have increased. Fundamentally—if the federal government is to maintain the constitutional principle of state, city and county systems, as separated from the federal system—what is desirable is not several new departments, but one department that specializes in the disbursement of federal funds and the making of contracts with the states, counties and cities.

Also, if the argument that the federal government doesn't intend to control the educational process of the states—when federal funds are furnished to them—is accepted as sincere, then all that is needed is a good business organization to see that federal funds are matched by the states and that the money is spent for the purposes set forth in the law.

While Robert Weaver might be a good man for a cabinet post some day, it would have been much better if the President had turned to the business or financial world and had selected another Robert McNamara to head up the very department of urban affairs which he espoused. For it is not a knowledge of city politics that is so much needed as a familiarity with large business and financial transactions.

BILLIONS of dollars of the taxpayers' money are involved in all these plans for new departments. Thus, the billions that are spent by the federal government in cooperation with the states for highways are in the hands of the bureau of public roads inside the U.S. Department of Commerce.

It could logically be argued that a U.S. department of relations with the states would more properly supervise the work done by the bureau of public roads and other agencies of the federal government that deal with the states.

Counties have too long been neglected. Federal funds are being furnished to "distressed areas" through the Area Redevelopment Administration, which is in the U.S. Department of Commerce. This department today delegates some of the activities of the Area Redevelopment Administration to at least five other departments or agencies of the federal government.

The fallacy in the approach heretofore to the problems of administrative reform and reorganization is that broad subjects—agricultural, labor and commerce—have been confused with simple tasks which are designed to make sure that federal funds are spent for the objectives stipulated in the appropriation laws passed by Congress.

THE FEDERAL government is growing as population grows. And while the fundamental structure of the government here can be improved and modernized, the basic principles laid down in the Constitution are still valid—namely, that self-rule must be maintained, as well as a reliance on the states and cities and counties to exercise full responsibility for their own systems of government.

What is needed in government today is decentralization instead of more centralization. The states and cities are not all equal in financial capacity and some federal aid becomes essential. The doctrine, however, that the federal government shall extract from taxpayers in New York State, for example, money to pay for the projects of the State of Illinois, which has the resources to finance its own needs, cannot be persuasively defended.

The President the other day in his press conference said that 80 per cent of the American people now live in cities and offered this as a justification for supervision of urban affairs by a department of the federal government.

This might readily lead to an abandonment of self rule and a concentration of political power in the executive branch of the federal government—a formula that could make the White House in the future a bigger source of political power and boss rule than a dozen Tammany Halls combined.

Letter To Editor

The flight of Col. Glenn will be commented on and discussed by thousands of persons. May I offer a comment or two?

The death of President Roosevelt united our people as a nation for a short time of shock and sorrow.

We cannot conceive of a time when our hearts, as one, have been so exposed. The duration of the almost five-hour trip, we were prepared to pray, to burst into tears from sorrow or relief. Col. Glenn's ordeal deserves no less.

There would be no wars if nations would give equal appreciation to every life offered in service.

There would be no deaths from starvation if each life were given such reverence.

There would be fewer prisoners, fewer unhappy, Godless people if as nations we would offer concentrated, organized effort.

We were amazed, dumbfounded at the marvels of electrical equipment and the intricate communication systems, including TV.

Romney Must Recognize His Party

By Raymond Moley

Without prejudging the potential provided by George Romney for the future of the Republican party, several practical considerations should be faced.

The road to the Republican National Convention is long and rough.

The problems carried by whoever wins the nomination must be very heavy. And this is a formidable burden even for an individual who has pushed his company into successful competition in an industry whose past is strewn with failures.

The benign pat on the back for the announced candidate for the governorship of Michigan by the emeritus head of the Republican party, Mr. Eisenhower, must be assayed with caution.

The former President's criteria for Republican leadership reflect qualities he himself presented in 1952 — complete freedom from any taint of Republicanism in earlier days, and a name well known in some field other than political life.

This, of course, overlooks the fact that a good name needs loyal and active work at the precinct level by experienced workers, effective organization and sound financial backing to win in Michigan and other states.

The former President may have forgotten how far short these qualifications were found to be in the disaster which befell his candidate, James P. Mitchell, in New Jersey.

In many respects George Romney meets the Eisenhower criteria. He said in a television interview that he never found it necessary to identify himself with the Republican party until he sought a place in the current constitutional convention in Michigan. He pointed out that there is a responsibility higher than partisanship.

This is only measurably true for, as he said, the responsibility of citizenship comes first. But one of the cardinal qualifications of a good citizen is respect for the two-party system without which the liberties of the individual would be in grave jeopardy.

MR. ROMNEY said further, no doubt referring to Michigan, that the "image" of the Republican party is that of a political entity dedicated to business as distinguished from citizens' interests.

This is the "image" Democrats have vigorously promoted for their opposition. It is true that the big automobile companies centered in Michigan have until recently been more concerned with lobbying in Lansing than with encouraging their employes at the management level to get into work at the precincts.

Any experienced Republican politician in Michigan could tell Mr. Romney that, but for the lack of adequate funds in the final weeks of the 1960 campaign and precinct work in Wayne County, an excellent Republican candidate, Paul Bagwell, would now be governor and Nixon would have carried the state.

It was not wealth but poverty that fell before the hosts and the money of Reuther and Gus Scholle.

The vitality of the Republican party in Michigan is in the chairmen of counties and local communities, and they will be there next fall when Romney will be a candidate.

If they work hard and effectively, Romney will win. But to start a campaign with critical comment about the party one wants to represent is hardly a way to elicit that sort of loyalty.

CERTAIN VIEWS about issues which Romney has expressed are fine as generalities. But in certain specifics he has taken a curious line which is not likely to endear him to those who feel that it is not the function of government to determine the size of a business, but only to be sure that there is adequate competition.

In testifying before the Kefauver subcommittee on Anti-Trust and Monopoly, Romney said that the size of companies should be limited to a specific percentage of the business of the industry.

This would mean a Procrustean bed created by government, either by distorting the interpretation of the anti-trust laws as they have existed over the years or by a progressive corporation tax. Either would constitute a vast and unjustified intervention by government into economic life.

So long as real competition is assured, the size of a company is a problem of the marketplace, not of management, Congress or the Department of Justice.

Michigan needs a good business manager in the governorship. Its decline and fiscal troubles, despite its wealth and sturdy citizenship, are deplorable.

Romney would probably serve in an outstanding fashion. In attaining that position, he should display something in the nature of recognition of the statewide organization of his party which will get people to work in the precincts for lying in wait for him is a tightly-held, efficient Reutherian machine which can mobilize thousands of experienced political workers and immense sums for a campaign.

Limit To Black Boxes

By Truman Twill

Something finally has come out of Astronaut Glenn's great experience that's down to earth.

In the future, he says, the science fellows can take out a lot of their automated clutter that made it nearly impossible for an astronaut to squeeze inside a space capsule. Astronaut Glenn says he proved a man can do most of the things that need to be done better than the electronic marvels the geniuses loaded into the first space ships.

This can be understood by everybody worrying about being replaced by a dry cell, a solenoid button and some transistor tubes.

The time is at hand when human beings still in possession of all their buttons must get tough about buttons-missing science fellows hell-bent on proving they can repace men with automated "systems."

We are going to have to show these creepies that we can replace them with common sense. If their adoration at the shrine of efficiency has so unhinged them they think a mechanized world would be more desirable than a world in which human beings still made their own decisions, it's obvious they are ready for padded cells.

Astronaut Glenn says he proved that a man "is a heck of a lot better than a black box."

Note he did not say a black box was not in itself an impressive and awe-inspiring contraption. He said only that man in himself also was an impressive and awe-inspiring contraption and could do some things better than a black box could do them because he had intelligence and judgment.

We are told that civilization is turning into a collection of black boxes — an automated society.

We are bewitched by the discovery that black boxes can do a wide variety of things.

We are bemused by the idea that black boxes — when they work perfectly — are more trustworthy than men.

Astronaut Glenn suggests we had better be bemused by the idea that black boxes do not always work prefectly and that men have judgment that beats anything found in a black box.

The upshot of this down-to-earth wisdom by the only man ever proved to have orbited the earth in outer space is a kick in the bread box for black-box people.

The moral is that men like John Glenn are not ready to step aside for a black box just to please some genius who made one. The long-range moral is that black boxes exist only for the benefit of men and should be used only for that purpose. Men do not exist for the benefit of black boxes.

They'll have to go first.

A Miscalculation

Kennedy Questioned On Urban Affairs Plan

Despite the fact that the House of Representatives overwhelmingly defeated the administration's latest reorganization plan, President Kennedy predicts that the establishment of a Department of Urban Affairs, which he unsuccessfully advocated is inevitable.

David Lawrence

The President, unhappily, has not analyzed the real reason for the setback. It wasn't personal. It wasn't based, as he suggests, on opposition from rural areas to giving aid to cities. It wasn't motivated by the ill-advised interjection of a racial issue in the announcement that Robert C. Weaver, a Negro, would be appointed to head the new department.

The refusal of Congress to go along was due primarily to a deep-seated revolt against the concept of a centralized government which could conceivably convert the White House into the most powerful political machine this country has ever known.

If a department of urban affairs is needed to work with municipal governments, it is just as logical to ask for the creation of two other departments—one covering all relations between the federal government and state governments and another to embrace all relations with county governments.

Likewise, it can be argued that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has too broad a scope, and that it should be separated into two departments, so that one can specialize in education.

The basic mistake is in the concept that new departments are needed for urban affairs, just because city problems have increased. Fundamentally—if the federal government is to maintain the constitutional principle of state, city and county systems, as separated from the federal system—what is desirable is not several new departments, but one department that specializes in the disbursement of federal funds and the making of contracts with the states, counties and cities.

Also, if the argument that the federal government doesn't intend to control the educational process of the states—when federal funds are furnished to them—is accepted as sincere, then all that is needed is a good business organization to see that federal funds are matched by the states and that the money is spent for the purposes set forth in the law.

While Robert Weaver might be a good man for a cabinet post some day, it would have been much better if the President had turned to the business or financial world and had selected another Robert McNamara to head up the very department of urban affairs which he espoused. For it is not a knowledge of city politics that is so much needed as a familiarity with large business and financial transactions.

BILLIONS of dollars of the taxpayers' money are involved in all these plans for new departments. Thus, the billions that are spent by the federal government in cooperation with the states for highways are in the hands of the bureau of public roads inside the U.S. Department of Commerce.

It could logically be argued that a U.S. department of relations with the states would more properly supervise the work done by the bureau of public roads and other agencies of the federal government that deal with the states.

Counties have too long been neglected. Federal funds are being furnished to "distressed areas" through the Area Redevelopment Administration, which is in the U.S. Department of Commerce. This department today delegates some of the activities of the Area Redevelopment Administration to at least five other departments or agencies of the federal government.

The fallacy in the approach heretofore to the problems of administrative reform and reorganization is that broad subjects—agricultural, labor and commerce—have been confused with simple tasks which are designed to make sure that federal funds are spent for the objectives stipulated in the appropriation laws passed by Congress.

THE FEDERAL government is growing as population grows. And while the fundamental structure of the government here can be improved and modernized, the basic principles laid down in the Constitution are still valid—namely, that self-rule must be maintained, as well as a reliance on the states and cities and counties to exercise full responsibility for their own systems of government.

What is needed in government today is decentralization instead of more centralization. The states and cities are not all equal in financial capacity and some federal aid becomes essential. The doctrine, however, that the federal government shall extract from taxpayers in New York State, for example, money to pay for the projects of the State of Illinois, which has the resources to finance its own needs, cannot be persuasively defended.

The President the other day in his press conference said that 80 per cent of the American people now live in cities and offered this as a justification for supervision of urban affairs by a department of the federal government.

This might readily lead to an abandonment of self rule and a concentration of political power in the executive branch of the federal government—a formula that could make the White House in the future a bigger source of political power and boss rule than a dozen Tammany Halls combined.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Miss Bernadine Williamson of East Liverpool, a member of the freshman class at Muskingum College, New Concord, was among the students who attained places on the college honor roll.

W. W. Ingram, Chester city solicitor and Hancock County prosecuting attorney, was named president of the Chester Board of Trade.

C. D. Piatt was elected president of the newly - formed Wellsville Association.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Fred Gluth, safety - service director, headed the Wellsville civilian defense program, serving as executive director and chief of voluntary participation.

The U-Name-It Club was organized at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Douglas Thomas of LaCroft.

Norma Zeiner, high school pupil, played two marimba numbers, accompanied by another student, Jean Cowles, at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club.

TEN YEARS AGO — WAF Pfc. Donna Jean Stillwell was assigned to the weather station at Shaw Air Force Base, Sumter, S. C.

Miss Ann Beaumont, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Dudley H. Beaumont of 7th St., Wellsville, was named a member of the decoration committee for the Pennsylvania College for Women's annual junior prom.

Letter To Editor

The flight of Col. Glenn will be commented on and discussed by thousands of persons. May I offer a comment or two?

The death of President Roosevelt united our people as a nation for a short time of shock and sorrow.

We cannot conceive of a time when our hearts, as one, have been so exposed. The duration of the almost five-hour trip, we were prepared to pray, to burst into tears from sorrow or relief. Col. Glenn's ordeal deserves no less.

There would be no wars if nations would give equal appreciation to every life offered in service.

There would be no deaths from starvation if each life were given such reverence.

There would be fewer prisoners, fewer unhappy, Godless people if as nations we would offer concentrated, organized effort.

We were amazed, dumbfounded at the marvels of electrical equipment and the intricate communication systems, including TV.

Celebrezze Opposes Airlift Of Cubans

CLEVELAND (AP) — An airlift of 100 Cuban refugees is not getting the blessings of Mayor Anthony Celebrezze, who thinks they will be given jobs which should be given to unemployed Clevelanders.

The airlift is part of a project initiated by Church World Service, a Protestant organization. The refugees are scheduled to arrive here Tuesday.

"We have many unemployed here at the present time," the mayor said at a news conference Friday. "If the jobs are available I should think they'd be given to Clevelanders first."

Electric Bills Up: She Finds Out Why

2-Day Walkout Ends At Portsmouth Plant

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — A two-day unauthorized walkout of 45 workers at the coke plant of the Detroit Steel Corp. here ended Friday.

President Clinton Piatt of Local 2116, United Steelworkers, said the men agreed to return at the urging of shop stewards. He said the walkout was over dissatisfaction with an arbitrator's decision in a wage grievance dispute.

OEP Holds First Of 8 Parleys On Nuclear Attack

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The federal goverment's Office of Emergency Planning (OEP) held the first of eight conferences scheduled throughout the nation in Pittsburgh Friday to discuss emergency measures to cope with a nuclear attack.

Edward A. McDermott, acting director of the OEP, said, "we are alerting the state and local government to the possibility that following a nuclear attack there will be no economic direction from the federal government. Survival planning now will pay off in post-attack preparedness measures that would sustain people and speed national recovery."

Attending the session were 425 leaders of government, industry, business and labor from six states and the District of Columbia. States represented were Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware and Kentucky.

FPC Orders Airings In 6 Gas Rate Cases

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Power Commission announced it has ordered six hearings on 15 natural gas rate cases which involve proposed increases totaling more than $18.5 million a year.

The hearings in March and April will involve seven companies.

The commission said Friday this is another major step in its program to speed disposition of pending cases.

In most of the cases involved the increases are now being collected, subject to refund.

Among the cases is an $833,300 increase proposed by Lake Shore Pipe Line Co., Ashtabula, Ohio. It will be heard beginning March 21.

Keating Urges Stock For $25 In Satellite Firm

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., urged today that stock in a government-sponsored communications satellite corporation be sold for as little as $25 so average Americans could share the program.

Keating said President Kennedy's proposal that the stock be sold in $1,000 denominations would limit the program to the very rich.

"I hate to see the President limit participation in the space communication program to millionaires, when I am sure a lot of less prosperous but equally patriotic and equally space-minded citizens would love to have a chance to support the idea, too," he said.

Convertible debentures might be sold for as little as $25 apiece, Keating said in an address for the Women's Press Club of New York.

Celebrezze Opposes Airlift Of Cubans

CLEVELAND (AP) — An airlift of 100 Cuban refugees is not getting the blessings of Mayor Anthony Celebrezze, who thinks they will be given jobs which should be given to unemployed Clevelanders.

The airlift is part of a project initiated by Church World Service, a Protestant organization. The refugees are scheduled to arrive here Tuesday.

"We have many unemployed here at the present time," the mayor said at a news conference Friday. "If the jobs are available I should think they'd be given to Clevelanders first."

Electric Bills Up: She Finds Out Why

2-Day Walkout Ends At Portsmouth Plant

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — A two-day unauthorized walkout of 45 workers at the coke plant of the Detroit Steel Corp. here ended Friday.

President Clinton Piatt of Local 2116, United Steelworkers, said the men agreed to return at the urging of shop stewards. He said the walkout was over dissatisfaction with an arbitrator's decision in a wage grievance dispute.

OEP Holds First Of 8 Parleys On Nuclear Attack

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The federal goverment's Office of Emergency Planning (OEP) held the first of eight conferences scheduled throughout the nation in Pittsburgh Friday to discuss emergency measures to cope with a nuclear attack.

Edward A. McDermott, acting director of the OEP, said, "we are alerting the state and local government to the possibility that following a nuclear attack there will be no economic direction from the federal government. Survival planning now will pay off in post-attack preparedness measures that would sustain people and speed national recovery."

Attending the session were 425 leaders of government, industry, business and labor from six states and the District of Columbia. States represented were Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware and Kentucky.

FPC Orders Airings In 6 Gas Rate Cases

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Power Commission announced it has ordered six hearings on 15 natural gas rate cases which involve proposed increases totaling more than $18.5 million a year.

The hearings in March and April will involve seven companies.

The commission said Friday this is another major step in its program to speed disposition of pending cases.

In most of the cases involved the increases are now being collected, subject to refund.

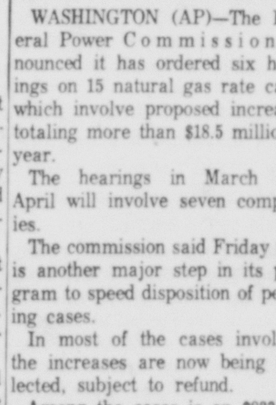

Among the cases is an $833,300 increase proposed by Lake Shore Pipe Line Co., Ashtabula, Ohio. It will be heard beginning March 21.

Ohio Public Schools Get TV Applications

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Application forms have been sent to Ohio public schools to determine those eligible for a foundation program bonus for using education television in the classroom.

Public Instruction Supt. E. E. Holt told the third meeting of the Ohio Educational Television Network Commission Friday that the bonus is $5 a year for each teacher unit of 30 pupils under a provision approved by the last legislature.

Keating Urges Stock For $25 In Satellite Firm

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., urged today that stock in a government-sponsored communications satellite corporation be sold for as little as $25 so average Americans could share the program.

Keating said President Kennedy's proposal that the stock be sold in $1,000 denominations would limit the program to the very rich.

"I hate to see the President limit participation in the space communication program to millionaires, when I am sure a lot of less prosperous but equally patriotic and equally space-minded citizens would love to have a chance to support the idea, too," he said.

Convertible debentures might be sold for as little as $25 apiece, Keating said in an address for the Women's Press Club of New York.

Elderly Man Jailed

Women Plan Observances

The Women's Missionary Council of the First Assembly of God Church will present a special program during morning worship Sunday in observance of National Missionary Council Day.

The Rev. James Miller said the program, which will include a visual demonstration, will be centered around the theme, "By Love Compelled."

The local council is one of some 5,700 such groups in the Assemblies of God Churches which cooperate in the various ministries of the denomination. The total cash giving exceeds $1 million annually.

Substantial assistance through the council is provided home and foreign missions, district and local church projects and denomination's benevolence program.

Activities and services are coordinated by the National WMC Department in the denomination's new headquarters building in Springfield, Mo.

Mrs. Wilma Garvey is president of the local council.

Hancock League Urges Yule Seal Contributions

The Hancock County Tuberculosis League today appealed to county residents who have not donated to the Christmas Seals sale campaign to mail contributions as soon as possible.

Mrs. John C. Greer of Weirton, executive secretary, said the league has realized $5,539.85 in its present campaign.

The league derives all its funds entirely from the sale of the seals.

Proceeds are used to operate a health clinic in New Cumberland and a program of free chest X-rays.

The clinic in the county seat is open Monday through Wednesday each week from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Thirty-four X-rays were taken by a registered nurse during January.

During the year, the league sponsored a school survey in which all freshmen and seniors in both public and parochial schools were given free chest X-rays.

The league also aids in sponsoring the visit of a mobile unit in the county four days each year for free chest X-rays. The State Health Department and the County Health Department also participate in this project.

Residents may mail contributions to the Christmas Seal sales campaign to their local Seal chairmen or Mrs. Greer, 3808 Lindberg Way, Weirton.

City Church Invited To Dennison Service

The East Liverpool congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, is one of 18 southeastern Ohio churches invited to participate in the three-day assembly of the denomination March 23-25 at Dennison, according to Emerson Booth, presiding minister.

The theme will be "Faithfully Increasing Our Praise to Jehovah."

Louis Rylewicz, a special representative of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York, is in charge of convention arrangements.

Open House Awaited At Church In Midland

The committee arranging open house Sunday from 1 to 4 p. m. at the new Midland Presentation Catholic Church said parish members are invited to bring their neighbors and friends.

Sisters of the Presentation Convent, laymen of the church, Fr. Francis E. Paul, pastor, and Fr. Thomas Rodgers, assistant pastor, will assist in the tours of the structure.

Refreshments will be served in the lyceum of the old church after the tours.

Pittsburgh Minister Will Be Pulpit Guest

The Rev. L. D. Wylie of Pittsburgh will preach at the morning and evening services Sunday at the Second Baptist Church.

Mrs. Mahala Richardson and Mrs. Annie Pack will be in charge of the combined choirs.

The Power Of Fate by Howard Brodie

The faith of Mr. and Mrs. Horatio G. Spafford of Chicago enabled them to overcome the loss of four daughters in the sinking of a ship and of a son in fever, and save the lives of others.

Mrs. Spafford "lifted her soul to God in an agony of despair and dedicated her life to His service," and Mr. Spafford "yearned to find peace in service." They went to Jerusalem in 1881 with friends, where they healed, taught and aided the Arab, continuing their service during two wars, during which they nursed the wounded "without distinction of creed or nationality, and in circumsiances of danger." They established a tourist hotel, a clinic, a hospital for children.

Today, a daughter, Bertha Spafford Vester, continues her parents' American Colony Aid Association, remembering her fathers' words: "I have come to Jerusalem where my Lord lived, suffered and conquered. I hope to learn to live and conquer. How long we remain here is in the Lord's hands."

89 Attend Blue, Gold Fete For Methodist Church Cubs

About 89 boys and parents attended the annual Blue and Gold banquet of Cub Pack 34 at the Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist Church Thursday evening.

Two tables were decorated with the theme of Lincoln and Washington's birthdays. Dens 1 and 2 had a miniature model of the White House surrounded with cherry trees; Den 4, the den flag and two Cubs Scouts figures and Den 6, figures of the presidents.

Jim Anderson, cubmaster, was in charge of the meeting that followed and Jeffrey Scott of Den 4 opened by singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

Clyde Downard, committee chairman, introduced his committee, Anderson, Bernard Arnold, institutional representative; William VanFossen, treasurer; Robert Clark, secretary; Donald Hancock, publicity; Norman Scott, membership and legislation, and Dale Mathews, outings.

Downard presented Don Jewell, former cubmaster, with a plaque.

Anderson introduced the den mothers, Mrs. Martha Dingess, Den 1; Mrs. Pat Harris, Den 2; Mrs. Donna Hancock, Den 4, and Mrs. Julia Farnsworth, Den 6.

Awards presented were Weblos badges to Donald Hancock and Ricky Hunsicker; denner stripes to Hank Dingess and Chester Harris; two silver arrows under bear to Hank Dingess; wolf badge, David Lee; silver arrow under wolf, Ricky Van Fossen and yearly pins to Jeff Buchheit, Jimmy Keys and Mark Parsons.

Steven Hancock was received in Den 4 as a new member.

Fred Yonz was introduced as the guest speaker and presented den chief cords to Jerry Hillyard of Den 1, who is an Eagle scout, Tom Scott of Den 4 and William Frail of Den 6.

Yonz said scouting gives a boy useful things to do, resulting in less juvenile delinquency. He said that more parents should take a greater interest in the program.

The meeting closed with a prayer by the Rev. Glenn Brunstetter.

A roller skating party will be held at the Harmony Skateland Thursday from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m.

Next meeting is March 22 with the theme "Islands of the World." There will be a uniform inspection.

Mrs. Kennedy's Aide Making Visit Plans

ROME (AP)—Letitia Baldridge, Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy's social secretary, is in Rome to arrange for the visit of the U.S. President's wife next week.

Mrs. Kennedy will arrive here a week from today en route to India and Pakistan. She will spend two days here, staying at Villa Taverna, residence of the U.S. ambassador.

U.S. embassy officials quoted Miss Baldridge as saying Mrs. Kennedy's stay in Rome would be "strictly a rest stop, with no appointments."

Telescope 'Swings' From Star To Star

VICTORIA, B. C. (AP) — A new 48-inch telescope at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory in nearby Saanich can swing rapidly from star to star, at the touch of a button.

This innovation is because of the work which will be done with the telescope — the study of color and brightness of stars.

The telescope has a pre - set automatic positioning mechanism which locks on a distant star when a button is pressed. Its mechanical design permits the telescope to be swung in a full circle. Three electronic motors move the telescope through a 120-degree arc in less than a minute.

or treatment; 18 home calls were made by an association nurse to congenital or cardiac cases; eight children were referred to the Ohio Crippled Children's Society for financial aid for treatment.

In three cases, the Association helped the families procure blood donors. Two adult patients were referred for vocational rehabilitation for financial aid for surgical services, and five were referred for employment within their capabilities.

Fifty home calls were made by the association nurse on rheumatic fever victims, 43 films were screened, and 17 talks given.

The county group also provided money for equipment for a new heart clinic at Youngstown, Mrs. Bernstorf said.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served to the district captains when they bring their contribution envelopes to the YMCA after 4 p.m., Mrs. Bernstorf said.

Memorial contributions may be mailed to Mrs. C. Marvin Kinsey, 1401 Smithfield St.

Co-chairmen for the area next year will be Miss Helen Ryan and Mrs. Eleanor Hill Phinney.

2½ Million Taxpayers Erred In Arthmetic

CHICAGO (AP)—A record of 2 and a half million taxpayers made mistakes in arithmetic last year.

The Commerce Clearing House reports that it represented an increase of 24 per cent.

Additional tax bills averaging $84 each were sent to the 1,570,000 taxpayers who didn't pay their full tax, based on their own figures.

Refunds, on the other hand, averaged $70 each and were sent to 931,000 taxpayers who paid more than they should have when their returns were mathematically verified by the Internal Revenue Service.

Presbytery's Meeting Set

Ecumenical missions and relations will be the major report when the Steubenville Presbytery of the United Presbyterian Church meets Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. in the Westminster church in Steubenville.

During the dinner at 6 p. m., a report will be given by Albert P. Kemple, president of Steubenville Council of United Presbyterian Men on the Cleveland meeting of the National Council.

Other reports will include budget and finance, investigative and judicial, corporation, Christian education, ministerial relation, national missions, and ecclesiastical responsibilities.

The Rev. Robert Thompson of Bloomingdale, moderator, will preside.

Dr. Charles Fulton is host pastor.

34 Due Initiation In Honor Society At High School

Thirty-four new members will be initiated in the National Honor Society of East Liverpool High School at an assembly Wednesday at 2:50 p.m.

All second semester juniors and seniors are eligible to be candidates.

Prior to the initiation, names of the candidates are screened by the faculty and those chosen are presented at the assembly.

The committee includes Harold Bricker, chairman, Harold Baldwin, Jack Bair, Frank Chan, Miss Edna Clouse, Miss Ann Lindsey and Mrs. Kathleen Hissam.

Society officers include James Baxter, president; Ann Sixt, vice president; Jean Sauerbrei, secretary, and Linda Kupchinsky, treasurer.

Parents may attend the assembly, Bricker said.

Chester Church Sets Seminar For Officers

The Westminster United Presbyterian Church of Chester will sponsor a church officers' training seminar beginning March 4 with the Rev. William Claghorn in charge.

The sessions will be held for five consecutive Sundays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., concluding April 1.

Baptism for children will be administered during the 11 a. m. worship Sunday. The Children's Choir will present a special number.

Film Will Be Shown Before Youth Groups

The Christian film, "The Great Discovery," will be screened Sunday at 6:30 p. m. during the youth meeting at the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church.

The film, which features Colleen Townsend Evans, concerns salvation and Christian education.

Youths of the Boyce Methodist Church will be guests.

The youths of the church will be in charge of different parts of the meeting and refreshments will be served.

PTA Group To Honor Principals, Teachers

Miss Martha Coleman, a former principal of Pleasant Heights School, along with other principals and teachers will be honored at a Founder's Day program of the Pleasant Heights Parent-Teacher Association Monday at 7:45 p. m.

The program will include a history of the school by Frank Shone and G. Richard Jones. The mothers' chorus will sing and Mrs. Gladys Keys, a former teacher, will lead devotions.

Dr. Fraser Jackson will speak on the Sabin oral polio vaccine.

Hunt 3 Robbers

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Police searched today for three men who robbed a crowded supermarket of $1,000 Friday. Manager Charles W. Kormanik, 58, said he was robbed in his office and no customers were aware of the robbery until he shouted for help after the men fled.

BACK FROM MOROCCO. Mr. and Mrs. Don W. Smith, on furlough from their mission work in Tangier, Morocco, and children, Donella and Don, are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don F. Smith, 2613 St. Clair Ave. They will appear at various schools, service clubs and church services during their four-month stay. They have served as independent missionaries in the North African community for three and a half years and their work has taken them to the British Isles and Spain. Mrs. Smith is from Chattanooga, Tenn., where both are members of the Highland Park Baptist Church.

Confident Living

By Norman Vincent Peale

Make Worry Work For You

A friend of mine was 50 when misfortune hit him. Fred had done well as a retail merchant of women's wear. But one day he woke up to find that his partner had swindled him. The big, profitable store in which Fred had the majority ownership "went down the drain to settle debts." Fred was out.

DR. PEALE

Fred had begun as a poor boy. He had started a little shop which over the years was gradually built into a sizable enterprise. But then he made a serious mistake by taking an able younger man into a junior partnership. He had, of course, assumed his partner to be honest, but he guessed wrong. Result: he was now financially back where he started.

WHEN I heard of Fred's situation, I telephoned him long distance. "Fred, I'm so sorry about your losing the store and all the trouble you're having."

Imagine my admiration when he answered "Sure, I lost the store and almost all my money. You could say I'm out 30 years of work. But that would not be true for I was living and getting a lot out of life all that time. Thirty years ago when I started out I had $50. Now I'm way ahead. I started with a wonderful wife and I still have her, thank God. I had very little know-how back 30 years ago; so I'm ahead on experience, too. Most important of all — God was with me when I began and he is still with me today. And one always learns from such experiences. I will know better how to deal with people in the future."

So ran his positive and intelligent approach. He opened another store and went on to big success.

Fred's dealing with his problem is a classic example of how to deal creatively with a hard situation. A person can worry himself into a nervous breakdown or he can make worry work for him by taking it as a signal saying don't give up — just start thinking.

A great thing that worry can do for any of us is to activate our minds and get them to working on a problem. But if you give way to panic and resentment your mind freezes and things go from bad to worse. So when worry seizes you, remind yourself that it is going to ride you unless you ride it. And how do you ride worry? Simply by using the real powers of your mind.

ONE THING Fred said really struck me; "I decided that I would not be an if thinker but a how thinker." That's a really smart distinction. The if thinker broods over a difficulty or a setback, saying to himself, "If only I had done thus and so.... If only this or that circumstance had been different....If others had not treated me so unfairly...." So it goes from explanation to explanation. The world is full of defeated if thinkers.

The how thinker, on the other hand, wastes no energy on postmortems when faced with trouble or disaster but immediately starts looking for the best solution. He asks himself: How can I work this out? How can I turn this to my profit? and, believe me, the how thinker gets problems solved creatively.

Make worry work for you. Take a worrisome situation as a challenge to some real how thinking. Have faith in God and realize that difficulties often come through His wise providence for our good. And always remember this — you can think your way to victorious handling of the most difficult situation.

Epictetus, the freed Greek slave who became one of the most respected philosophers of all time, said: "Difficulties are what show men's character. Therefore when a difficult crisis meets you, remember that you are like the raw youth with whom God the trainer is wrestling."

"To what end?" asked a student.

Epictetus answered, "That you may win at Olympia." He was referring to the Olympic Games, which in the ancient world, as now, symbolized strength, skill, endurance and manhood. It was a Greek's splendid way of saying that by making worry work for you the difficulties you encounter merely add to your knowledge and strength.

Events Set In Churches Of District

A discussion will be held at the First United Presbyterian Church at Chester, Sunday at 7:30 p. m. on the topic, "What We Can Learn from Jehovah's Witnesses." The Rev. C. Donald Vogel will lead the discussion.

The Rev. H. B. Huffman and the Bob White Evangelistic Party will be in charge of a district rally Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the Bible Missionary Church in Glenmoor.

Mrs. Jennie Eckert of East Liverpool will be the worker for the 7:30 p. m. services Sunday and Monday at the First Spiritualist Church.

The Rev. Roderic Pierce, who is on the staff at Bexley Hall Divinity School of Kenyon College at Gambier, will be in charge of both morning services Sunday at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

The Young Adult Class of the Calcutta United Presbyterian Church will conduct the 7:30 p. m. service Thursday at the Community Rescue Mission. Carl Mansfield is in charge of arrangements.

Services Suspended For Area Conference

Toney Adkins, branch president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, said regular services will not be conducted Sunday because of the district conference to be held in Pittsburgh.

Hugh B. Brown of Salt Lake City, and George E. B. Hill, Imri J. Hutchings and Alva Heaton, members of the missionary presidency, in Washington, will be speakers.

Frank Young of Pittsburgh, district president, will preside at morning session at 10 and afternoon meeting at 1.

Women Plan Observances

The Women's Missionary Council of the First Assembly of God Church will present a special program during morning worship Sunday in observance of National Missionary Council Day.

The Rev. James Miller said the program, which will include a visual demonstration, will be centered around the theme, "By Love Compelled."

The local council is one of some 5,700 such groups in the Assemblies of God Churches which cooperate in the various ministries of the denomination. The total cash giving exceeds $1 million annually.

Substantial assistance through the council is provided home and foreign missions, district and local church projects and denomination's benevolence program.

Activities and services are coordinated by the National WMC Department in the denomination's new headquarters building in Springfield, Mo.

Mrs. Wilma Garvey is president of the local council.

Hancock League Urges Yule Seal Contributions

The Hancock County Tuberculosis League today appealed to county residents who have not donated to the Christmas Seals sale campaign to mail contributions as soon as possible.

Mrs. John C. Greer of Weirton, executive secretary, said the league has realized $5,539.85 in its present campaign.

The league derives all its funds entirely from the sale of the seals.

Proceeds are used to operate a health clinic in New Cumberland and a program of free chest X-rays.

The clinic in the county seat is open Monday through Wednesday each week from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Thirty-four X-rays were taken by a registered nurse during January.

During the year, the league sponsored a school survey in which all freshmen and seniors in both public and parochial schools were given free chest X-rays.

The league also aids in sponsoring the visit of a mobile unit in the county four days each year for free chest X-rays. The State Health Department and the County Health Department also participate in this project.

Residents may mail contributions to the Christmas Seal sales campaign to their local Seal chairmen or Mrs. Greer, 3808 Lindberg Way, Weirton.

City Church Invited To Dennison Service

The East Liverpool congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, is one of 18 southeastern Ohio churches invited to participate in the three-day assembly of the denomination March 23-25 at Dennison, according to Emerson Booth, presiding minister.

The theme will be "Faithfully Increasing Our Praise to Jehovah."

Open House Awaited At Church In Midland

The committee arranging open house Sunday from 1 to 4 p. m. at the new Midland Presentation Catholic Church said parish members are invited to bring their neighbors and friends.

Sisters of the Presentation Convent, laymen of the church, Fr. Francis E. Paul, pastor, and Fr. Thomas Rodgers, assistant pastor, will assist in the tours of the structure.

Refreshments will be served in the lyceum of the old church after the tours.

Pittsburgh Minister Will Be Pulpit Guest

The Rev. L. D. Wylie of Pittsburgh will preach at the morning and evening services Sunday at the Second Baptist Church.

Mrs. Mahala Richardson and Mrs. Annie Pack will be in charge of the combined choirs.

The Power Of Fate by Howard Brodie

The faith of Mr. and Mrs. Horatio G. Spafford of Chicago enabled them to overcome the loss of four daughters in the sinking of a ship and of a son in fever, and save the lives of others.

Mrs. Spafford "lifted her soul to God in an agony of despair and dedicated her life to His service," and Mr. Spafford "yearned to find peace in service." They went to Jerusalem in 1881 with friends, where they healed, taught and aided the Arab, continuing their service during two wars, during which they nursed the wounded "without distinction of creed or nationality, and in circumsiances of danger." They established a tourist hotel, a clinic, a hospital for children.

Today, a daughter, Bertha Spafford Vester, continues her parents' American Colony Aid Association, remembering her fathers' words: "I have come to Jerusalem where my Lord lived, suffered and conquered. I hope to learn to live and conquer. How long we remain here is in the Lord's hands."

89 Attend Blue, Gold Fete For Methodist Church Cubs

About 89 boys and parents attended the annual Blue and Gold banquet of Cub Pack 34 at the Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist Church Thursday evening.

Two tables were decorated with the theme of Lincoln and Washington's birthdays. Dens 1 and 2 had a miniature model of the White House surrounded with cherry trees; Den 4, the den flag and two Cubs Scouts figures and Den 6, figures of the presidents.

Jim Anderson, cubmaster, was in charge of the meeting that followed and Jeffrey Scott of Den 4 opened by singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

Clyde Downard, committee chairman, introduced his committee, Anderson, Bernard Arnold, institutional representative; William VanFossen, treasurer; Robert Clark, secretary; Donald Hancock, publicity; Norman Scott, membership and legislation, and Dale Mathews, outings.

Downard presented Don Jewell, former cubmaster, with a plaque.

Anderson introduced the den mothers, Mrs. Martha Dingess, Den 1; Mrs. Pat Harris, Den 2; Mrs. Donna Hancock, Den 4, and Mrs. Julia Farnsworth, Den 6.

Awards presented were Weblos badges to Donald Hancock and Ricky Hunsicker; denner stripes to Hank Dingess and Chester Harris; two silver arrows under bear to Hank Dingess; wolf badge, David Lee; silver arrow under wolf, Ricky Van Fossen and yearly pins to Jeff Buchheit, Jimmy Keys and Mark Parsons.

Steven Hancock was received in Den 4 as a new member.

Fred Yonz was introduced as the guest speaker and presented den chief cords to Jerry Hillyard of Den 1, who is an Eagle scout, Tom Scott of Den 4 and William Frail of Den 6.

Yonz said scouting gives a boy useful things to do, resulting in less juvenile delinquency. He said that more parents should take a greater interest in the program.

The meeting closed with a prayer by the Rev. Glenn Brunstetter.

A roller skating party will be held at the Harmony Skateland Thursday from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m.

Next meeting is March 22 with the theme "Islands of the World." There will be a uniform inspection.

Mrs. Kennedy's Aide Making Visit Plans

ROME (AP)—Letitia Baldridge, Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy's social secretary, is in Rome to arrange for the visit of the U.S. President's wife next week.

Mrs. Kennedy will arrive here a week from today en route to India and Pakistan. She will spend two days here, staying at Villa Taverna, residence of the U.S. ambassador.

U.S. embassy officials quoted Miss Baldridge as saying Mrs. Kennedy's stay in Rome would be "strictly a rest stop, with no appointments."

Getting Checkup

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP)—Ladybird, the wife of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, is at the Mayo Clinic here for what was described as a routine physical checkup.

Telescope 'Swings' From Star To Star

VICTORIA, B. C. (AP) — A new 48-inch telescope at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory in nearby Saanich can swing rapidly from star to star, at the touch of a button.

This innovation is because of the work which will be done with the telescope — the study of color and brightness of stars.

The telescope has a pre-set automatic positioning mechanism which locks on a distant star when a button is pressed. Its mechanical design permits the telescope to be swung in a full circle. Three electronic motors move the telescope through a 120-degree arc in less than a minute.

or treatment; 18 home calls were made by an association nurse to congenital or cardiac cases; eight children were referred to the Ohio Crippled Children's Society for financial aid for treatment.

In three cases, the Association helped the families procure blood donors. Two adult patients were referred for vocational rehabilitation for financial aid for surgical services, and five were referred for employment within their capabilities.

Fifty home calls were made by the association nurse on rheumatic fever victims, 43 films were screened, and 17 talks given.

The county group also provided money for equipment for a new heart clinic at Youngstown, Mrs. Bernstorf said.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served to the district captains when they bring their contribution envelopes to the YMCA after 4 p.m., Mrs. Bernstorf said.

Memorial contributions may be mailed to Mrs. C. Marvin Kinsey, 1401 Smithfield St.

Co-chairmen for the area next year will be Miss Helen Ryan and Mrs. Eleanor Hill Phinney.

2½ Million Taxpayers Erred In Arthmetic

CHICAGO (AP)—A record of 2 and a half million taxpayers made mistakes in arithmetic last year.

The Commerce Clearing House reports that it represented an increase of 24 per cent.

Additional tax bills averaging $84 each were sent to the 1,570,000 taxpayers who didn't pay their full tax, based on their own figures.

Refunds, on the other hand, averaged $70 each and were sent to 931,000 taxpayers who paid more than they should have when their returns were mathematically verified by the Internal Revenue Service.

Presbytery's Meeting Set

Ecumenical missions and relations will be the major report when the Steubenville Presbytery of the United Presbyterian Church meets Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. in the Westminster church in Steubenville.

During the dinner at 6 p. m., a report will be given by Albert P. Kemple, president of Steubenville Council of United Presbyterian Men on the Cleveland meeting of the National Council.

Other reports will include budget and finance, investigative and judicial, corporation, Christian education, ministerial relation, national missions, and ecclesiastical responsibilities.

The Rev. Robert Thompson of Bloomingdale, moderator, will preside.

Dr. Charles Fulton is host pastor.

34 Due Initiation In Honor Society At High School

Thirty-four new members will be initiated in the National Honor Society of East Liverpool High School at an assembly Wednesday at 2:50 p.m.

All second semester juniors and seniors are eligible to be candidates.

Prior to the initiation, names of the candidates are screened by the faculty and those chosen are presented at the assembly.

The committee includes Harold Bricker, chairman, Harold Baldwin, Jack Bair, Frank Chan, Miss Edna Clouse, Miss Ann Lindsey and Mrs. Kathleen Hissam.

Society officers include James Baxter, president; Ann Sixt, vice president; Jean Sauerbrei, secretary, and Linda Kupchinsky, treasurer.

Parents may attend the assembly, Bricker said.

Chester Church Sets Seminar For Officers

The Westminster United Presbyterian Church of Chester will sponsor a church officers' training seminar beginning March 4 with the Rev. William Claghorn in charge.

The sessions will be held for five consecutive Sundays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., concluding April 1.

Baptism for children will be administered during the 11 a. m. worship Sunday. The Children's Choir will present a special number.

Film Will Be Shown Before Youth Groups

The Christian film, "The Great Discovery," will be screened Sunday at 6:30 p. m. during the youth meeting at the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church.

The film, which features Colleen Townsend Evans, concerns salvation and Christian education.

Youths of the Boyce Methodist Church will be guests.

The youths of the church will be in charge of different parts of the meeting and refreshments will be served.

PTA Group To Honor Principals, Teachers

Miss Martha Coleman, a former principal of Pleasant Heights School, along with other principals and teachers will be honored at a Founder's Day program of the Pleasant Heights Parent-Teacher Association Monday at 7:45 p. m.

The program will include a history of the school by Frank Shone and G. Richard Jones. The mothers' chorus will sing and Mrs. Gladys Keys, a former teacher, will lead devotions.

Dr. Fraser Jackson will speak on the Sabin oral polio vaccine.

Hunt 3 Robbers

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Police searched today for three men who robbed a crowded supermarket of $1,000 Friday. Manager Charles W. Kormanik, 58, said he was robbed in his office and no customers were aware of the robbery until he shouted for help after the men fled.

BACK FROM MOROCCO. Mr. and Mrs. Don W. Smith, on furlough from their mission work in Tangier, Morocco, and children, Donella and Don, are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don F. Smith, 2613 St. Clair Ave. They will appear at various schools, service clubs and church services during their four-month stay. They have served as independent missionaries in the North African community for three and a half years and their work has taken them to the British Isles and Spain. Mrs. Smith is from Chattanooga, Tenn., where both are members of the Highland Park Baptist Church.

Confident Living

By Norman Vincent Peale

Make Worry Work For You

A friend of mine was 50 when misfortune hit him. Fred had done well as a retail merchant of women's wear. But one day he woke up to find that his partner had swindled him. The big, profitable store in which Fred had the majority ownership "went down the drain to settle debts." Fred was out.

DR. PEALE

Fred had begun as a poor boy. He had started a little shop which over the years was gradually built into a sizable enterprise. But then he made a serious mistake by taking an able younger man into a junior partnership. He had, of course, assumed his partner to be honest, but he guessed wrong. Result: he was now financially back where he started.

WHEN I heard of Fred's situation, I telephoned him long distance. "Fred, I'm so sorry about your losing the store and all the trouble you're having."

Imagine my admiration when he answered "Sure, I lost the store and almost all my money. You could say I'm out 30 years of work. But that would not be true for I was living and getting a lot out of life all that time. Thirty years ago when I started out I had $50. Now I'm way ahead. I started with a wonderful wife and I still have her, thank God. I had very little know-how back 30 years ago; so I'm ahead on experience, too. Most important of all — God was with me when I began and he is still with me today. And one always learns from such experiences. I will know better how to deal with people in the future."

So ran his positive and intelligent approach. He opened another store and went on to big success.

Fred's dealing with his problem is a classic example of how to deal creatively with a hard situation. A person can worry himself into a nervous breakdown or he can make worry work for him by taking it as a signal saying don't give up — just start thinking.

A great thing that worry can do for any of us is to activate our minds and get them to working on a problem. But if you give way to panic and resentment your mind freezes and things go from bad to worse. So when worry seizes you, remind yourself that it is going to ride you unless you ride it. And how do you ride worry? Simply by using the real powers of your mind.

ONE THING Fred said really struck me; "I decided that I would not be an if thinker but a how thinker." That's a really smart distinction. The if thinker broods over a difficulty or a setback, saying to himself, "If only I had done thus and so.... If only this or that circumstance had been different....If others had not treated me so unfairly...." So it goes from explanation to explanation. The world is full of defeated if thinkers.

The how thinker, on the other hand, wastes no energy on postmortems when faced with trouble or disaster but immediately starts looking for the best solution. He asks himself: How can I work this out? How can I turn this to my profit? and, believe me, the how thinker gets problems solved creatively.

Make worry work for you. Take a worrisome situation as a challenge to some real how thinking. Have faith in God and realize that difficulties often come through His wise providence for our good. And always remember this — you can think your way to victorious handling of the most difficult situation.

Epictetus, the freed Greek slave who became one of the most respected philosophers of all time, said: "Difficulties are what show men's character. Therefore when a difficult crisis meets you, remember that you are like the raw youth with whom God the trainer is wrestling."

"To what end?" asked a student.

Epictetus answered, "That you may win at Olympia." He was referring to the Olympic Games, which in the ancient world, as now, symbolized strength, skill, endurance and manhood. It was a Greek's splendid way of saying that by making worry work for you the difficulties you encounter merely add to your knowledge and strength.

Events Set In Churches Of District

A discussion will be held at the First United Presbyterian Church at Chester, Sunday at 7:30 p. m. on the topic, "What We Can Learn from Jehovah's Witnesses." The Rev. C. Donald Vogel will lead the discussion.

The Rev. H. B. Huffman and the Bob White Evangelistic Party will be in charge of a district rally Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the Bible Missionary Church in Glenmoor.

Mrs. Jennie Eckert of East Liverpool will be the worker for the 7:30 p. m. services Sunday and Monday at the First Spiritualist Church.

The Rev. Roderic Pierce, who is on the staff at Bexley Hall Divinity School of Kenyon College at Gambier, will be in charge of both morning services Sunday at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

The Young Adult Class of the Calcutta United Presbyterian Church will conduct the 7:30 p. m. service Thursday at the Community Rescue Mission. Carl Mansfield is in charge of arrangements.

Services Suspended For Area Conference

Toney Adkins, branch president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, said regular services will not be conducted Sunday because of the district conference to be held in Pittsburgh.

Hugh B. Brown of Salt Lake City, and George E. B. Hill, Imri J. Hutchings and Alva Heaton, members of the missionary presidency, in Washington, will be speakers.

Frank Young of Pittsburgh, district president, will preside at morning session at 10 and afternoon meeting at 1.

Pughtown Scouts Will Get Charter

Boy Scout Troop 69, sponsored by the Pughtown United Presbyterian Church, will receive its new charter at its first Blue and Gold banquet Thursday at 6 p. m. at the church.

Three boys will get one-year pins and four will receive tenderfoot badges, Elmer Mercer of Chester R. D. 1, scoutmaster, said.

Guests will include Dean Louder, council head of the Weir-Cove 4 District of Steubenville; Bernard Smith, district charter representative who will present the new charter and Dick Yurko, council fire and safety representative.

The dinner is being planned by the church committee, troop committee and mothers of the scouts.

Mercer reported that five new members were enrolled at Tuesday's meeting.

Lisbon Jaycees Lead Fund Drive

LISBON — Eight members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will serve as team captains for the Heart Fund solicitation Sunday in Lisbon and vicinity.

They are John Vokovich, John Drovdlic, Jack Hill, Donald Carman, Kenneth Williams, Richard Crosser, Robert Sneddon and George Berdine.

Twing Hiscox, president of the Jaycees, is also serving as county chairman of the Heart Council.

It will be Heart Sunday across the nation when solicitors will knock on doors for contributions. Several rural areas are being solicited this week because of the distances involved.

Residents not at home Sunday will receive an envelope in which they may mail their contributions.

Shippingport Class Discusses Disciples

A program discussion on the Disciples James and John was held at a meeting of the Willing Workers Sunday School Class Monday evening at the Green Valley Methodist Church at Shippingport.

About 17 attended and a white elephant sale was held. Mrs. Dorothy Hayward and Mrs. Jeanette Hayward were in charge of the program.

Mrs. Hazel Walker was in charge of games. Mrs. Alice Graham and Mrs. Elva Rogers were hostesses and Mrs. Madaline Christy and Mrs. Mary Drake assisted.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Green of Wheeling spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. David Green.

Newell PTA To Hear Resident Of Wheeling

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The lion that can roar the loudest and bite the hardest usually gets what he wants.

That's the way it is in the animal kingdom, and sometimes the system creeps into man's world too!

Most of us have too much RELIGIOUS AWARENESS to believe that such a system is the best one. We would rather live in a world in which kindness and peace and unselfishness were the rule.

Our Churches can help us build such a world. They can turn our religious awareness into SPIRITUAL GROWTH.

On Sunday morning, the man in the armchair knows just as well as the man in the pew what is wrong with the world. But the man in the pew will be busy doing something about it!

Her Founder's Day topic will be "The Image of America Through the PTA."

George Vukas, president, will preside. Parents may visit the respective rooms at 7.

The lion that can roar the loudest and bite the hardest usually gets what he wants.

That's the way it is in the animal kingdom, and sometimes the system creeps into man's world too!

Most of us have too much RELIGIOUS AWARENESS to believe that such a system is the best one. We would rather live in a world in which kindness and peace and unselfishness were the rule.

Our Churches can help us build such a world. They can turn our religious awareness into SPIRITUAL GROWTH.

On Sunday morning, the man in the armchair knows just as well as the man in the pew what is wrong with the world. But the man in the pew will be busy doing something about it!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Posture Keeps Throatline Young

Beauticians would have us believe that a contour - moulding chinstrap, together with tingling astringents and muscle oils, will give the chin a firm grip on youth. Nonsense! All those luxury items keep the skin smooth and lift morale—but let's face it, they cannot tone the muscles.

Ida Jean Kain

At a recent meeting where the women were various ages and all sizes, I glanced around surreptitiously at chinlines. The survey did little to raise my spirits until I spotted an upstanding woman whom I knew to be in her sixties. She has the throatline of a woman of thirty. So after the meeting, spurred on by the thought that I owe it to you readers, I tactfully inquired her secret.

WITHOUT A moment's hesitation, she told me she is sixty-nine and forthrightly informed me that few women would be interested in her method because it cost nothing but effort.

"It's simply to hold your head up instead of letting it droop . . . and to keep a straight line at the back of the neck. Tell your readers that proper head carriage is better than all the other beauty measures put together," she stated firmly.

It's a heartening experience to have one's beliefs so beautifully confirmed. After dealing for lo these many years with all sorts of figure faults, I'm convinced that slumped posture is to blame for many of them, and that poor head carriage is back of most chin troubles, including double chins.

You may ask if improved head posture will fix everything, even if damage has already been done. Not without corrective exercise. It takes special exercises to restore tone to the bracing muscles—then the practice of good head posture will keep the muscles from falling down on the job.

There is a definite exercise technique. The aim is to tone the throat muscles without overly stretching the skin under the chin. Before you take a chin exercise, test to make sure it does not stretch the skin.

Resistance exercises are effective because they work the muscles harder. Here is a good one: Rest chin on heel of hand, chin level. Resist strongly with hand, push against hand with chin. . . slowly lowering chin. Then, resist with throat muscles, push upwards with hand until chin is level. Three times twice daily, will be sufficient.

MANY OF YOU ask if facial exercise machines in which the toning action is achieved with electricity are helpful. Yes, exceedingly so, if used regularly. These machines are expensive, but the results are most rewarding.

Whatever measures are used to restore tone to the bracing chin muscles, this must be backed up with elegant head carriage.

Send a stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for leaflet "For A Beautiful Throatline." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Keep In Trim

Posture Keeps Throatline Young

Beauticians would have us believe that a contour - moulding chinstrap, together with tingling astringents and muscle oils, will give the chin a firm grip on youth. Nonsense! All those luxury items keep the skin smooth and lift morale—but let's face it, they cannot tone the muscles.

Ida Jean Kain

At a recent meeting where the women were various ages and all sizes, I glanced around surreptitiously at chinlines. The survey did little to raise my spirits until I spotted an upstanding woman whom I knew to be in her sixties. She has the throatline of a woman of thirty. So after the meeting, spurred on by the thought that I owe it to you readers, I tactfully inquired her secret.

WITHOUT A moment's hesitation, she told me she is sixty-nine and forthrightly informed me that few women would be interested in her method because it cost nothing but effort.

"It's simply to hold your head up instead of letting it droop . . . and to keep a straight line at the back of the neck. Tell your readers that proper head carriage is better than all the other beauty measures put together," she stated firmly.

It's a heartening experience to have one's beliefs so beautifully confirmed. After dealing for lo these many years with all sorts of figure faults, I'm convinced that slumped posture is to blame for many of them, and that poor head carriage is back of most chin troubles, including double chins.

You may ask if improved head posture will fix everything, even if damage has already been done. Not without corrective exercise. It takes special exercises to restore tone to the bracing muscles—then the practice of good head posture will keep the muscles from falling down on the job.

There is a definite exercise technique. The aim is to tone the throat muscles without overly stretching the skin under the chin. Before you take a chin exercise, test to make sure it does not stretch the skin.

Resistance exercises are effective because they work the muscles harder. Here is a good one: Rest chin on heel of hand, chin level. Resist strongly with hand, push against hand with chin. . . slowly lowering chin. Then, resist with throat muscles, push upwards with hand until chin is level. Three times twice daily, will be sufficient.

MANY OF YOU ask if facial exercise machines in which the toning action is achieved with electricity are helpful. Yes, exceedingly so, if used regularly. These machines are expensive, but the results are most rewarding.

Whatever measures are used to restore tone to the bracing chin muscles, this must be backed up with elegant head carriage.

Send a stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for leaflet "For A Beautiful Throatline." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Dominican Head Leads Fight To Save Sugar Crop

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—President Rafael Bonnelly led hundreds of volunteers into the cane fields Friday in an attempt to save the sugar crop from the torches of saboteurs.

Bonnelly and other members of his government council went into the fields after announcing leftist Dominicans and followers of the late Dictator Rafael L. Trujillo had already burned about 245,000 tons of cane worth $2.7 million.

The president called a state of emergency and issued a call for volunteers to help harvest the rop.

In Santo Domingo, stores and businesses closed down and employes piled into buses and cars for the cane fields, shouting "down with communism, down with Fidel Castro."

Seven men charged with subversion were deported to France under terms of the state of emergency. They were Marco Mejia, a lawyer who regularly attacks the government; Vinicio Calventi, a physician; Hugo Tolentino, a lawyer recently returned from exile; Francisco Henriquez and Jose Ferris, also lawyers; Diego Bordas and Fausto Martinez.

Capacity Crowd At Music Concert

A capacity crowd attended the eighth annual countywide band and chorus concert Friday evening at Beaver Local High School, which featured students from 10 Columbiana County high schools.

Don McCathren, associate professor of music and director of bands at Duquesne University directed the orchestra and Dr. Ferris Ohl of Heidelberg University conducted the chorus.

The program was sponsored by the County Music Teachers Association.

Wellsville Boy Suffers Knife Wound At Play

A 12-year-old Wellsville youth is in "good" condition today at City Hospital with wounds of the right arm suffered "fencing" with a friend in the Teapot Restaurant on Main St., Wellsville, Friday night shortly before 8.

Police said Ronald Bailey, son of Arlan Bailey, 402 Buckeye Ave., was accidentally stabbed by a friend with a small souvenir letter opener made like a Japanese sword.

Bailey had a wooden sword about a foot long and the two were seated at the counter jabbing at each other. The other youth was to be "talked to" by Mayor William Daugherty today.

Hiking Mailman In City Overnight

A Cuyahoga Falls mailman is hiking towards Pittsburgh today en route to attend a national rally in Washington on a postal pay increase bill after an overnight stop in East Liverpool.

Ed Kline, 31, father of four, was escorted to the Chester bridge this morning by members of Branch 577, National Association of Letter Carriers, after completing the second leg of his trip by walking from Alliance to East Liverpool Friday.

Kline completed the last lap between Lisbon and East Liverpool yesterday afternoon in miserable weather, first rain then sleet.

The bearded postman is showing off his hiking shoes, the regular ones used by carriers, to Mayor Bert H. Goodballet as Postmaster Samuel W. Brown, left, looks on.

In the rear are Harry Hicks, president of the postal clerks' branch; Safety - Service Director Robert Owen and George Simballa, Branch 577 president.

Kline explained the beard has nothing to do with his task. He's growing it in connection with Cuyahoga Falls' sesquicentennial this year.

The knapsack is his sole luggage, containing a complete change of clothing, including an additional uniform, and an extra pair of shoes.

Kline is scheduled to be met late this afternoon at the outskirts of Pittsburgh by representatives of the city's carrier branch.

He was met at Salem yesterday by Dave Briskin, secretary-treasurer, and Lyman Miller, president of carriers Local 39, then going on to Lisbon where he arrived about 1:30. There, he was met by Postmaster Howard Hochmann and, after a coffee break, headed for East Liverpool. He made about 41 miles yesterday and expects to average 32 per day, arriving in the capital March 4.

2 City Youths In Fleet On Glenn's Recovery

Two East Liverpool youths participated in the recovery operation Tuesday in the Atlantic for the "Project Mercury" orbital space flight.

Seaman App. Larry M. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Davis of Annesley Rd., is serving aboard the destroyer Sarsfield and Commissaryman 3C Howard D. Hughes Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. Hughes, 812 Dewey Ave., is aboard the ship Antietam, which were in the recovery fleet.

EAST PALESTINE — Navy Fire Control Technician 1C John E. Foreman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Foreman of N. Market St. serves aboard the Destroyer Noa, which retrieved the Friendship 7 space craft of Col. John Glenn Tuesday.

3 Area Men Serving With Atlantic Fleet

Three area men are serving in the Navy with units of the Atlantic Fleet Amphibious Force, out of Norfolk, Va.

They are Hospital App. Sam J. Amato, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam J. Amato, 1200 Commerce St., Wellsville, stationed at Little Creek Amphibious Base; Lt. Rocco D. Vallera, son of Mr. and Mrs. Attilio Vallera, 1210 Parshall St., Wellsville, serving with Amphibious Squadron 6, and Fireman App. Raymond E. Strum, son of Mrs. Virginia M. Strum of New Cumberland R. NEW YORK (AP) — Charlton Ogburn, general counsel of the American Federation of Labor and many of its international unions from 1933 to 1953 died Friday. The Butler, Ga., native was 79.

Union Gives Rep. Hay 'Strong' Endorsement

Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing has the "strong endorsement" of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters in his bid for an eighth term as 18th Ohio District congressman in the 1962 elections.

The IBOP gave its endorsement in its official newspaper, The Potters Herald. Hays is unopposed in the May 8 primaries. In the November general election, he will be opposed by John Carrigg, professor of history at the College of Steubenville. Carrigg also is unopposed in the primaries.

In its endorsement, the IBOP published Hays' photo and biography and cited his record as an opponent of the present Reciprocal Trade Act, blamed for helping encourage cheap imports that have invaded the markets of the domestic ceramics and glass industries.

Rocketplanes For Space Shots Made By Reds?

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union may have developed a system using manned rocketplanes to launch spaceships, satellites and intercontinental missiles, some U. S. intelligence specialists report.

Their conclusions, based on analysis of available Russian publications, were made public Friday after having been kept in the secret file for nine months.

The accuracy of their findings is not fully accepted by the government. And some sources point out that the system, if the Soviets have developed it, is not completely new.

The United States, they noted, is developing an air-launched ballistics missile, the Skybolt, to be carried by B52 bombers. The Skybolt would have a range of 1,000 miles.

However, the intelligence analysts said there was reason to believe the Russians already have used the air-launch system in a number of space shots.

Here is how the Russians apparently worked it, according to the 160-page intelligence report:

Two manned rocketplanes were attached to opposite sides of a powerful rocket engine, thus acting as first-stage rockets for the launching.

Near the fringes of space, the planes detached from the larger rocket and were flown back to earth by their pilots.

The second stage rocket then continued into space, carrying a third stage that eventually completed the flight on its own.

The reported development could have significance in missile wartime and space programs as the first-stage rocketplanes would be recovered and used again.

The government cautioned, "The publication of this report does not constitute approval by any U. S. government organization of the inferences, findings and conclusions contained herein. It is published solely for the exchange and stimulation of ideas."

The document, entitled, "Comprehensive Analysis of Soviet Space Program, Based on Soviet Open Literature 1958-61," is being distributed by the Commerce Department's Office of Technical Services.

The report said the rocketplane launching system apparently was used in a series of Soviet missile tests over the Pacific early in 1960.

Collections Lag On Tax Payment

LISBON — Payment of real estate taxes for the first half of 1961 is lagging with only 10 paying days before the deadline, County Treasurer Vincent Judge reported today.

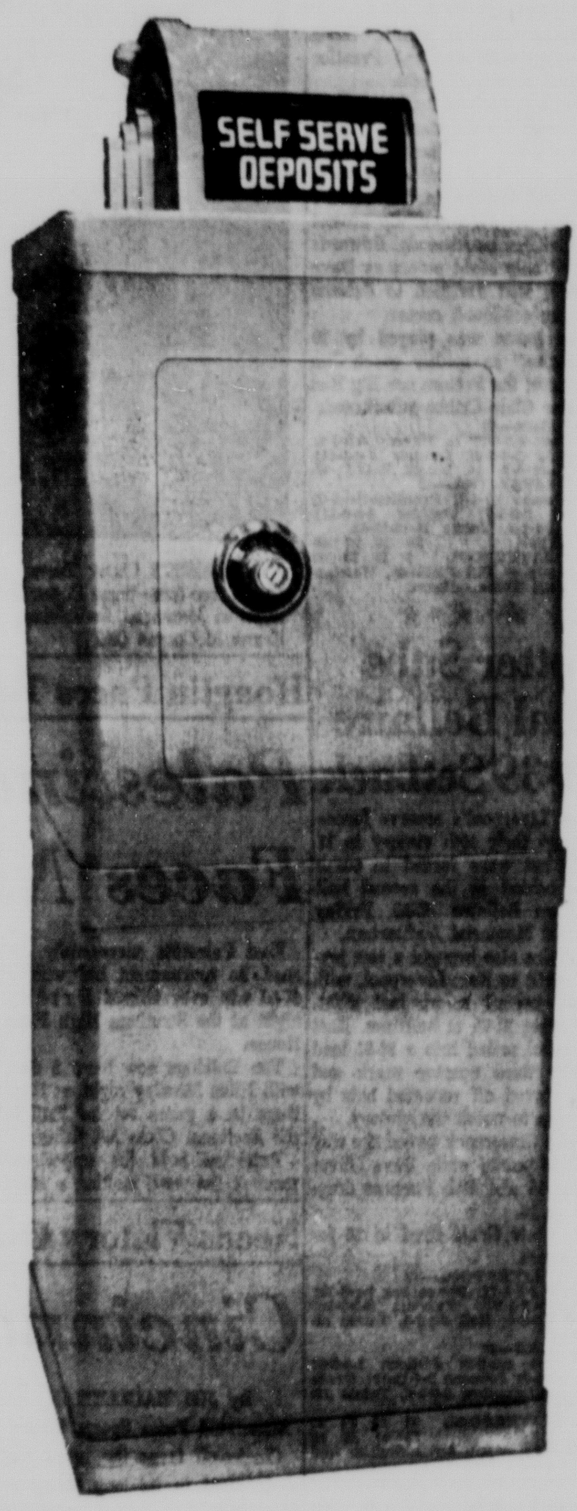

Only $754,067 has been collected so far on the full tax charge of $5,474,785 according to late tabulations.

March 7 is the deadline for collections, the treasurer reminded property owners.

Judge added an additional reminder than the owner of property as of Jan. 1 is obligated for the full tax year.

He explained tax statements are mailed only as an aid for collection, and failure to receive a statement does not constitute a legal defense against penalty payments added after deadline.

Cubs Given 43 Awards

Bob cat awards were presented to 43 boys at the first annual Blue and Gold dinner of Cub Pack 78 Friday evening at Westgate School.

About 230 parents and boys and 12 guests attended. Richard Johnston, institutional representative, introduced Don Chapman, committee chairman, and guests. Chapman introduced den mothers and committeemen.

Robert Gray, district scout executive, gave a short talk on the pack and cub scouting. Howard Prince, cubmaster, and Glenn Earich, assistant cubmaster, presented the bob cat awards.

The attendance award went to Den 7 and was accepted by Mrs. Howard Prince, den mother. The invocation and benediction were given by Maj. William Hathorn of the Salvation Army.

The pack is sponsored by the Westgate Parent-Teacher Association.

Bellaire Five Presents Potters With 10th Setback, 49-42

EL Slips Behind In Second Period

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Already doomed for a losing season after dropping a 49-42 decision to a tall Bellaire Big Red outfit Friday night, the East Liverpool Potters await the invasion of undefeated Weirton tonight as the final touch is applied to the 1961-62 season.

A larger crowd than the some 650 which showed up Friday night is expected at Memorial Auditorium tonight to witness the powerful Weirton five in action.

The Potters absorbed their 10th setback against seven victories this season while Bellaire obtained what they were after at East Liverpool, a .500 season as the Big Red cagers broke even on the campaign with a 9-9 mark.

EAST Liverpool's latest performance will have to go down as one of the poorer showings of the campaign, and the play turned in by Bellaire was not outstanding but evidently proved seven points better.

Other than leading for about 15 seconds in the second quarter and coming up with their patented late rally which brought them within three points with 1:21 remaining in the game, the Potters were left dragging behind most of the way.

From the field the Potters could account for only 15 field goals on 53 attempts for a 28 per cent average. Bellaire turned in a higher mark of 18 fielders in 51 tries and an average of 35 per cent.

THE CONTEST turned out to be dull with two very mediocre teams performing, but the fans kept alert by showing their displeasure with the officials who at times allowed the players to become a little over aggressive.

The low scoring contest saw Bellaire get off to a fast start by whipping in its first four out of five shots which carried the Big Red to an 8-2 lead. The visitors took a first quarter margin of 10-7.

AFTER Henderson (Boots) Edwards dropped in two fouls early in the second period, Frank McComas dropped in a field goal and Tom Kraft hit for two quick buckets, shoving the Potters in front 13-12 for the only time in the contest.

Several seconds later Chuck Turner, a husky 6-foot-2 performer, fired in a field goal that started Bellaire on a seven-point spree which turned into a 19-13 lead.

FROM this point on, East Liverpool trailed, including the intermission score of 26-19 and the third quarter count of 37-28.

In the fourth quarter, with Jack Deshler and Ed Prentice leading a rally, the Potters pulled within three points to give the partisan crowd a glimmer of hope, but Carl Burkhart, a 5-foot-11 guard, dropped in six straight foul shots in the closing minute to protect Bellaire's lead.

His six straight came after Bellaire players had missed eight in a row.

DESHLER fired in six points on two swishing jump shots and a pair of fouls and Prentice tallied five points in the final eight minutes to lead the Potter charge.

Deshler, who came off the bench to start in place of the injured Dean Cline, was the only Potter to hit in the double figures, finishing with 11 points. Kraft came up with nine and Prentice showed a total of eight.

Bud Palmer and Burkhart shared honors for the visitors with 14 points each. The height of Edwards and Turner didn't seem to hurt the Potters in the scoring column but did especially around the Bellaire backboards. Edwards scored only eight points as Dave Harriel was assigned to defense Bellaire's 6-foot-5 center.

The game was played by 10 "ironmen" as neither coach Jim Harris of the Potters nor Big Red mentor Clair Cribbs substituted.

Potter Subs Deal Bellaire 43-39 Setback

East Liverpool's reserve forces piled up their 15th victory in 17 starts but were forced to come from behind in the second half to down Bellaire 43-39 Friday night at Memorial Auditorium.

Bellaire also brought a fine jayvee outfit to East Liverpool, with a 15-2 record before last night.

Trailing 21-20 at halftime, East Liverpool sailed into a 34-31 lead at the third quarter mark and then staved off repeated bids by Bellaire to notch the victory.

Dave Bowersock paved the way with 15 points while Dave Oliver added 15 and Bob Forzano dropped in 10.

Tourney's Next After 11th Defeat

FOLLANSBEE — The Follansbee Blue Wave sent Chester's basketball forces down to an 86-53 defeat in the final game of the season for the Panthers here Friday night.

Coach Max Tuttle's team, which opens tournament play Tuesday at West Liberty, wound up with a 9-11 record for the season.

Behind from the time they left the starting gate, the Panthers were trailing 23-12 at the first quarter post and 39-24 at halftime.

The height of Follansbee's Smith paid off as the tall cager led his team with 20 points.

Keith Sayre was the only Panther to put his name in double figures with 14 markers. Jerry Smith and Bill Yoakum each added nine points to the Chester attack.

Weir Five Shoots At Perfect Mark

Weirton, a dominating power in West Virginia High School football circles, isn't doing bad in basketball either.

The Riders will be eyeing an undefeated season of 20 straight victories when they meet East Liverpool tonight at 8:30 on the Memorial Auditorium floor.

The curtain falls for both teams tonight, ending the regular season. Coach Jim Harris' Potters enter the contest with a 7-10 mark after absorbing a 49-42 defeat to Bellaire on the home boards Friday night.

An upset by East Liverpool tonight would be heard through the hills of West Virginia since Weirton, the No. 2 ranked team in that state, is one of two Class AAA clubs in the undefeated ranks. Beckley, which is rated No. 1 in West Virginia, is the other.

The starting lineup for Weirton will read Tyrone Gregory, 6-foot-4, Ron Mortimer, 6-foot-3, and Bill Thompson, Ron Williams and Ralph McFarland all standing 6-foot-2. The key substitute is Bill Tucker, another 6-foot-2 performer.

Williams is the big gun in the scoring department with an average of 20 points a game.

After tonight's battle, the Potters take Sunday off but swing up against a strong Steubenville Big Red team Monday night at Steubenville in the Sectional Class AA tournament.

The classiest player for the Steubenville five, coached by Walt Owen, is Leavie Davis, a 6-foot-4 senior and the lone letterman from last year's squad. A strong rebounder, Davis is hitting the hoop at a clip of 18 per game.

Three other starters go 6-foot or over for Owen's crew. They are Willie Styles, a 6-foot-1½ senior who is quick around the basketball court, and Harry Wilson and Dave Brown, both standing 6-foot even. Brown was the hero of the Martins Ferry game when he swiped the ball in the last four seconds and dropped in a bucket to give Big Red a 60-58 victory.

The fifth starter for Big Red is Chuck Weiher, a 5-foot-11 senior.

Steubenville's defeats have been by Weirton twice, Canton Central, Bellaire, Warren and Massillon.

The winner of the Monday night battle, which will start at 8:30, p.m. returns on Wednesday to meet the survivor of the Jefferson Union-Wintersville game. The JU-Wintersville battle will be the opening game of the tourney Monday at 7 p.m.

Palestine Whips Girard, Faces Niles Five Monday

East Palestine successfully opened its tournament bid with a 65-60 win over Girard Friday night at the Struthers High Field House.

The Bulldogs now have a date with Niles Monday night at Struthers in a game set for 7:15 in the Sectional Class AA firing.

Palestine held the upperhand most of the way, making a short lead standup throughout the 32 minutes.

On top 16-14 at the first quarter, East Palestine increased the margin to 35-30 at halftime and took a 47-41 lead into the final eight minutes.

Fred Hoaglin's 20 points were the big factor in steering the East Palestine Bulldogs to victory. Girard's Koppel took honors with 27.

East Palestine entered last night's game with 9-9 mark.

Needs Victory Over Wichita

Cincinnati Faces Key Test

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati faces the latest key assignment in its long string of basketball successes tonight—a victory over Wichita.

The Bearcats, gunning for their fifth straight Missouri Valley Conference title and second national championship in a row, could very well blow both if they don't handle the Wheatshockers.

Cincinnati and Bradley are tied for the league lead at 9-2, with the 'Cats closing out their league schedule in the home game tonight. The Braves finish at St. Louis next Saturday. If Cincinnati wins and St. Louis upends Bradley, the Bearcats are in. If both front-runners win, they'll settle matters on a neutral court later, with the survivor carrying the Missouri Valley banner into the NCAA title tournament.

But if the Bearcats don't come through tonight—and they were edged at Wichita 52-51 two months ago—it could mean the end of a reign.

Cincinnati-Wichita is only one of the big ones on tap tonight. UCLA can nail down at least a tie for the Big Five championship by beating Stanford at Los Angeles. The Uclans marched a step closer to the title Friday night, beating California 68-62. And a victory for Yale against last-place Columbia would clinch at least a share of the Ivy League crown for the Eli. Yale nipped its closest rival, Cornell, 48-47 Friday night.

Colorado and Kansas State, heading into the stretch of their duel for Big Eight supremacy, warm up for their showdown next week with home games tonight. Colorado, 9-0 in the conference, takes on Iowa State and Kansas State, 8-1, meets Oklahoma.

In the Southeastern Conference, pacesetting Mississippi State entertains Louisiana State while Kentucky, one game back of the Bulldogs, is at Alabama. Prime games in the Southwest are Texas Tech at Texas and Texas Christian at Southern Methodist. Tech and SMU head the standings at 8-3, but Texas A&M climbed to within one-half game of the leaders Friday night with an 89-79 decision over Arkansas.

Utah State and Colorado State University, the two contenders for the Skyline's NCAA berth, have conference tests. Montana is at Utah State while CSU plays at Wyoming. The Utags and CSU have identical records, 9-2 in the league and 18-5 over-all.

Friday night, Idaho sprang a major upset by handing tenth-ranked Oregon State its third straight setback, 52-51. The Vandals, stressing defense and possession, built up a small lead and then withstood the Beavers' last-gasp rally.

Houston tripped Southern California 56-51, throwing a full-court press at the Trojans and holding them without a field goal for a 13-minute span in the second half. The Cougars, who overcame a seven-point deficit, won their 20th in 25 starts for their best record in history.

Beatty To Race Clock At Garden

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Beatty, the only indoor sub-four-minute miler, runs a lonely race against the clock instead of Ron Delany tonight in the national AAU championships in Madison Square Garden.

"I've had a cold all week," said the 5-foot-6 Los Angeles track club ace, "and haven't been able to shake it. I've been training in the rain, so it's understandable. But it will be a good race."

Beatty ran the mile in 3:59.9 on the boards in the Los Angeles Times meet two weeks ago and followed it with a 4:00.9 effort in the New York Athletic Club meet last week. That was his final warmup in his announced intention of breaking Delany's 40-race (34 at the mile) indoor streak.

But Delany came up with a sore Achilles tendon in his left foot and had to withdraw. He's finished for the season. Beatty has a modest indoor record of 12 straight victories going into the meet.

Delany wasn't the only top-notcher to scratch. John Uelses, the sole member of the pole vaulters' 16-foot club, hasn't recovered from a two-week siege of the flu and dropped out. Parry O'Brien, who has won the AAU shotput title the last nine years, has an injured finger and won't make it.

With Uelses absent, the favorite will be Dexter Elkins of Southern Methodist, who has cleared 15-6½ and has come very close to going over 16. He's a member of the fiberglass pole club.

O'Brein would have been the underdog against 19-year-old Gary Gubner of New York University, who is aiming to break his eight-day-old indoor record of 64-11¾. He wants to make at least 65 feet.

'We Could Be In Race,' Higgins Says Of Redsox

By MIKE HIGGINS

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) —As far as I'm concerned, the Yankees are in a class by themselves. They again shape up as the class of the American League.

However, the Red Sox are conceding nothing to the other eight clubs. We have one big problem and that's the loss of Jackie Jensen leaves us without a real, big power hitter. It looks as though he has made up his mind to retire.

Otherwise we've got a pretty solid team. We made one important trade during the off-season, getting shortstop Eddie Bressoud from Houston for Don Buddin. Bressoud should tighten out infield and along with Chuck Schilling, who's the best defensive second baseman in the league, we will have an outstanding double play combination.

There's no problem at first base or third, either. Frank Malzone, our third baseman, had a few injuries last season and if he stays healthy this year he should tack 20 or 30 points onto his .266 batting average. The first baseman, Pete Runnels, is a consistent .300 hitter.

We've only got four holdovers in the outfield. I expect big things from Carl Yastrzemski. There was a lot of pressure on him during his rookie year and he came through it very well. He had all the earmarks of a .300 hitter in the last half of the season. Gary Gelger, Lu Clinton and Carrol Hardy will fight it out for the other two outfield positions.

Russ Nixon, Jim Pagliaroni and Bob Tillman give us a solid catching staff.

Don Schwall, the league's rookie-of-the-year, Tracy Stallard and Bill Monbouquette pitched well last season. I think all three have their best years ahead of them and this could be the year each reaches his peak.

Gene Conley won 11 games for us in 1961 and I expect him to win more than that. Our young pitchers, Galen Cisco and Arnold Earley, also should improve. I'm particularly high on Earley, a strong left-hander, who looked better every time out last year.

Except for the Yankees, the other clubs have their problems. The Red Sox have no more problems than the others, so I figure we'll be up in the race.

Reynolds, a truck salesman, rolled 611 and Krebs, a civil engineer, 649 Friday for 1260, just four pins shy of the lead.

In the regular team event, Merv Stern of Menlo Park, N.J., took the lead with 3044. Boulevard Lanes of Dover, Ohio, was sixth with its 2921.

Reynolds was seventh in all-events with 1856.

Dick Thompson of Youngstown, Ohio, holds first place in regular singles with 718 and in all-events with 1929.

Lakers Clinch Division Crown

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers, new Western Division champions of the National Basketball Association, now have another goal — they want to set a division record for victories.

The Lakers clinched the division championship Friday night with a 124-117 overtime victory over the Chicago Packers in a game typical of the close ones they have been winning all year.

"We've won 48 games now," said Lakers' Coach Fred Schaus, "and need only four more victories in our last 10 games to set a division record. We want that record. We're not about to slack off during the rest of the regular season."

The record is held by St. Louis, which was 51-28 in 1960-61. Los Angeles is now 48-22. The Eastern Division Boston Celtics hold the NBA record, 59-16 in 1959-60.

Bellaire Five Presents Potters With 10th Setback, 49-42

EL Slips Behind In Second Period

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Already doomed for a losing season after dropping a 49-42 decision to a tall Bellaire Big Red outfit Friday night, the East Liverpool Potters await the invasion of undefeated Weirton tonight as the final touch is applied to the 1961-62 season.

A larger crowd than the some 650 which showed up Friday night is expected at Memorial Auditorium tonight to witness the powerful Weirton five in action.

The Potters absorbed their 10th setback against seven victories this season while Bellaire obtained what they were after at East Liverpool, a .500 season as the Big Red cagers broke even on the campaign with a 9-9 mark.

EAST Liverpool's latest performance will have to go down as one of the poorer showings of the campaign, and the play turned in by Bellaire was not outstanding but evidently proved seven points better.

Other than leading for about 15 seconds in the second quarter and coming up with their patented late rally which brought them within three points with 1:21 remaining in the game, the Potters were left dragging behind most of the way.

From the field the Potters could account for only 15 field goals on 53 attempts for a 28 per cent average. Bellaire turned in a higher mark of 18 fielders in 51 tries and an average of 35 per cent.

THE CONTEST turned out to be dull with two very mediocre teams performing, but the fans kept alert by showing their displeasure with the officials who at times allowed the players to become a little over aggressive.

The low scoring contest saw Bellaire get off to a fast start by whipping in its first four out of five shots which carried the Big Red to an 8-2 lead. The visitors took a first quarter margin of 10-7.

AFTER Henderson (Boots) Edwards dropped in two fouls early in the second period, Frank McComas dropped in a field goal and Tom Kraft hit for two quick buckets, shoving the Potters in front 13-12 for the only time in the contest.

Several seconds later Chuck Turner, a husky 6-foot-2 performer, fired in a field goal that started Bellaire on a seven-point spree which turned into a 19-13 lead.

FROM this point on, East Liverpool trailed, including the intermission score of 26-19 and the third quarter count of 37-28.

In the fourth quarter, with Jack Deshler and Ed Prentice leading a rally, the Potters pulled within three points to give the partisan crowd a glimmer of hope, but Carl Burkhart, a 5-foot-11 guard, dropped in six straight foul shots in the closing minute to protect Bellaire's lead.

His six straight came after Bellaire players had missed eight in a row.

DESHLER fired in six points on two swishing jump shots and a pair of fouls and Prentice tallied five points in the final eight minutes to lead the Potter charge.

Deshler, who came off the bench to start in place of the injured Dean Cline, was the only Potter to hit in the double figures, finishing with 11 points. Kraft came up with nine and Prentice showed a total of eight.

Bud Palmer and Burkhart shared honors for the visitors with 14 points each. The height of Edwards and Turner didn't seem to hurt the Potters in the scoring column but did especially around the Bellaire backboards. Edwards scored only eight points as Dave Harriel was assigned to defense Bellaire's 6-foot-5 center.

The game was played by 10 "ironmen" as neither coach Jim Harris of the Potters nor Big Red mentor Clair Cribbs substituted.

East Liverpool's reserve forces piled up their 15th victory in 17 starts but were forced to come from behind in the second half to down Bellaire 43-39 Friday night at Memorial Auditorium.

Bellaire also brought a fine jayvee outfit to East Liverpool, with a 15-2 record before last night.

Trailing 21-20 at halftime, East Liverpool sailed into a 34-31 lead at the third quarter mark and then staved off repeated bids by Bellaire to notch the victory.

Dave Bowersock paved the way with 15 points while Dave Oliver added 15 and Bob Forzano dropped in 10.

Weirton, a dominating power in West Virginia High School football circles, isn't doing bad in basketball either.

The Riders will be eyeing an undefeated season of 20 straight victories when they meet East Liverpool tonight at 8:30 on the Memorial Auditorium floor.

The curtain falls for both teams tonight, ending the regular season. Coach Jim Harris' Potters enter the contest with a 7-10 mark after absorbing a 49-42 defeat to Bellaire on the home boards Friday night.

An upset by East Liverpool tonight would be heard through the hills of West Virginia since Weirton, the No. 2 ranked team in that state, is one of two Class AAA clubs in the undefeated ranks. Beckley, which is rated No. 1 in West Virginia, is the other.

The starting lineup for Weirton will read Tyrone Gregory, 6-foot-4, Ron Mortimer, 6-foot-3, and Bill Thompson, Ron Williams and Ralph McFarland all standing 6-foot-2. The key substitute is Bill Tucker, another 6-foot-2 performer.

Williams is the big gun in the scoring department with an average of 20 points a game.

After tonight's battle, the Potters take Sunday off but swing up against a strong Steubenville Big Red team Monday night at Steubenville in the Sectional Class AA tournament.

The classiest player for the Steubenville five, coached by Walt Owen, is Leavie Davis, a 6-foot-4 senior and the lone letterman from last year's squad. A strong rebounder, Davis is hitting the hoop at a clip of 18 per game.

Three other starters go 6-foot or over for Owen's crew. They are Willie Styles, a 6-foot-1½ senior who is quick around the basketball court, and Harry Wilson and Dave Brown, both standing 6-foot even. Brown was the hero of the Martins Ferry game when he swiped the ball in the last four seconds and dropped in a bucket to give Big Red a 60-58 victory.

The fifth starter for Big Red is Chuck Weiher, a 5-foot-11 senior.

Steubenville's defeats have been by Weirton twice, Canton Central, Bellaire, Warren and Massillon.

The winner of the Monday night battle, which will start at 8:30, p.m. returns on Wednesday to meet the survivor of the Jefferson Union-Wintersville game. The JU-Wintersville battle will be the opening game of the tourney Monday at 7 p.m.

Beatty To Race Clock At Garden

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Beatty, the only indoor sub-four-minute miler, runs a lonely race against the clock instead of Ron Delany tonight in the national AAU championships in Madison Square Garden.

"I've had a cold all week," said the 5-foot-6 Los Angeles track club ace, "and haven't been able to shake it. I've been training in the rain, so it's understandable. But it will be a good race."

Beatty ran the mile in 3:59.9 on the boards in the Los Angeles Times meet two weeks ago and followed it with a 4:00.9 effort in the New York Athletic Club meet last week. That was his final warmup in his announced intention of breaking Delany's 40-race (34 at the mile) indoor streak.

But Delany came up with a sore Achilles tendon in his left foot and had to withdraw. He's finished for the season. Beatty has a modest indoor record of 12 straight victories going into the meet.

Delany wasn't the only top-notcher to scratch. John Uelses, the sole member of the pole vaulters' 16-foot club, hasn't recovered from a two-week siege of the flu and dropped out. Parry O'Brien, who has won the AAU shotput title the last nine years, has an injured finger and won't make it.

With Uelses absent, the favorite will be Dexter Elkins of Southern Methodist, who has cleared 15-6½ and has come very close to going over 16. He's a member of the fiberglass pole club.

O'Brein would have been the underdog against 19-year-old Gary Gubner of New York University, who is aiming to break his eight-day-old indoor record of 64-11¾. He wants to make at least 65 feet.

Lakers Clinch Division Crown

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers, new Western Division champions of the National Basketball Association, now have another goal — they want to set a division record for victories.

The Lakers clinched the division championship Friday night with a 124-117 overtime victory over the Chicago Packers in a game typical of the close ones they have been winning all year.

"We've won 48 games now," said Lakers' Coach Fred Schaus, "and need only four more victories in our last 10 games to set a division record. We want that record. We're not about to slack off during the rest of the regular season."

The record is held by St. Louis, which was 51-28 in 1960-61. Los Angeles is now 48-22. The Eastern Division Boston Celtics hold the NBA record, 59-16 in 1959-60.

Tourney's Next After 11th Defeat

FOLLANSBEE — The Follansbee Blue Wave sent Chester's basketball forces down to an 86-53 defeat in the final game of the season for the Panthers here Friday night.

Coach Max Tuttle's team, which opens tournament play Tuesday at West Liberty, wound up with a 9-11 record for the season.

Behind from the time they left the starting gate, the Panthers were trailing 23-12 at the first quarter post and 39-24 at halftime.

The height of Follansbee's Smith paid off as the tall cager led his team with 20 points.

Keith Sayre was the only Panther to put his name in double figures with 14 markers. Jerry Smith and Bill Yoakum each added nine points to the Chester attack.

In the preliminary game, Follansbee walked off with a narrow 42-39 verdict.

Local Motorist Held After Chase

An East Liverpool motorist, who allegedly failed to stop after hitting a parked car in Midland Friday night, was apprehended by an off-duty policeman and a Beaver County deputy sheriff after a pursuit on the East Liverpool-Midland Rd. and charged with driving while drunk.

James Humphrey, 1173½ Erie St., is in Midland Jail and probably will be given a hearing tonight.

Police said that Patrolman Anthony Verzilli, who was off duty and resides in the vicinity of the accident, and Francis Wolfe, a deputy also of Midland, heard a crash about 10:05 and saw Humphrey take off. They gave chase and caught him on Route 68 near Ken Miller's service station.

Police said Humphrey, who was westbound, hit the left rear of the parked car of John J. Golovich, 28 Midland Ave. Both cars were reported badly damaged.

Girl In Custody Case To Wed, Pens Thanks

LISBON — Judge Joel H. Sharp in 1951 transferred the custody of a Uniontown girl then 10 to her father and now the judge has a letter of gratitude for his decision —and an invitation to her wedding.

"If it had not been for you, our attorney and my two present parents, my wonderful situation probably would never have come about," she wrote. Custody was given to her father who since remarried.

Judge Sharp replied with a personal note, thanking her for her letter and commenting that each case of change of custody presents him with a hard decision. He said he was sorry he could not attend her wedding because of other commitments but he wished her continued happiness for her future.

'Flying Squad' Not Quite Fast Enough

LONDON (AP)—This was the scene: A truck loaded with $56,000 worth of cigarettes was parked at the curb. Inside lurked four officers of Scotland Yard's famed "flying squad."

The four had been tipped that the truck was the target of thieves.

Came the thieves, four of them. They drove off in the truck. When the truck stopped the four police officers piled out—but not fast enough to nab the four thieves.

Later police arrested four suspects and charged them with stealing the truck and cigarettes.

Convicted Slayer Says Not Guilty

CINCINNATI (AP)—Carl Bobby Roseman, convicted in a sledge hammer robbery killing, contended anew Friday he didn't do it.

But a few minutes later, he told his court-appointed attorneys not to appeal his case. He gave no reason.

Roseman, 24, of Lincoln Heights was convicted Wednesday by a jury of first-degree murder with a recommendation of mercy.

The conviction made mandatory Friday's life sentence by Judge Charles Weber in Common Pleas Court.

Roseman was convicted in the death of Robert Gau, 46, during robbery last April of Bushelman Supply Co. where Gau worked. Roseman contended another man killed Gau.

Chester Autoist Fined In 2 Cases

A Chester area driver was fined a total of $120 and costs on two charges at a hearing Friday before Municipal Court Judge John D. Herron in New Cumberland.

Patrick Duffield, 39, of R. D. 2 was fined $100 and costs for driving while intoxicated, and $20 and costs for disorderly conduct. He was committed to Hancock County Jail when unable to pay. The term will be for 40 days. His operator's license was revoked for six months.

Duffield was charged Thursday night at 8:30 by Police Chief William Webster of New Cumberland.

Judge Herron also fined Norman Hardy, 21, of Newell $20 and costs on a charge of hazardous driving filed by Chief Webster.

2 City Women Suffer Injuries From Falls

Two city women hurt in falls Friday were admitted to City Hospital where a Chester youth was treated for injuries also suffered in a fall.

Mrs. Margaret Butcher, 69, of 209 W. 3rd St., is in "fair" condition with a possible fracture of the left ankle received in a fall yesterday morning.

Mrs. Jane Anderson, 85, of 723 Lincoln Ave., injured her right leg in a fall yesterday afternoon and is in "fair" condition.

Robert N. Taylor, 16, son of Robert Taylor of Chester R. D. 1, suffered a laceration of the left heel when he fell against an ax Friday evening.

Injured By Train

NORWAL, Ohio (AP) — A northbound New York Central freight struck a car at a grade crossing in New London Friday night, injuring Mrs. Don Jerry, 30, wife of the New London High School football coach. Thrown from the car, she was reported in fair condition in a hospital here.

Casey Delays Final Opinion Till Training

By CASEY STENGEL

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — It will be very hard for me to give a discussion about the New York Mets ballplayers that have been lined up for 1962. I would not want to question the ability of the said players until I have seen them in spring training.

But I can tell you this. We made some pretty good picks in the expansion draft. That was a good start and now we have 35 players on the roster.

Our team can use players on the infield, outfield and pitching staff.

We have some experienced pitchers and quite a few young ones. Bob Miller, Aubrey Gatewood and Norm Anderson are all under 25 years of age. Billy Loes, Roger Craig and Jay Hook are experienced. Al Jackson, who we got from Pittsburgh, can throw hard.

I think this club will be a tough one in the Polo Grounds. We've got some long ball hitters and the fences are pretty short. Frank Thomas and Charley Neal should be real home threats and the same goes for Gil Hodges.

We have an experienced outfield with Thomas in left, Gus Bell in right and Richie Ashburn in center. I expect good work from our other outfielders, Joe Christopher, Jimmy Hickman and John Demerit.

Anything can happen in spring training, but right now I'm figuring Hodges on first, Felix Mantilla on short, Neal for second and Don Zimmer for third.

Hobie Landrith gives us an experienced catcher and Joe Ginsberg is another one who has been around a long time.

I feel the Dodgers, Milwaukee, Cincinnati and St. Louis have the best teams in the National League. All I want to say about the Mets right now is I don't think they'll be any pushovers.

U.N. Confirms Identification Of Slain Fliers

LEOPONDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The United Nations confirmed today the identification of the bodies of the 13 Italian U.N. airmen slaughtered by mutinous Congolese troops in the Kivu Province town of Kindu last November.

The bodies were exhumed from a cemetery near Kindu and flown to Leopoldville Friday night. They are resting in state in the hanger of the Italian air force U.N. contingent. They will be flown to Italy in several days.

The United Nations honored three European Red Cross workers killed in the U.N.—Kantanga fighting in December. Robert K. A. Gardiner, U.N. chief in the Congo spoke at a brief airport ceremony.

An honor guard of U.N. troops saluted as the three bodies were placed on a plane for Vienna. The three workers were killed in a cross fire.

County Girl Leaves For Peace Corps Duty

LISBON — Miss Norma Shade, 19, of Leetonia R.D. 1 flew this morning from Youngstown Airport to New York to leave Sunday for Puerto Rico for four weeks more study before Peace Corps duty in Brazil.

Miss Shade just completed six weeks of preliminary training at the National 4-H Headquarters in Washington. The course included study of customs of Brazil, the Portuguese language and difference between the governments of Brazil and the United States.

She was given a 10-day furlough before assignment with 56 other youths to Puerto Rico. They will establish 4-C Clubs similar to 4-H Clubs.

4 Air Force Recruits Train At Texas Base

Sgt. James Lee, city Air Force recruiter, said four 1961 East Liverpool High School graduates enlisted this week and are receiving basic training at Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, Tex.

They are Carl A. Barnett, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn M. Barnett, 109 E. 6th St.; Charles F. Capwell Jr., 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Capwell, 415 Monroe St.; William H. Flanigan, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard P. Flanigan, 736 Lincoln Ave., and Robert O. Wright, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Wright, 1006 St. George St.

Capwell enlisted in the electronic career field and Barnett, Flanigan and Wright in the mechanical career field.

Ex-Mate Gets 10 Days

LISBON — Oscar Kempf, 60, of Salineville R. D. was sentenced to 10 days in the County Jail Friday by County Judge James L. MacDonald on a charge of malicious destruction of property filed by Police Chief Cleo Mellott of Salineville. Kempf's divorced wife complained he broke a $10 window in her home.

Customary Dogfight Set, Alston Says Of Loop Race

By WALTER ALSTON

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — I expect the customary dogfight for the National League pennant this season.

I know one thing for sure. We're going to have a happier bunch of left-handed hitters. That's because we're moving into the new Dodger Stadium in the Chavez Ravine. The right field fence in the Coliseum was too tough a target even for our best lefty batters such as Duke Snider, Johnny Roseboro, Willie Davis, Ron Fairly and Wally Moon. They are all looking forward to playing at the ravine where the measurements are the same down each foul line, 325 feet.

Our right-handed hitters, Frank Howard, Tommy Davis, Daryl Spencer and Norm Sherry all have enough power to reach the barriers in left field in the new park.

The new park also should make a difference to our pitchers. I know Don Drysdale, Johnny Podres, Sandy Koufax and Stan Williams are capable of winning many games. What we need is for each one of them to have a good year together.

I'm hopeful we will be fortunate enough to come up with another starting pitcher. We have more doubleheaders on our schedule than ever before.

We're expecting Howard to make it at first base. If he can't make it, Fairly proved last season he's ready for the job.

The Dodgers have plenty of speed with fellows like Maury Wills, the two Davises, Moon and Gilliam. This again is where our new park will be of great help.

If the pitching holds up the way I expect, we'll be in the thick of the dogfight all the way.

Trade Declines Between West, East Germany

BONN, Germany (AP)—Trade between West Germany and Communist East Germany declined by roughly 10 per cent during 1961, the Economics Ministry reported today.

Total trade between West and East Germany in 1961 was valued at $457.5 million with West Germany exporting goods valued at $227 million and purchasing goods totalling $229 million.

West Germany bought more gasoline and sugar but less coal, meat, wheat, ceramics and textiles than in 1960. East Germany purchased more iron and steel, nonferrous metals and wood during the same period, the Economics Ministry said.

2 Visiting Firemen Stay At Fire Station

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — Two visiting firemen from Argentina came by jeep into Glasgow today and moved in with the local fire brigade.

"Fire stations are better than hotels," said Manuel Abelairas de Castro. "We ought to know—we have stayed in more than 150 of them during the past three years. We never stay in hotels."

Local Motorist Held After Chase

An East Liverpool motorist, who allegedly failed to stop after hitting a parked car in Midland Friday night, was apprehended by an off-duty policeman and a Beaver County deputy sheriff after a pursuit on the East Liverpool-Midland Rd. and charged with driving while drunk.

James Humphrey, 1173½ Erie St., is in Midland Jail and probably will be given a hearing tonight.

Police said that Patrolman Anthony Verzilli, who was off duty and resides in the vicinity of the accident, and Francis Wolfe, a deputy also of Midland, heard a crash about 10:05 and saw Humphrey take off. They gave chase and caught him on Route 68 near Ken Miller's service station.

Police said Humphrey, who was westbound, hit the left rear of the parked car of John J. Golovich, 28 Midland Ave. Both cars were reported badly damaged.

Girl In Custody Case To Wed, Pens Thanks

LISBON — Judge Joel H. Sharp in 1951 transferred the custody of a Uniontown girl then 10 to her father and now the judge has a letter of gratitude for his decision —and an invitation to her wedding.

"If it had not been for you, our attorney and my two present parents, my wonderful situation probably would never have come about," she wrote. Custody was given to her father who since remarried.

Judge Sharp replied with a personal note, thanking her for her letter and commenting that each case of change of custody presents him with a hard decision. He said he was sorry he could not attend her wedding because of other commitments but he wished her continued happiness for her future.

'Flying Squad' Not Quite Fast Enough

LONDON (AP)—This was the scene: A truck loaded with $56,000 worth of cigarettes was parked at the curb. Inside lurked four officers of Scotland Yard's famed "flying squad."

The four had been tipped that the truck was the target of thieves.

Came the thieves, four of them. They drove off in the truck. When the truck stopped the four police officers piled out—but not fast enough to nab the four thieves.

Later police arrested four suspects and charged them with stealing the truck and cigarettes.

Convicted Slayer Says Not Guilty

CINCINNATI (AP)—Carl Bobby Roseman, convicted in a sledge hammer robbery killing, contended anew Friday he didn't do it.

But a few minutes later, he told his court-appointed attorneys not to appeal his case. He gave no reason.

Roseman, 24, of Lincoln Heights was convicted Wednesday by a jury of first-degree murder with a recommendation of mercy.

The conviction made mandatory Friday's life sentence by Judge Charles Weber in Common Pleas Court.

Roseman was convicted in the death of Robert Gau, 46, during robbery last April of Bushelman Supply Co. where Gau worked. Roseman contended another man killed Gau.

Chester Autoist Fined In 2 Cases

A Chester area driver was fined a total of $120 and costs on two charges at a hearing Friday before Municipal Court Judge John D. Herron in New Cumberland.

Patrick Duffield, 39, of R. D. 2 was fined $100 and costs for driving while intoxicated, and $20 and costs for disorderly conduct. He was committed to Hancock County Jail when unable to pay. The term will be for 40 days. His operator's license was revoked for six months.

Duffield was charged Thursday night at 8:30 by Police Chief William Webster of New Cumberland.

2 City Women Suffer Injuries From Falls

Two city women hurt in falls Friday were admitted to City Hospital where a Chester youth was treated for injuries also suffered in a fall.

Mrs. Margaret Butcher, 69, of 209 W. 3rd St., is in "fair" condition with a possible fracture of the left ankle received in a fall yesterday morning.

Mrs. Jane Anderson, 85, of 723 Lincoln Ave., injured her right leg in a fall yesterday afternoon and is in "fair" condition.

Robert N. Taylor, 16, son of Robert Taylor of Chester R. D. 1, suffered a laceration of the left heel when he fell against an ax Friday evening.

Injured By Train

NORWAL, Ohio (AP) — A northbound New York Central freight struck a car at a grade crossing in New London Friday night, injuring Mrs. Don Jerry, 30, wife of the New London High School football coach. Thrown from the car, she was reported in fair condition in a hospital here.

Casey Delays Final Opinion Till Training

By CASEY STENGEL

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — It will be very hard for me to give a discussion about the New York Mets ballplayers that have been lined up for 1962. I would not want to question the ability of the said players until I have seen them in spring training.

But I can tell you this. We made some pretty good picks in the expansion draft. That was a good start and now we have 35 players on the roster.

Our team can use players on the infield, outfield and pitching staff.

We have some experienced pitchers and quite a few young ones. Bob Miller, Aubrey Gatewood and Norm Anderson are all under 25 years of age. Billy Loes, Roger Craig and Jay Hook are experienced. Al Jackson, who we got from Pittsburgh, can throw hard.

I think this club will be a tough one in the Polo Grounds. We've got some long ball hitters and the fences are pretty short. Frank Thomas and Charley Neal should be real home threats and the same goes for Gil Hodges.

We have an experienced outfield with Thomas in left, Gus Bell in right and Richie Ashburn in center. I expect good work from our other outfielders, Joe Christopher, Jimmy Hickman and John Demerit.

Anything can happen in spring training, but right now I'm figuring Hodges on first, Felix Mantilla on short, Neal for second and Don Zimmer for third.

Hobie Landrith gives us an experienced catcher and Joe Ginsberg is another one who has been around a long time.

I feel the Dodgers, Milwaukee, Cincinnati and St. Louis have the best teams in the National League. All I want to say about the Mets right now is I don't think they'll be any pushovers.

U.N. Confirms Identification Of Slain Fliers

LEOPONDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The United Nations confirmed today the identification of the bodies of the 13 Italian U.N. airmen slaughtered by mutinous Congolese troops in the Kivu Province town of Kindu last November.

The bodies were exhumed from a cemetery near Kindu and flown to Leopoldville Friday night. They are resting in state in the hanger of the Italian air force U.N. contingent. They will be flown to Italy in several days.

The United Nations honored three European Red Cross workers killed in the U.N.—Kantanga fighting in December. Robert K. A. Gardiner, U.N. chief in the Congo spoke at a brief airport ceremony.

An honor guard of U.N. troops saluted as the three bodies were placed on a plane for Vienna. The three workers were killed in a cross fire.

County Girl Leaves For Peace Corps Duty

LISBON — Miss Norma Shade, 19, of Leetonia R.D. 1 flew this morning from Youngstown Airport to New York to leave Sunday for Puerto Rico for four weeks more study before Peace Corps duty in Brazil.

Miss Shade just completed six weeks of preliminary training at the National 4-H Headquarters in Washington. The course included study of customs of Brazil, the Portuguese language and difference between the governments of Brazil and the United States.

She was given a 10-day furlough before assignment with 56 other youths to Puerto Rico. They will establish 4-C Clubs similar to 4-H Clubs.

4 Air Force Recruits Train At Texas Base

Sgt. James Lee, city Air Force recruiter, said four 1961 East Liverpool High School graduates enlisted this week and are receiving basic training at Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, Tex.

They are Carl A. Barnett, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn M. Barnett, 109 E. 6th St.; Charles F. Capwell Jr., 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Capwell, 415 Monroe St.; William H. Flanigan, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard P. Flanigan, 736 Lincoln Ave., and Robert O. Wright, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Wright, 1096 St. George St.

Capwell enlisted in the electronic career field and Barnett, Flanigan and Wright in the mechanical career field.

Ex-Mate Gets 10 Days

LISBON — Oscar Kempf, 60, of Salineville R. D. was sentenced to 10 days in the County Jail Friday by County Judge James L. MacDonald on a charge of malicious destruction of property filed by Police Chief Cleo Mellott of Salineville. Kempf's divorced wife complained he broke a $10 window in her home.

Customary Dogfight Set, Alston Says Of Loop Race

By WALTER ALSTON

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — I expect the customary dogfight for the National League pennant this season.

I know one thing for sure. We're going to have a happier bunch of left-handed hitters. That's because we're moving into the new Dodger Stadium in the Chavez Ravine. The right field fence in the Coliseum was too tough a target even for our best lefty batters such as Duke Snider, Johnny Roseboro, Willie Davis, Ron Fairly and Wally Moon. They are all looking forward to playing at the ravine where the measurements are the same down each foul line, 325 feet.

Our right-handed hitters, Frank Howard, Tommy Davis, Daryl Spencer and Norm Sherry all have enough power to reach the barriers in left field in the new park.

The new park also should make a difference to our pitchers. I know Don Drysdale, Johnny Podres, Sandy Koufax and Stan Williams are capable of winning many games. What we need is for each one of them to have a good year together.

I'm hopeful we will be fortunate enough to come up with another starting pitcher. We have more doubleheaders on our schedule than ever before.

We're expecting Howard to make it at first base. If he can't make it, Fairly proved last season he's ready for the job.

The Dodgers have plenty of speed with fellows like Maury Wills, the two Davises, Moon and Gilliam. This again is where our new park will be of great help.

If the pitching holds up the way I expect, we'll be in the thick of the dogfight all the way.

Trade Declines Between West, East Germany

BONN, Germany (AP)—Trade between West Germany and Communist East Germany declined by roughly 10 per cent during 1961, the Economics Ministry reported today.

Total trade between West and East Germany in 1961 was valued at $457.5 million with West Germany exporting goods valued at $227 million and purchasing goods totalling $229 million.

West Germany bought more gasoline and sugar but less coal, meat, wheat, ceramics and textiles than in 1960. East Germany purchased more iron and steel, nonferrous metals and wood during the same period, the Economics Ministry said.

2 Visiting Firemen Stay At Fire Station

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — Two visiting firemen from Argentina came by jeep into Glasgow today and moved in with the local fire brigade.

"Fire stations are better than hotels," said Manuel Abelairas de Castro. "We ought to know—we have stayed in more than 150 of them during the past three years. We never stay in hotels."

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of William A. Sevey who departed this life twelve years ago today, Feb. 24.
It seemeth such a little way to me
Across to that strange country, The Beyond, For it has grown to be the home of those of whom I am so fond, And so for me there is no death, It is but crossing with abated breath A little strip of sea, To find our loved ones waiting on the shore More beautiful, more precious than before.

Sadly missed by wife, son, family and friends.

HELEN F. OLIVER. In loving remembrance of our dear wife, mother and grandmother who passed away 2 years ago today, February 24, 1960. Friends may think we have forgotten, When at times they see us smile, Little do they know the heartache, That the smiles hide all the while, God gave us strength to face it, And courage to bear the blow, But what it meant to lose you, No one will ever know. — Lovingly - husband, daughters, sons, grandchildren.

3 CARDS OF THANKS

WE wish to thank all our friends and neighbors for their kind words, gifts and help, when our home was destroyed by fire. We especially thank the Highlandtown, Wellsville, and West Point Fire Dept.
Mr. and Mrs. Homer Mick

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of William A. Sevey who departed this life twelve years ago today, Feb. 24.
It seemeth such a little way to me
Across to that strange country, The Beyond, For it has grown to be the home of those of whom I am so fond, And so for me there is no death, It is but crossing with abated breath A little strip of sea, To find our loved ones waiting on the shore More beautiful, more precious than before.

Sadly missed by wife, son, family and friends.

HELEN F. OLIVER. In loving remembrance of our dear wife, mother and grandmother who passed away 2 years ago today, February 24, 1960. Friends may think we have forgotten, When at times they see us smile, Little do they know the heartache, That the smiles hide all the while, God gave us strength to face it, And courage to bear the blow, But what it meant to lose you, No one will ever know. — Lovingly - husband, daughters, sons, grandchildren.

3 CARDS OF THANKS

WE wish to thank all our friends and neighbors for their kind words, gifts and help, when our home was destroyed by fire. We especially thank the Highlandtown, Wellsville, and West Point Fire Dept.
Mr. and Mrs. Homer Mick

58 SUBURBAN PROPERTY

Don't Hesitate to ASK THESE QUESTIONS!

Certain basic facts are always made known to the purchaser of a property: how many rooms, size of lot, asking price, mortgage dates, etc.

But there are many other things you should also know. How old is the house? What kind of heat? What are the taxes? How close are schools, shopping, transportation, churches? Is the neighborhood "right" for you?

The time to find out is BEFORE you buy. Afterwards, it is too late!

Ask all the questions you like at this office. We'll see that you get the answers . . . because, in arranging your home purchase, we won't rest until YOU are completely satisfied.

Don't Hesitate to ASK THESE QUESTIONS!
Certain basic facts are always made known to the purchaser of a property: how many rooms, size of lot, asking price, mortgage dates, etc.
But there are many other things you should also know. How old is the house? What kind of heat? What are the taxes? How close are schools, shopping, transportation, churches? Is the neighborhood "right" for you?
The time to find out is BEFORE you buy. Afterwards, it is too late!
Ask all the questions you like at this office. We'll see that you get the answers . . . because, in arranging your home purchase, we won't rest until YOU are completely satisfied.

"Bill and I talked it over first, then I went down and bought it anyway."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I prevent scum from forming over the paint in a partly - used can?

A. Pour a little turpentine over the paint, being careful to float it on the surface. When ready to paint again, simply stir the turpentine in as a thinner. To preserve paint indefinitely, seal the paint in your can with some melted paraffin, as you would a jar of jelly.

Q. Do you have any suggestions for "something different" in the way of breakfast muffins?

A. Here's one good idea: Try adding one-third cup of coarsely-chopped crisp bacon to your plain muffin batter. Mix with the dry ingredients, then add the liquid.

Q. How can I easily remove seeds and pulp from green peppers when preparing them for stuffing?

A. The seeds and pulp can be taken out easily with a pair of scissors. Kitchen scissors have many such practical uses.

Q. How should bananas be baked?

A. Baked bananas are ideal for children and for nervous persons. Bake in the skin for 15 or 20 minutes, until soft and they burst the skins. Remove from the skins and place in a baking pan with very little water. Dust sugar over the tops and sprinkle with lemon juice. Serve hot.

Q. How can I relieve tired and aching feet?

A. Boric acid in the foot bath will not only relieve tired, perspiring feet, but will also remove any unpleasant odor. The druggist will tell you what proportion to use.

Q. How can I remove water marks from furniture surfaces?

A. Rub these unsightly spots with a damp cloth on which a few drops of ammonia or spirits of camphor have been sprinkled.

Junior Editors Quiz on VENTRILOQUISTS

QUESTION: How does the ventriloquist throw his voice.

ANSWER: The ventriloquist doesn't really "throw" his voice anywhere. He just makes you think he is. You know a person is far away when he calls because his voice is faint. The ventriloquist can make his voice faint, or loud, and he can muffle his voice, so you think it is coming from somewhere else. He also has learned to speak without moving his lips. This is probably the hardest part. He takes very deep breaths and closes his throat in a special way, which changes his voice and gives the illusion that the sound is coming from a distance. Ventriloquists usually have a dummy with them and the dummy's mouth opens and closes while the ventroliquist does his trick, so that it seems the dummy is talking. The conversation between the ventriloquist and his wooden-headed pal is usually very funny and the dummy usually has all the good lines. The art of ventriloquism is one of the very oldest arts. Some birds practice it —the chickadee and the dove are two who do.

FOR YOU TO DO: It takes real skill and long practice to be a successful ventriloquist. Try it sometime. You will find certain words easier to do than others.

Group Plans Trip To Show

Arrangements were completed for a trip to the Ice Follies in Pittsburgh March 17 at a meeting of the East Liverpool Senior Citizens Group Thursday afternoon in the VFW Hall. The trip will be made by chartered bus with Mrs. Rozella Hickenbottom in charge. Marlow Russell, president, presided. Sixty-six attended.

A planning committee appointed by the president includes Guy Garwood, chairman, Mrs. Hickenbottom and Austin McCoy.

The Rev. Carl Beighley, pastor of the Calvary Methodist Church, presented the group with a shuffle board and a miniature bowling alley for use in their social hour.

Mrs. Iva Fair announced additional plans for the rummage sale the week of April 16 at the rear of the City Market Building. A new member was welcomed.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Nell Pelley, devotion leader, who used Scripture from the "Upper Room" magazine. She also led the group in the flag salute and "Sweet Hour of Prayer" with Mrs. Alice Tittle pianist. The meditation was "I Give Myself Unto Prayer."

A sack lunch and a social hour followed.

Next meeting is Thursday and refreshments will be served by Mrs. Marion Rose and committee.

Union Leaders Concerned Over 3 Rail Mergers

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP)—Railroad union leaders are concerned by the possibility of not one but three giant mergers of carriers in the East.

The rail union chiefs met with heads of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads, which have proposed amalgamation. The union leaders said privately Friday night that the Pennsy and NYC spokesmen outlined plans for combining also the Baltimore & Ohio with the Chesapeake & Ohio, and for making the Norfolk & Western the nucleus of a third Eastern railroad combine.

The labor men came away from the meeting more convinced than ever that they will oppose railroad mergers.

Leaders of the railroad brotherhoods have claimed some railroads already are too big. They say also that thousands of jobs would be jeopardized by consolidation of existing lines.

Rock Collection Topic For Club

Phosphorescent rocks he has collected throughout the United States were explained by R. Max Gard, Hanoverton area rock collector and antique collector, at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

Gard pointed out the best stones collected with ultra violet light came from mining areas. He described the stones and the areas in which they were obtained.

He also explained the difference between long wave and short wave "black" light and demonstrated its use.

He was introduced by David Beatty, program chairman. Merrill Hall, vice president, presided.

Forty-three attended with Dr. Stephen Sinclair as a guest.

35 At Meeting Held By Coast Guard Unit

George Muth of Pittsburgh, training officer, was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla 7 Thursday evening at the IBOP Hall. Thirty-five attended.

Muth, introduced by Herman Miller, local commander, reviewed river charts, buoys, lighthouses and markers, and spoke on propellers and proper mooring.

Movies were screened on first aid, including artificial respiration and mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

Next meeting is Thursday when the lesson will be on motors and knot-tying.

2 Area Girls Get Jobs In Navy Department

Two more graduates of Ohio Valley Business College have accepted positions with the Navy Department at Washington. They are Miss Lindis Oler of Wellsville and Miss Theresa Ulizio of Midland, who will begin work Monday.

Other graduates home for the holiday are Miss Nancy Blythe, Miss Patricia Blythe, Miss Mary Lou Metsch and Miss Jean Cunningham, with the Navy; Miss Nancy Peck, with the Federal Trade Department; Miss Lynne Clark, with the Agricultural Department, and Miss Joyce Ann Smith, with the Treasury Department.

Ohioville Republicans Hear Woman Mayor

Mayor Evelyn F. Javens of Beaver Falls spoke on her experiences as a woman running for office at a meeting of the Ohioville Republicans Club Wednesday night in the firehall.

Mrs. John Joseph was appointed to represent the club on the Fairview Grange community service committee.

A floral centerpiece with a miniature Martha Washington, made by Mrs. Elmer Gifford, centered the buffet table.

Mrs. Mike Selak, hostess, was assisted by Mrs. Joseph and Mrs. Floyd Kidder.

Embezzler Slated For New Pen Term

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 60-year-old Troy antique collector who went to prison three years ago for embezzling $373,663 will be going back to Ohio Penitentiary soon—this time for embezzling $81 while in prison.

Daniel O. Tobias, paroled from a 2-to-14 year term last Nov. 9, was rearrested and indicted when prison officials discovered a discrepancy in his accounts as a clerk. He pleaded guilty to the charge in Franklin County Common Pleas Court Friday and received a 1-to-10 year sentence.

2 Men Suffer Burns In Hotel Explosion

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Two men were hospitalized today with burns suffered in an explosion at the Parmly Hotel in Painesville. Ralph Thompson, 50, of Chardon, and Edward Schmid, 48, of Painesville were in the basement when a hot water heater exploded.

The blast knocked out some windows and damaged the kitchen.

Firemen Officers Seated By Mayor

Mayor Donald Laughlin installed officers of the Hookstown volunteer fire department Thursday night.

They include William Laughlin, president; Donald Morgan, vice president; Eugene Frasier, chief; Howard Campbell, assistant chief, and Thomas Wright, trustee.

Robert Lyons spoke on aerial photography.

The department agreed to cooperate with the Grange in sponsoring a Red Cross first aid course. Lunch was served by Daymon Frasier.

Thirteen members of her Sunday School Class were entertained Wednesday night by Miss Jean Floyd.

Games were the diversion and devotions were led by Lisa Graham.

Lunch was served by the hostess' mother, Mrs. Leland Floyd, and Mrs. Jack Floyd.

Quads To Celebrate 21st Birthdays Today

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Lashley quadruplets planned today to celebrate their birthdays quietly—a far cry from the excitement they generated when born on a snowy February day 21 years ago.

The quads, John, Beaulah, Mildred and Martine Lashley, were born 21 years ago friday, but waited until today to observe the occasion quietly at a relative's home near Bowling Green.

The celebration "will just be a family affair," they said.

Porter Lashley, their father, still lives on his farm near Leitchfield. John lives on his father's farm and the three girls in Louisville.

The quads are still single, and as Martine said, "We're still playing the field."

Shelter Use Is Discussed

A review of "The Fallout Shelter and Its Effectiveness" was presented by Mrs. Paul Brucker at a meeting of the Industry Civil Defense Emergency Welfare Council Thursday afternoon in the borough building.

Mrs. Jack M. Peck, welfare chief, outlined preliminary survival responsibilities.

Mrs. Robert Lewis was received as a new member.

Mrs. Donald Luster was appointed Mass Care Center deputy of child care; Mrs. Lewis, deputy of first aid, and Mrs. Paul Udon, deputy of clothing. All will work with supervisors of these offices.

Twenty-five cents will be collected at each meeting to supplement future needs of the unit.

"Emergency Houskeeping" will be presented by Mrs. Luster at the meeting April 26 at 1 p. m. in the borough building. A representative of the County Council will speak on the local plan of short-term care.

Persons interested in the first aid course being offered by the unit may attend classes each Friday from 1 to 3 p. m. in the firehall.

Two Wounded In Foiled Holdup Are In Custody

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two youths wounded during a foiled holdup were in police custody today and a third who fled was sought.

Under police guard at St. Alexis Hospital were Morton Hallman and James Sims, both 17 and of Cleveland.

They were shot Friday night in an exchange of gunfire with David C. Warren, 48, owner of an East Side beverage store.

Three men entered the store and demanded money. One was armed with a gun, another a knife, and the third a blackjack.

A customer came in and the gunman concealed his weapon. Warren then drew a .32-caliber revolver from his apron and ordered the trio to surrender.

The gunman shot once. The store owner returned the fire. The bullet struck one youth in the back. Another youth dashed for the door and also was shot in the back. The third dropped his blackjack and fled on foot.

Police are running ballistic tests on a pistol carried by one of the youths. They said a similar gun was used recently in an unsolved slaying of an East Side service station attendant and the shooting of a barmaid.

Week's Jobless Claims Show Decrease Of 50

Unemployment compensation claims, totaling 616, dropped 50 this week from the number processed during the previous week, Harry L. Dinsmore, manager of the Ohio State Employment Service office, said.

Dinsmore said the total this week included 513 claims filed under the regular benefits program and 103 processed under the federal extended act. A total of 666 were handled during the week ending Feb. 17, he said.

The breakdown of this week's claims showed 61 new and 452 continuing under the regular program with 13 initial and 90 continuing through the federal law.

Industry Guild Plans Pre-Lenten Social

A pre-Lenten social, featuring a coverdish dinner, will be held for families of the St. Christine Catholic Church in Industry March 4 at 5 p. m. in the firehall.

Mrs. Leo Marciniak and Mrs. Joseph Benek are co-chairmen.

An all-wool afghan, made by Mrs. Carmella DiMaggio, will be donated.

Accordion students of Eli Sainovich will present the program.

Kickoff Event Will Be Held By Red Cross

With a National Red Cross worker as principal speaker, the local chapter will kick off its March campaign for funds with a "dutch treat" luncheon Wednesday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

Chairman Harold Sneddon announced today that Miss Gwenellen Scupholm, assistant director of personnel in the Eastern Area division of the National Red Cross, will be the speaker. Miss Schupholm has served with the Red Cross in France, North Africa and Korea.

The luncheon meeting here, is primarily intended to issue final instructions and distribute campaign supplies to all division leaders. But he emphasized that all campaign units should be represented and that all volunteer workers were welcome. He reminded, too, that any member of the local Red Cross chapter may attend (according to ARC charter, members include all those who have contributed $1 or more to Red Cross during the past year).

Luncheon reservations may be made up to 4 p.m. Monday either at Red Cross headquarters (phone 386-4144) or with Sneddon's office, (385-7000).

City Worker, 24, Hurt In Accident

William R. McCune, 24, of 514 Market St., an employe of the sewage treatment plant in West End, is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with a possible skull fracture and a scalp laceration suffered Friday when he bumped his head on an overhead piece of angle iron while at work in the sewage system's Pleasant Heights lift station on Lisbon St.

Patrolmen E. R. Furgason and William A. Devon investigated after McCune was taken to the hospital unconscious shortly before noon.

They learned that McCune was at work in the Lisbon St. station with Fred Kane, city electrician, and George Fone, Kane's assistant, when he bumped his head on the angle iron while rising to a standing position. Kane and Fone said they drove McCune to the treatment plant in West End for first aid treatment.

McCune washed the cut on his scalp, but when ointment was applied to the spot he lost consciousness, toppling against Plant Supt. Charles Huddlestun. The city employes then summoned an ambulance to remove him to the hospital.

Veteran Actor Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Rodney Hildebrand, veteran actor who was in motion pictures from the silent era through the early 1950s, died Thursday of a heart attack. Hildebrand, who was 69, also appeared in such Broadway shows as "Kiki," "Elmer the Great" and "What Price Glory."

115 At Dinner Of Cub Pack

About 115 persons attended the annual Blue and Gold dinner of Cub Pack 36 at the Longs Run Presbyterian Church Thursday evening.

Ed Adkins, neighborhood commissioner, was guest speaker, discussing "The Right to Fail."

Glenn Morris, cubmaster, presented awards to Bobby Nally, Ernie Skidmore and Danny Sims, wolf badge; Marty Lamping, Randy White, Richard Walker and Ken Cross, gold arrow; Paul Copestick, gold and silver arrows and one-year pin; Donald Bangor, silver arrow; Robert Trotter and Steve Cross, bear badge and two-year pin; Donald Dailey, gold and silver arrows and bear badge; Ken Burt, lion badge, and Bob Copestick, three-year pin and den chief braid.

Mrs. Ruth Green, den mother, received a three-year pin.

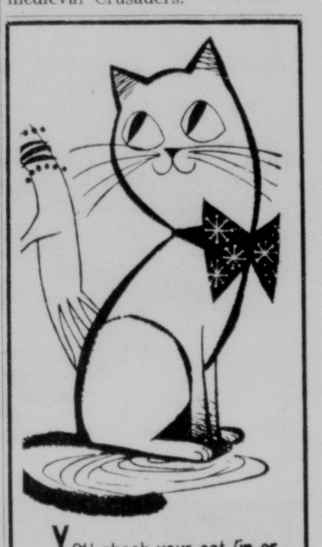

Bill Thomas was introduced as the new institutional representative and Don Lyle, scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 36, invited the cubs to join the troop when eligible.

Den 9 presented a skit about seven presidents from Ohio and also displayed handicraft.

Mrs. Evelyn Copestick and Mrs. Green introduced the den mothers, committeemen and den chief.

The Rev. Robert Fogal gave the opening prayer and benediction and Dens 3 and 6 led the flag ceremony.

The well-known military bugle call, "Retreat," is of very ancient origin. It is one of the few calls known to have been used by the medieval Crusaders.

Group Plans Trip To Show

Arrangements were completed for a trip to the Ice Follies in Pittsburgh March 17 at a meeting of the East Liverpool Senior Citizens Group Thursday afternoon in the VFW Hall. The trip will be made by chartered bus with Mrs. Rozella Hickenbottom in charge. Marlow Russell, president, presided. Sixty-six attended.

A planning committee appointed by the president includes Guy Garwood, chairman, Mrs. Hickenbottom and Austin McCoy.

The Rev. Carl Beighley, pastor of the Calvary Methodist Church, presented the group with a shuffle board and a miniature bowling alley for use in their social hour.

Mrs. Iva Fair announced additional plans for the rummage sale the week of April 16 at the rear of the City Market Building. A new member was welcomed.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Nell Pelley, devotion leader, who used Scripture from the "Upper Room" magazine. She also led the group in the flag salute and "Sweet Hour of Prayer" with Mrs. Alice Tittle pianist. The meditation was "I Give Myself Unto Prayer."

A sack lunch and a social hour followed.

Next meeting is Thursday and refreshments will be served by Mrs. Marion Rose and committee.

Union Leaders Concerned Over 3 Rail Mergers

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP)—Railroad union leaders are concerned by the possibility of not one but three giant mergers of carriers in the East.

The rail union chiefs met with heads of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads, which have proposed amalgamation. The union leaders said privately Friday night that the Pennsy and NYC spokesmen outlined plans for combining also the Baltimore & Ohio with the Chesapeake & Ohio, and for making the Norfolk & Western the nucleus of a third Eastern railroad combine.

The labor men came away from the meeting more convinced than ever that they will oppose railroad mergers.

Leaders of the railroad brotherhoods have claimed some railroads already are too big. They say also that thousands of jobs would be jeopardized by consolidation of existing lines.

Rock Collection Topic For Club

Phosphorescent rocks he has collected throughout the United States were explained by R. Max Gard, Hanoverton area rock collector and antique collector, at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

Gard pointed out the best stones collected with ultra violet light came from mining areas. He described the stones and the areas in which they were obtained.

He also explained the difference between long wave and short wave "black" light and demonstrated its use.

He was introduced by David Beatty, program chairman. Merrill Hall, vice president, presided.

Forty-three attended with Dr. Stephen Sinclair as a guest.

35 At Meeting Held By Coast Guard Unit

George Muth of Pittsburgh, training officer, was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla 7 Thursday evening at the IBOP Hall. Thirty-five attended.

Muth, introduced by Herman Miller, local commander, reviewed river charts, buoys, lighthouses and markers, and spoke on propellers and proper mooring.

Movies were screened on first aid, including artificial respiration and mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

Next meeting is Thursday when the lesson will be on motors and knot-tying.

Ohioville Republicans Hear Woman Mayor

Mayor Evelyn F. Javens of Beaver Falls spoke on her experiences as a woman running for office at a meeting of the Ohioville Republicans Club Wednesday night in the firehall.

Mrs. John Joseph was appointed to represent the club on the Fairview Grange community service committee.

A floral centerpiece with a miniature Martha Washington, made by Mrs. Elmer Gifford, centered the buffet table.

Mrs. Mike Selak, hostess, was assisted by Mrs. Joseph and Mrs. Floyd Kidder.

Embezzler Slated For New Pen Term

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 60-year-old Troy antique collector who went to prison three years ago for embezzling $373,663 will be going back to Ohio Penitentiary soon—this time for embezzling $81 while in prison.

Daniel O. Tobias, paroled from a 2-to-14 year term last Nov. 9, was rearrested and indicted when prison officials discovered a discrepancy in his accounts as a clerk. He pleaded guilty to the charge in Franklin County Common Pleas Court Friday and received a 1-to-10 year sentence.

2 Men Suffer Burns In Hotel Explosion

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Two men were hospitalized today with burns suffered in an explosion at the Parmly Hotel in Painesville. Ralph Thompson, 50, of Chardon, and Edward Schmid, 48, of Painesville were in the basement when a hot water heater exploded.

The blast knocked out some windows and damaged the kitchen.

Firemen Officers Seated By Mayor

Mayor Donald Laughlin installed officers of the Hookstown volunteer fire department Thursday night.

Robert Lyons spoke on aerial photography.

The department agreed to cooperate with the Grange in sponsoring a Red Cross first aid course. Lunch was served by Daymon Frasier.

Thirteen members of her Sunday School Class were entertained Wednesday night by Miss Jean Floyd.

Games were the diversion and devotions were led by Lisa Graham.

Quads To Celebrate 21st Birthdays Today

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Lashley quadruplets planned today to celebrate their birthdays quietly—a far cry from the excitement they generated when born on a snowy February day 21 years ago.

The quads, John, Beaulah, Mildred and Martine Lashley, were born 21 years ago friday, but waited until today to observe the occasion quietly at a relative's home near Bowling Green.

The celebration "will just be a family affair," they said.

Porter Lashley, their father, still lives on his farm near Leitchfield. John lives on his father's farm and the three girls in Louisville.

The quads are still single, and as Martine said, "We're still playing the field."

Shelter Use Is Discussed

A review of "The Fallout Shelter and Its Effectiveness" was presented by Mrs. Paul Brucker at a meeting of the Industry Civil Defense Emergency Welfare Council Thursday afternoon in the borough building.

Mrs. Jack M. Peck, welfare chief, outlined preliminary survival responsibilities.

Mrs. Robert Lewis was received as a new member.

Mrs. Donald Luster was appointed Mass Care Center deputy of child care; Mrs. Lewis, deputy of first aid, and Mrs. Paul Udon, deputy of clothing. All will work with supervisors of these offices.

Twenty-five cents will be collected at each meeting to supplement future needs of the unit.

"Emergency Houskeeping" will be presented by Mrs. Luster at the meeting April 26 at 1 p. m. in the borough building. A representative of the County Council will speak on the local plan of short-term care.

Persons interested in the first aid course being offered by the unit may attend classes each Friday from 1 to 3 p. m. in the firehall.

Two Wounded In Foiled Holdup Are In Custody

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two youths wounded during a foiled holdup were in police custody today and a third who fled was sought.

Under police guard at St. Alexis Hospital were Morton Hallman and James Sims, both 17 and of Cleveland.

They were shot Friday night in an exchange of gunfire with David C. Warren, 48, owner of an East Side beverage store.

Three men entered the store and demanded money. One was armed with a gun, another a knife, and the third a blackjack.

A customer came in and the gunman concealed his weapon. Warren then drew a .32-caliber revolver from his apron and ordered the trio to surrender.

The gunman shot once. The store owner returned the fire. The bullet struck one youth in the back. Another youth dashed for the door and also was shot in the back. The third dropped his blackjack and fled on foot.

Police are running ballistic tests on a pistol carried by one of the youths. They said a similar gun was used recently in an unsolved slaying of an East Side service station attendant and the shooting of a barmaid.

Week's Jobless Claims Show Decrease Of 50

Unemployment compensation claims, totaling 616, dropped 50 this week from the number processed during the previous week, Harry L. Dinsmore, manager of the Ohio State Employment Service office, said.

Dinsmore said the total this week included 513 claims filed under the regular benefits program and 103 processed under the federal extended act. A total of 666 were handled during the week ending Feb. 17, he said.

The breakdown of this week's claims showed 61 new and 452 continuing under the regular program with 13 initial and 90 continuing through the federal law.

Industry Guild Plans Pre-Lenten Social

A pre-Lenten social, featuring a coverdish dinner, will be held for families of the St. Christine Catholic Church in Industry March 4 at 5 p. m. in the firehall.

Mrs. Leo Marciniak and Mrs. Joseph Benek are co-chairmen.

An all-wool afghan, made by Mrs. Carmella DiMaggio, will be donated.

Accordion students of Eli Sainovich will present the program.

Kickoff Event Will Be Held By Red Cross

With a National Red Cross worker as principal speaker, the local chapter will kick off its March campaign for funds with a "dutch treat" luncheon Wednesday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

Chairman Harold Sneddon announced today that Miss Gwenellen Scupholm, assistant director of personnel in the Eastern Area division of the National Red Cross, will be the speaker. Miss Schupholm has served with the Red Cross in France, North Africa and Korea.

The luncheon meeting here, is primarily intended to issue final instructions and distribute campaign supplies to all division leaders. But he emphasized that all campaign units should be represented and that all volunteer workers were welcome. He reminded, too, that any member of the local Red Cross chapter may attend (according to ARC charter, members include all those who have contributed $1 or more to Red Cross during the past year).

Luncheon reservations may be made up to 4 p.m. Monday either at Red Cross headquarters (phone 386-4144) or with Sneddon's office, (385-7000).

City Worker, 24, Hurt In Accident

William R. McCune, 24, of 514 Market St., an employe of the sewage treatment plant in West End, is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with a possible skull fracture and a scalp laceration suffered Friday when he bumped his head on an overhead piece of angle iron while at work in the sewage system's Pleasant Heights lift station on Lisbon St.

Patrolmen E. R. Furgason and William A. Devon investigated after McCune was taken to the hospital unconscious shortly before noon.

They learned that McCune was at work in the Lisbon St. station with Fred Kane, city electrician, and George Fone, Kane's assistant, when he bumped his head on the angle iron while rising to a standing position. Kane and Fone said they drove McCune to the treatment plant in West End for first aid treatment.

McCune washed the cut on his scalp, but when ointment was applied to the spot he lost consciousness, toppling against Plant Supt. Charles Huddlestun. The city employes then summoned an ambulance to remove him to the hospital.

Veteran Actor Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Rodney Hildebrand, veteran actor who was in motion pictures from the silent era through the early 1950s, died Thursday of a heart attack. Hildebrand, who was 69, also appeared in such Broadway shows as "Kiki," "Elmer the Great" and "What Price Glory."

115 At Dinner Of Cub Pack

About 115 persons attended the annual Blue and Gold dinner of Cub Pack 36 at the Longs Run Presbyterian Church Thursday evening.

Ed Adkins, neighborhood commissioner, was guest speaker, discussing "The Right to Fail."

Glenn Morris, cubmaster, presented awards to Bobby Nally, Ernie Skidmore and Danny Sims, wolf badge; Marty Lamping, Randy White, Richard Walker and Ken Cross, gold arrow; Paul Copestick, gold and silver arrows and one-year pin; Donald Bangor, silver arrow; Robert Trotter and Steve Cross, bear badge and two-year pin; Donald Dailey, gold and silver arrows and bear badge; Ken Burt, lion badge, and Bob Copestick, three-year pin and den chief braid.

Mrs. Ruth Green, den mother, received a three-year pin.

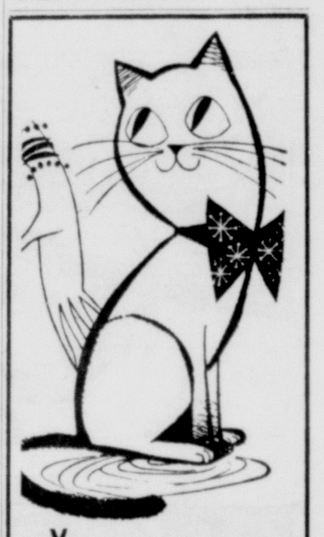

Bill Thomas was introduced as the new institutional representative and Don Lyle, scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 36, invited the cubs to join the troop when eligible.

Den 9 presented a skit about seven presidents from Ohio and also displayed handicraft.

Mrs. Evelyn Copestick and Mrs. Green introduced the den mothers, committeemen and den chief.

The Rev. Robert Fogal gave the opening prayer and benediction and Dens 3 and 6 led the flag ceremony.

The well-known military bugle call, "Retreat," is of very ancient origin. It is one of the few calls known to have been used by the medieval Crusaders.

THE AMERICAN GEOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY invites you to accept this exciting new "Stereo Tour" of ENGLAND . . . with 3-Dimensional Viewer and Slides, Record and Wall Map . . . an Amazing Value for only 10¢ . . . to introduce you to the Around the World Program

YES, just one dime takes you on a "magic carpet stereo tour" of Merrie England. Through the magic of 3-dimensional slides and a hi-fi record, you can explore the wondrous sights and sounds of this storied island. In your first album you will see the thatch-roofed cottage of Shakespeare's bride, Anne Hathaway . . . the White Cliffs of Dover . . . "the original round table of King Arthur," a circle of thick oak 17 feet across . . . the strange monuments of Stonehenge.

You will ride a double-decker bus through Piccadilly Circus, actually hear the chimes of Big Ben and the "Ceremony of the Keyes" in the Tower of London. You'll visit the foundry where our own Liberty Bell was cast . . . and rest in the shade of the trees in Robin Hood's Sherwood Forest. You will get to know more about England than many tourists who actually visit there in person!

How You "Visit" a Different Land Each Month

THE AMERICAN GEOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY makes this generous offer to acquaint you with a new kind of educational hobby — an exciting way for young and old alike to discover and learn about the fascinating people and lands of our wonderful world.

Each month you receive a set of full-color gummed color prints, and an informative illustrated guidebook album with spaces for mounting them, as well as a set of full-color, 3-dimension slides — if you wish. By means of these slides, prints and albums, prepared under the guidance of American Geographical Society experts, you and your family "visit" a different country every month. You go sight-seeing in strange cities, observe native customs and crafts, hear stories of great battles, national heroes, legends.

Helps Children in School and in Later Life, Too!

Here is an educational hobby for the whole family. It will give children a tremendous advantage not only in school but in later life too — in a world where the most distant countries are only hours away by air. You also will find this an enjoyable way of planning trips abroad — or re-living those you treasure in your memory.

I "Sighted Sub—Sank Same"

Twenty years ago, this Navy flyer commanded the first U. S. crew to sink a U-boat; here's his thrilling story of the adventure —and the slogan that made history

By Comdr. DONALD F. MASON, U. S. N. (ret.)
as told to Peer J. Oppenheimer

Comdr. Donald F. Mason was born in Rochester, Minn., in 1913 and joined the Navy in 1935. The Commander was credited with three successful attacks on submarines. His terse report, "Sighted sub—sank same," when he sank an enemy submarine in World War II, became one of the famous slogans of the war. He retired from the service in 1955, and now lives with his wife in Oxnard, Calif.

FEB. 26, 1942, started out like any other wintry day at the American air base in Newfoundland. The temperature was close to zero, there was a heavy overcast at about 600 feet, and slight snowfall.

I had gotten up at daybreak, assembled my crew after breakfast, climbed into the twin-engine land-based Lockheed Hudson, and taken off on a routine mission—sweeping an arc of about 370 miles on convoy and antisubmarine duty, just as we had done the past 30 days.

After an uneventful flight, my three-man crew and I returned to base six hours later. No sooner had I climbed out of the cockpit than a messenger ordered me to the squadron duty officer. I got orders to get back in the plane as soon as it was refueled and check on a convoy headed toward England.

Unfortunately, or as it turned out later, fortunately, the squadron duty officer gave me the wrong latitude and longitude. When we reached the supposed meeting point, instead of finding a large convoy, we saw only a single cargo ship.

A few minutes after leaving the cargo ship, I saw what appeared to be a white feather streaking through the ocean. It was caused by a submarine cruising about 50 feet below surface at top speed, with the periscope cutting through the water.

My first reaction was one of surprise and disbelief. Ordinarily, no submarine captain, friend or enemy, ever kept a periscope up long enough to cause such an obvious giveaway sign unless he were absolutely certain there was no danger of unfriendly aircraft flying overhead. Furthermore, his eagerness to get where he was going indicated he was preparing to get into position for a kill. His victim could only be the cargo ship I had left behind.

My crew and I had waited and hoped for an opportunity like this since we had finished training at Pensacola, Fla. Yet none of us really knew what his reaction would be.

TO MY SURPRISE, all of us took it calmly. The months of training were paying off. I reduced the speed of the plane and when I came close enough, dropped the two bombs—one on either side of the periscope. We made two perfect hits! Upon explosion of the depth charges, the submarine lost control and inadvertently was blown to the surface.

A few seconds later, it went down—leaving a trail of foam and oil as it disappeared. It was then that I sent a four-word message to the base commander: "Sighted sub—sank same."

We had been calm before, but now we were exuberant, yelling at each other at the top of our voices. We must have been more tense than we realized.

We circled the area for almost an hour till lack of fuel forced us back to the base. There had been no sight of any survivors.

AS I LANDED the plane on the base runway with little more than a few gallons of gas left, we were all feeling pretty darned good at being the first American crew to sink an enemy submarine in World War II. I felt particularly proud since I was among the 10 percent of noncommissioned officers with pilot ratings.

By coincidence, the Senior Naval Officer for the North Atlantic area happened to be in port that day and asked me to report to him. When I stepped before him, he greeted me with, "That was a job well done, Chief." He thus informed me that I had been promoted from First Class Petty Officer to Chief!

None of my subsequent promotions—I became an ensign when I sank my second sub a month later, and eventually rose to the rank of Commander before I retired in 1955—meant so much to me as this on-the-spot promotion.

But even that didn't equal the excitement of hearing three months later that my brief message announcing the kill had made such an impact on Americans—that in morale-building at a desperate time in American history, it could also be credited with a "job well done."

I "Sighted Sub—Sank Same"

Twenty years ago, this Navy flyer commanded the first U. S. crew to sink a U-boat; here's his thrilling story of the adventure —and the slogan that made history

By Comdr. DONALD F. MASON, U. S. N. (ret.)
as told to Peer J. Oppenheimer

Comdr. Donald F. Mason was born in Rochester, Minn., in 1913 and joined the Navy in 1935. The Commander was credited with three successful attacks on submarines. His terse report, "Sighted sub—sank same," when he sank an enemy submarine in World War II, became one of the famous slogans of the war. He retired from the service in 1955, and now lives with his wife in Oxnard, Calif.

More If's Than Arf's

If you can keep on smiling
And looking at your best
With dog hair on your trousers
And paw prints on your chest;

If you don't object to rising
At the faintest crack of dawn
And strolling outdoors in the rain
With just your bathrobe on;

If you can keep your temper
And discount with a shrug
Puddles in the hallway
And stains upon the rug;

If you can calm a neighbor
Whose garden's been dug up
You're the kind of parent
Whose child should have a pup.

It was one of those tear-jerking daytime television shows in which contestants vie with each other in telling their woes. One woman stepped before the camera and soon had the audience in tears with her troubles.

"Things are just terrible," she explained. "We need help. Our baby hasn't got a bed, and if I win today that's the first thing I will buy."

"And what is the poor child using for a bed now?" asked the TV host.

"Oh," she replied, "we're using the crate our new television set came in."

The new teacher insisted on field trips for her young charges. One day she took the little pupils to the local art gallery, where students were diligently painting.

"Watch, now," the teacher said, "see how an artist can take a brush and with a single stroke can change a smile into a frown. Isn't that wonderful?"

"Huh!" exclaimed one tyke. "My Mom can do that, too—and without even having to think twice about it!"

When childhood constipation occurs

More mothers use Fletcher's Castoria than any other laxative

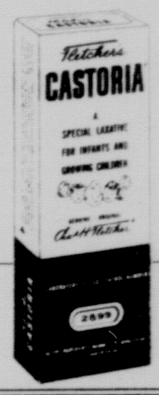

Because

Fletcher's Castoria gives the prompt, yet natural-like relief from temporary constipation that medical authorities agree is best for a child's young system. Its pure extract of Senna is considered one of nature's finest vegetable laxative products.

Fletcher's Castoria is gentle, the prime requisite for a child's laxative. It contains none of the harsh drugs so often found in adult laxatives, drugs that can upset your child's system.

Fletcher's Castoria is liquid, so exact dosage is sure: from drops to teaspoonfuls as needed. Very important, too, Castoria tastes good. So children take it willingly, even lick the spoon.

Fletcher's Castoria is the only nationally-recognized laxative made especially for children of all ages. So why take chances . . . the laxative that's "right" for you can well be "wrong" for your child. Get famous Fletcher's Castoria today.

Shrinks Hemorrhoids New Way Without Surgery

STOPS ITCH — RELIEVES PAIN

For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. Ask for it at all drug counters.

A Hole in Your Hand!

By Tom Jones

Make a round tube by rolling up a sheet of paper. Hold it up to your right eye with your right hand and look through the hole. Your left eye must be closed. Now, with fingers close together, take your left hand and put your palm in front of your left eye—not too close—about half as far from your face as your tube is long. Let your left hand, held this way, move over till you can touch the side of the tube with your little finger. The tube, of course, will be at a right angle to your left hand.

Now open your left eye and with both eyes look directly ahead. Your right eye, you remember, is still looking through the hole in the tube.

Doesn't it look as though you have a hole in your left hand?

IS THERE SUCH A THING AS A SPECIAL LAXATIVE FOR WOMEN?

So many women are asking this important question.

The answer is—yes. A remarkable new medical discovery called Dioctyl Sodium Sulfosuccinate has now made possible a special new laxative for a woman's sensitive system. We call it Correctol®.

Correctol works two ways. First, its miracle ingredient takes advantage of the natural moisture in your system. Second, its mild laxative acts gently but most effectively. Working together, Correctol's two active ingredients give a woman more natural relief than any ordinary laxative can.

Correctol is recommended any time in a woman's life, even during and after pregnancy.

Try gentle, hospital-tested Correctol . . . bearing the Good Housekeeping Seal. Ask your druggist for Correctol.

IS THERE SUCH A THING AS A SPECIAL LAXATIVE FOR WOMEN?

So many women are asking this important question.

The answer is—yes. A remarkable new medical discovery called Dioctyl Sodium Sulfosuccinate has now made possible a special new laxative for a woman's sensitive system. We call it Correctol®.

Correctol works two ways. First, its miracle ingredient takes advantage of the natural moisture in your system. Second, its mild laxative acts gently but most effectively. Working together, Correctol's two active ingredients give a woman more natural relief than any ordinary laxative can.

Correctol is recommended any time in a woman's life, even during and after pregnancy.

Try gentle, hospital-tested Correctol . . . bearing the Good Housekeeping Seal. Ask your druggist for Correctol.

Let's Stop High-School Drop

ONE EVENING last year, 16-year-old Johnny, a husky youngster tall for his age, firmly announced to his shocked parents: "I'm sick and tired of teachers, and I'm not getting anything out of book learning anyway. What I want is a job—to earn my own money, be independent, and buy a car. I'm old enough now, so I'm quitting school."

Johnny's grades had been low, and he had been falling behind in his studies until he felt he could never catch up. Yet he had enough intelligence to finish high school if he wished.

The boy's first job, in the small Midwest city where he lived, was in a supermarket that paid him a dollar an hour. After that, he worked as a trucker's helper and at other odd jobs. At the state employment office, where Johnny was registered as an "unskilled laborer" who had gone only as far as the 10th grade, there were too few openings for boys like him. Floundering, discouraged, he took to loitering around street corners with other unemployed young men.

Unless he returns to school, this boy will probably never recover ground he lost in not equipping himself vocationally. Yet Johnny is only one of nearly one million boys and girls who each year turn their backs on high school.

In the coming decade, with enrollments increasing as a result of the population explosion, we can expect an appalling dropout of 12 million young people, unless the tide can be turned.

Dr. James B. Conant, who has made far-reaching reports on the nation's schools, recently referred to the dropout problem as "social dynamite . . . a serious threat to our free society." From every point of view, early school leavers represent a huge waste of human resources to the country as well as to the individuals themselves.

Dangers and Handicaps

Studies indicate that delinquency occurs 10 times as often among dropouts as among stay-ins. At one reformatory in Washington, D. C., for example, 85 percent of the inmates had not completed high school.

Girls who forsake school for early marriage are unlikely to be mature enough to cope with family problems. Without a fair education, they are almost certain to lack the sense of security a woman needs for an adequate relationship with a husband and children.

Without a high-school diploma, jobs are not easy to find these days. Of the million or so 16- to 17-year-olds who withdrew from school last year, little more than half are now em-proposition. Eastern Ohio, too, has turned up some greats (most notably OSU's John Havlicek of Lansing) with a cradle-to-college cage program.

In large cities such as Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, and Cincinnati, basketball on the high-school level is played with gusto almost year-round. Much college talent is reaped from these cities alone, as the rosters will verify.

In big-time basketball, Ohio can trace its climb after World War II to the Cincinnati Bearcats. Cincinnati had a ripe recruiting field across the Ohio River in Kentucky and eventually became a national leader with products from high schools throughout the basketball-conscious Midwest. Their most famous name, Oscar Robertson, came from Indianapolis, Ind. He chose Cincinnati because it played all over the country and also offered an educational program combining on-job training with classroom work.

John Havlicek is eastern Ohio's contribution and captain of the Ohio State team.

Cincinnati kept right on rolling at the powerhouse level in the nation after Oscar Robertson departed. Such names as Ron Bonham of Muncie, Ind., and Paul Hogue of Knoxville, Tenn., now make the headlines. University officials credit alumni and friends for the success.

"Our coaches couldn't begin to scout the thousands of great players this area produces," a spokesman says. "We get hundreds of letters from alumni and friends directing us to good talent."

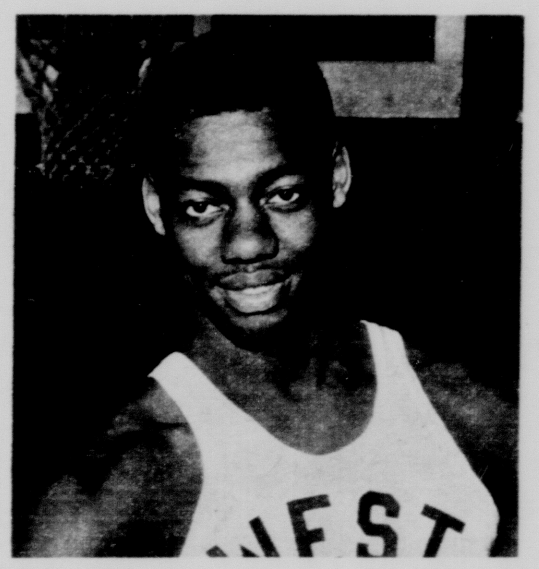

In most cases, though, Ohio uses home-grown products for its basketball machines. Bowling Green rebounded to great heights this season largely on the high shoulders of Ohio products, 6-foot-10 Nate Thurmond of Akron and floorman Bobby Dawson of East Liverpool. It's Thurmond who has given Bowling Green the strength around the backboards, and coupled with veteran coach Harold Anderson's keen teaching ability, the Falcons are on their way up.

Coaching, both at high-school and college levels, and community enthusiasm are the major factors in Ohio's basketball prominence. For instance, Canton high-school coaches have movies taken of their home games, and the players are graded for their efficiency. It's a chapter borrowed from football, but the coaches insist it has its merits.

The popularity of basketball, on the other hand, is reflected over the entire state. As numerous consolidations of smaller schools take place, one of the prominent features of building plans are gymnasiums with seating capacities capable of accommodating sizeable crowds. Community field houses are springing up, and blacktopped parks are being equipped with more practice hoops.

HIGH-SCHOOL COACHES still shoot for good season records, but they now point for tournament time, too. The stress is on bringing their teams along so they will be primed for their best effort during the February-March tournaments.

That means the next few weeks will see Ohio (and every other state with basketball fever) watching the tournament slates and trying to pick out tomorrow's college stars. Watching most closely will be coaches and scouts from the Ohio basketball circuit. The coming tournaments are the gold mines where future stars are mined—and Ohio has no intention of going bankrupt in the world of basketball affluence.

Oscar Robertson, imported from Indiana's basketball hotbed and now a professional, gained stardom at Cincinnati University.

ployed. When they do find jobs—generally in bottom-rung, low-paid drudgery—they are usually the first to be laid off during recessions.

In the face of such handicaps, why is there such a great dropout rate in our schools? Various recent studies have demonstrated that lack of intelligence to do the work is only a partial factor. The real tragedy is that a majority of these youngsters are capable of average, or better, success in school.

Sometimes the student and his parents believe that the "school of hard knocks" teaches more than the classroom, and many parents think "good money" can be earned immediately. A dropout who comes from a family crippled by divorce or separation has probably missed the encouragement of devoted parents.

If a boy has been labeled "slow" at school, a job—no matter how lowly—will seem to buy importance, give him a badge of manhood. Primarily, he may lack motivation, failing to see a purpose in staying at school.

A survey in one school system showed that most dropouts were due to dissatisfaction with certain courses and teaching methods. The potential school leaver felt frustrated as he saw no relation between life and what he was being taught. However, parents must understand that when a child drops out of high school, the school should not necessarily be blamed for lack of holding power.

Ten Steps to Prevent It

Whatever the reasons, parents who do not need a child's earnings immediately and are anxious to have him complete his schooling should not feel helpless to prevent withdrawal. Here are some constructive suggestions:

1. Be alert to continued truancy, a symptom of unhappiness at school and often a warning of imminent withdrawal. Watch your child particularly in the 10th grade when, records indicate, the greatest proportion of dropouts occur. The student is then 16, approaching the legal age when in most states he is free to leave school.

2. A potential dropout can often be identified at the time he enters high school. Such children may be overage or dull; lack interest in school; read far below their mental age level; be frequently tardy or absent; or be antagonistic toward teacher or principal.

If your child falls into any of these categories, you have the obligation to seek the advice of his teacher, principal, or guidance counselor. When the cause has been determined, satisfactory solutions often can be found.

3. If you know your child is constantly failing in academic subjects, try to switch him to other courses which are more appealing to his interests and abilities. Arrange to have him take an aptitude test at school, the State Employment Service, your local "Y," the nearest university, or a private testing agency.

Have the youngster visit plants or shops where he can talk with people in the occupation that interests him. He will learn that most skilled unions will not accept a member without a high-school education. School might then become more meaningful to him.

4. For a child who is academic-minded but making poor grades, try to get tutoring help. Some schools now have afterhours sessions where teachers assist pupils who have fallen behind. Or you may recruit a friend who excels in the subject. (A community in Maryland has a home-study group run by parents to perk up students demoralized by low grades.) Where schools have summer sessions, encourage your child to catch up on his weak subjects this way.

5. Set aside a definite time for homework and hold him to the schedule. If practicable, he should have a well-lighted, private place to work without interruption.

6. Does he say he "hates" school or is bored with it? Spur him to take part in an extracurricular activity so that he can identify himself with the school. Find out whether it sponsors hobby clubs and learn what fascinates him. Once he shares in the total life of the school, his academic work is apt to improve.

7. Researchers have found that often a pupil's poor reading ability is closely related to his distaste for school and desire to leave. Parents, therefore, should do all they can—as, of course, our schools try to do—to get children into the reading habit.

Biographies are a good bet. For a sports-minded boy, they may be about baseball heroes; for girls intrigued by nursing, perhaps a biography of Florence Nightingale. Where a school offers a course in remedial reading, arrange to have the child take it, if necessary.

8. See the school principal or guidance counselor; speak about your problem, and ask if a teacher could take a personal interest. The feeling that someone at school considers him worthwhile may dissuade a potential dropout.

Cite the Cold, Hard Facts

9. If your child has hinted at leaving school, calmly cite the cold, hard facts I've mentioned about how hard it is for those without a high-school education to land a well-paying job. Point out how shortsighted he would be—that according to U. S. Census Bureau reports, a high-school diploma is worth more than a quarter-million dollars in lifetime earnings.

This large sum is about twice as much as the nongraduate can expect and about $50,000 more than the 10th-grade dropout can.

10. Remember that the most crucial influence on your child is your own attitude. While encouraging him to do his best, avoid undue pressure that would only add to his feelings of inadequacy. At home, a child should find the love, understanding, and emotional security so essential to the development of all young persons.

What can the school do about dropouts? Obviously, the curriculum should be flexible.

A Purdue University survey of 15,000 teenagers disclosed that one-third of them wanted courses not available in their schools. By offering elective courses in various specialized areas, a school could encourage a pupil to remain.

Combining Work and Study

In later grades, a combination work-and-study program might provide enough incentive to keep students at school. Chicago launched a project, now common, in which high-school juniors and seniors are permitted to work, alternately, two weeks at a cooperating department store and two weeks at school.

When a student's family is in financial need, schools can try to work out a solution—for instance, by giving the pupil a job in the lunchroom. The PTA or other civic groups can pitch in with essential school expenses. Community agencies can be enlisted to assist the family. Local employers and unions can be asked to provide after-school and summer jobs for him.

Adequate provisions should be made for the critical break from junior to senior high school. Pupils should understand what high school has to offer them and the ultimate value of completing their education. At schools where guidance has been emphasized, dropouts have decreased sharply.

Additional guidance counseling is sorely needed by the nation's schools, particularly in elementary schools where the potential dropout can be caught early and helped. More varied extracurricular activities, organized to involve as many pupils as possible, will also add much to a school's holding power.

Where schools have sprung into action with imaginative planning and a sympathetic understanding of the problem, teen-agers have been salvaged. A noteworthy current rescue project is "Higher Horizons" in New York City, where a long-range program in underprivileged areas has raised students' educational sights so that 39 percent more of them finish high school than in previous years.

Every American child is entitled to a full high-school education. It is up to our schools, communities, and parents to see that our young people are given at least the promise of a good life. Let's keep them in school!

The PTA or other civic groups can pitch in with essential school expenses. Community agencies can be enlisted to assist the family. Local employers and unions can be asked to provide after-school and summer jobs for him.

Adequate provisions should be made for the critical break from junior to senior high school. Pupils should understand what high school has to offer them and the ultimate value of completing their education. At schools where guidance has been emphasized, dropouts have decreased sharply.

Additional guidance counseling is sorely needed by the nation's schools, particularly in elementary schools where the potential dropout can be caught early and helped. More varied extracurricular activities, organized to involve as many pupils as possible, will also add much to a school's holding power.

Where schools have sprung into action with imaginative planning and a sympathetic understanding of the problem, teen-agers have been salvaged. A noteworthy current rescue project is "Higher Horizons" in New York City, where a long-range program in underprivileged areas has raised students' educational sights so that 39 percent more of them finish high school than in previous years.

Every American child is entitled to a full high-school education. It is up to our schools, communities, and parents to see that our young people are given at least the promise of a good life. Let's keep them in school!

Ohio—Hot Spot

From toddlers to community leaders, they're crazy as Ohio State, Cincinnati, Bowling Green

SPORT-PAGE CARTOONISTS like to spell Ohio with two round Os —representing baskets—with an elongated H and I between to represent its towering basketball players.

The fanciful art work isn't overly imaginative. Ohio is basketball these days with some of the greatest powerhouses in history within its borders. For the past couple of years, the No. 1 and No. 2 teams have been either Ohio State University or Cincinnati. Bowling Green usually is up among the top 10, and other ranking spoilers are Dayton and Toledo.

The phenomenon is something of a switch. Traditionally, Indiana and Kentucky have enjoyed national prestige as kingdoms of basketball. What brought Ohio to the forefront? You might say brainwashing—giving babes a basketball instead of a pacifier and, if need be, raiding other states for the best.

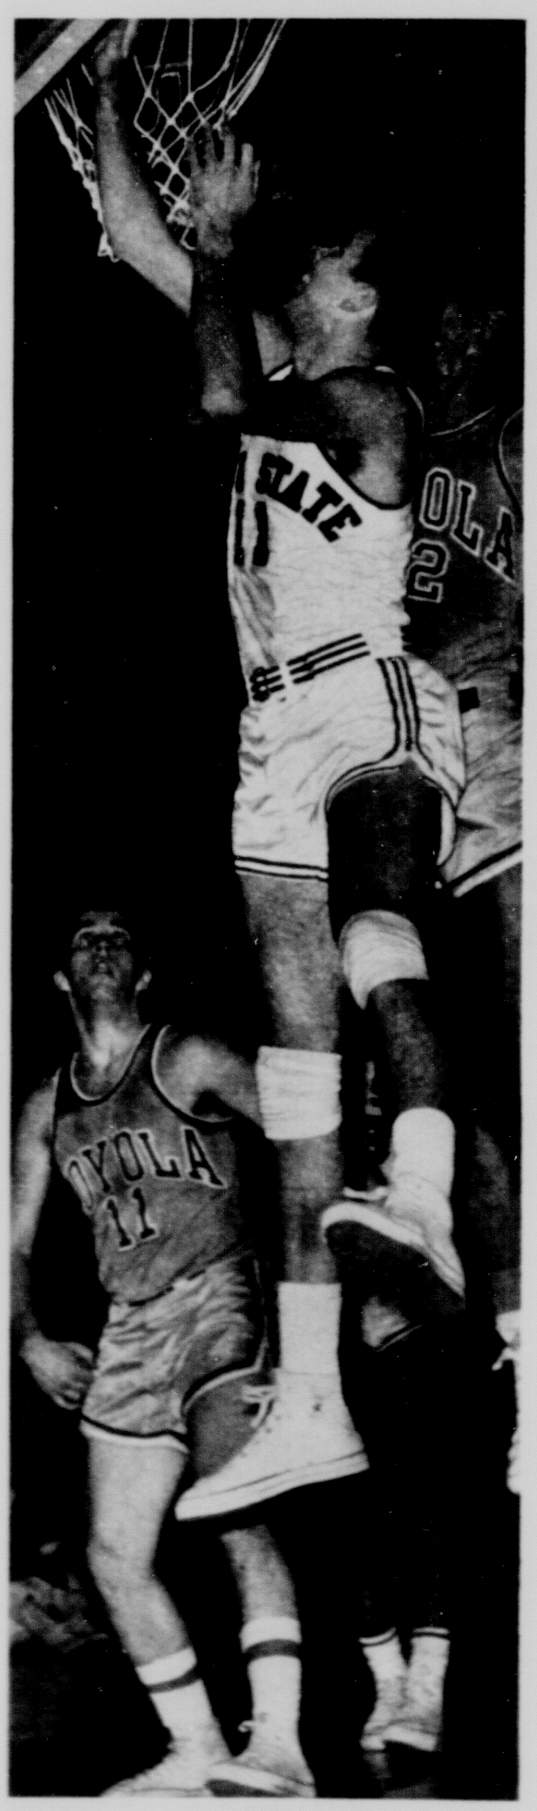

Take a look at the home town of the greatest star of them all, Jerry Lucas of OSU, and you'll get an idea of why the Buckeyes have become deadeyes on the court. Middletown, Ohio, is an industrial city of 35,000, not all of whom walk around dribbling basketballs. The cage craze hit Middletown in 1929 when Ray Greene, a Cornell University coach, organized an elementary-school basketball program. It really caught fire in 1944 when Middletown won its first state high-school basketball championship. Then it won another and still another with Jerry Lucas at the throttle in the mid-1950s.

SOON THERE WAS a hoop on just about every garage in town. Hard-surface courts were constructed so youngsters could practice year-around. Many of the parents blacktopped areas around garages to accommodate their boys.

Four outdoor courts were lighted by the city. Day and night, the courts are in use regardless of weather. Youngsters flip on the lights as soon as it starts to get dark. City policemen on their beats in the wee hours turn them out.

The street department clears the basketball courts of snow first—before turning its attention to the city arteries. Basketball comes before anything else.

Middletown is not unique in Ohio. It is typical. In the southwestern part of Ohio, for example, there are many small schools. Most of these schools don't field football teams. Basketball is their only sport. Naturally, it is a do-or-die

Jerry Lucas, Ohio State's home-grown product, has been an all-America selection since his sophomore year. He has led the Buckeyes to No. 1 position this season.

The biggest, most costly production in Rome, "Cleopatra," features extras by the thousands. In this scene, more than 3,000 watch the triumphal entry into Rome.

Previously ill, Liz Taylor now firmly commands the role of Cleopatra.

spent $5 million before getting a foot of film, and has collected $2 million in insurance for the setback caused by Miss Taylor's illness. Extras are hired by the thousands and elephants by the herd. Liz drives to the studios each morning from her $3,000-a-month villa, where husband Eddie Fisher remains to brush up on his newest songs.

The reason behind the boom probably is Italy's mild climate. It assures a better-than-even chance of uninterrupted work at outdoor locations. Originally, all movie roads led to Rome because of tax benefits and cheap labor, but new tax laws in the U.S. and spiraling wages in Italy have pretty much destroyed that concept.

In one block you may see Charlton Heston, Cyd Charisse, or Kirk Douglas. Other head-turners are Stewart Granger, Van Heflin, Jeanne Crain, and Dorothy Malone.

The speed of the jet age may make any star-studded visiting list obsolete before it sees the light of day, but one thing seems certain—the rush to Rome will not flag for some time, although a very fine American actor named Fred Clark started what might be a trend recently.

Tony Quinn makes Roman scene in "Barabbas."

Susan Strasberg strolls in Rome without a stir.

Julie makes a test run behind the wheel of a stripped-down new model. Later she'll file a report on the car's performance.

Coed Test Driver

A spunky collegian proves the adage: a woman can do anything she sets her mind to JULIE STOCKWELL, a senior at the University of Michigan, loves cars. And it's a tenacious love.

Julie proved this last summer when she was looking for a vacation job. She decided she wanted to test-drive cars for the Ford Company in Dearborn. There was only one problem. Ford didn't hire women test drivers!

But Julie wasn't a bit dismayed. She finally convinced the company that as a journalism major she could even do a story about her test-track experiences for the college paper.

Julie was soon launched on an exacting journey into a "no woman's land," but she learned quickly. Before her first test run, she had to absorb a mountain of facts about automobiles; she had to learn to test them under all conditions—in an eerie "listening" chamber to detect shimmy or vibration, in a wind tunnel, in a hot-and-cold room; she had to clamber in and out of scores of vehicles ranging from compacts to giant diesel trucks. Gradually she was accepted as "one of the crew."

"D-Day" found Julie tackling steep hills, muddy roads, sharp curves, straightaways, and the "wet wash"—when you hit spraying water at 40 miles per hour. But she handled them all with aplomb.

Success in an all-male world didn't go to Julie's head, though. Typically feminine, she still glows with the memory of the bouquet of flowers she received from the test-track crew—a fitting tribute to any girl's début.

During "interning" period, Julie examines a mechanical man ensconced in Ford's testing arsenal.

Julie wanted to duck when her car, top down, hit water trench, but she remained bravely upright.

ME?

OLD-FASHIONED?

Yes, you!

You can wear the latest Paris hat or coat, the latest lipstick, the latest false eyelashes, but millions of girls your age insist you're old-fashioned if you don't use Tampax.

We read it in letters; we hear it by word of mouth. Tampax is the modern way because it's the better way. Modern is better; old-fashioned is just not good.

Of course, if you want to be tied to that belt-pin-pad harness . . . if you want carrying problems, disposal problems . . . if you aren't in the least bit worried about odor . . . that's your affair.

But Tampax®—because it's worn internally—could do away with every last one of those bugaboos.

Ah, we have it! Perhaps you're afraid Tampax mightn't be comfortable. Why you can't even feel it once it's in place.

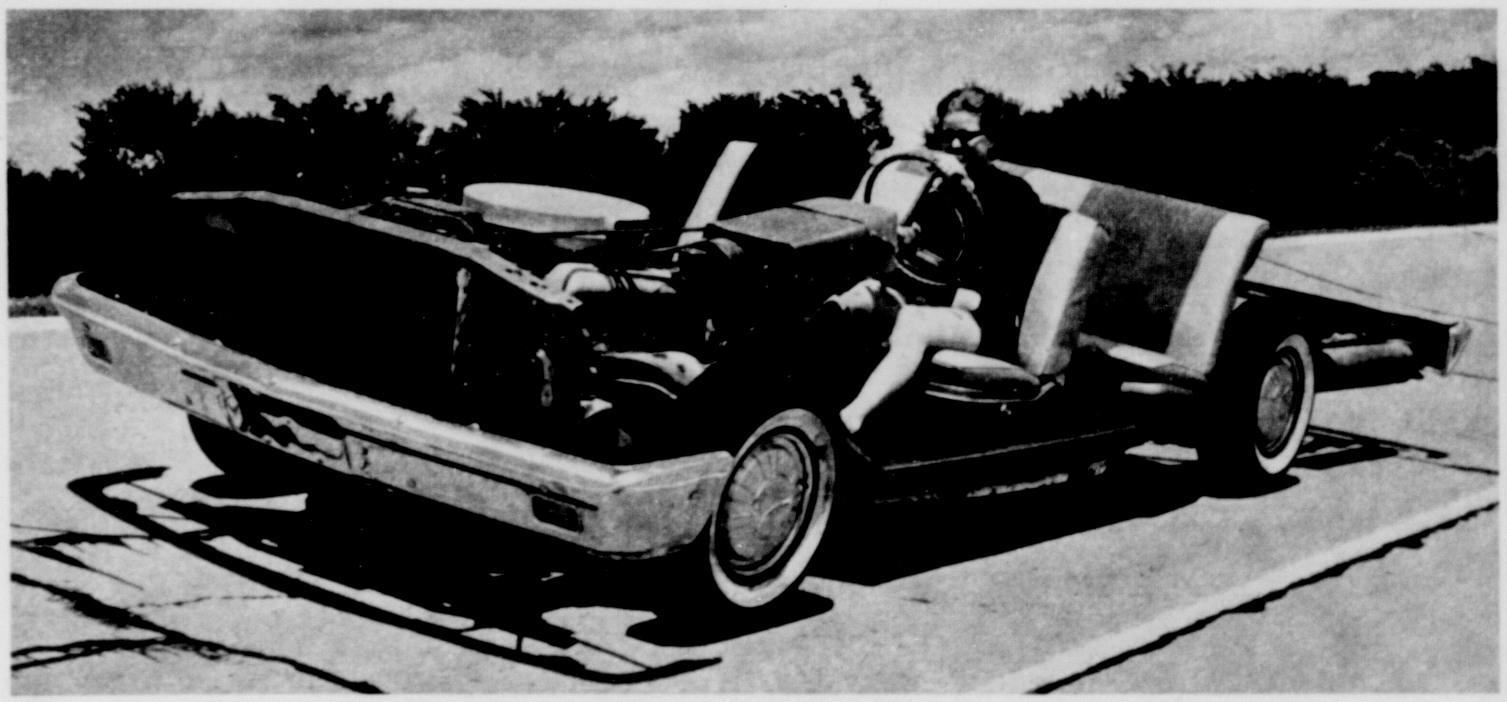

But, as we said, go ahead! Be old-fashioned, if you want!

Just don't go around blaming someone else when you feel uncomfortable, ill-at-ease and out of sorts during that time-of-the-month. We could help you.

And we'd very much like to!

Coffee Cakes for Compliments

—served with a pot of steaming coffee or cups of spicy chocolate at late morning meetings, neighborhood get-togethers, or special family occasions

On the paddle board is brightly hued Candied Fruit Wreath, and in the background, cut to show its delectable rich filling, is Mammoth Pecan Braid. All coffee cakes impart their fullest flavor when served warm.

Candied Fruit Wreath

GOOD FOR FREEZING

Follow recipe for Mammoth Pecan Braid omitting Vanilla-Butter Filling and pecans. Add 1⅓ cups (8-oz. pkg.) diced assorted candied fruits, finely chopped, with the second addition of flour. Proceed as directed through step 4. When the dough has risen, roll out onto a lightly floured surface into a 19x15-in. rectangle. Brush dough with 2 tablespoons melted butter and sprinkle with 3 tablespoons red sugar. Roll up from widest side and seal edge well; put on a baking sheet and form into a ring. Snip at 1½-in. intervals almost to center. Alternately turn sections toward the center and toward the outside of the ring with cut sides up. (See photo.) Brush each section with melted butter and sprinkle with red sugar. Let rise in a warm place until doubled, about 30 min. Bake at 350°F 35 to 40 min., or until golden brown. Remove to cooling rack and partially cool, then drizzle with Orange Snow Icing. 1 coffee cake

Quick 'n' Easy Jam Braid

CONVENIENCE FOOD RECIPE

TO PREPARE: 15 MIN. TO BAKE: 15 MIN.

2 cups biscuit mix
¼ cup butter, cut in small pieces
1 3-oz. pkg. cream cheese, cut in small pieces
⅓ cup milk
⅔ cup whole strawberry preserve

1. Put biscuit mix into a bowl; using a pastry blender, cut in butter and cheese until pieces are the size of peas.
2. Gradually add milk, blending together with a fork. (Mixture will be lumpy and crumbly in appearance.)
3. Turn dough onto a lightly greased baking sheet and roll into a 14x8-in. rectangle. Evenly spread strawberry preserve on dough in a 2-in. wide, lengthwise strip. Cut dough with a knife into 1-in. strips from the outside edge to the filling. Braid the strips over filling by lifting one strip from each side and crossing diagonally in center.
4. Bake at 425°F about 15 min., or until lightly browned. Serve warm.

Mammoth Pecan Braid

GOOD FOR FREEZING

TO PREPARE: 30 MIN.
TO BAKE: 20-25 MIN.

1 pkg. active dry yeast
¼ cup warm water (110°F to 115°F) (Or if using compressed yeast, soften 1 cake in ¼ cup lukewarm water, 80°F to 85°F)
½ cup sugar
½ cup butter, softened
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk, scalded
4 to 5 cups flour
1 egg, well beaten
Vanilla-Butter Filling (see recipe)
1½ cups pecans, finely chopped
Orange Snow Icing (see recipe)

1. Soften yeast in water; let stand 5 to 10 min.
2. Meanwhile, put the sugar, butter, and salt into a large bowl. Immediately pour scalded milk over ingredients in bowl; stir occasionally until butter is melted.
3. Cool to lukewarm; blend in 1 cup flour, beating until smooth. Stir softened yeast and add, mixing well. Add about one-half of the flour to yeast mixture and beat until very smooth. Beat in the egg.
4. Beat in enough of the remaining flour to make a soft dough. Turn dough onto a lightly floured surface and allow to rest 5 to 10 min. Knead until dough is smooth and does not stick to the surface. Form dough into a large ball and put into a buttered deep bowl. Turn dough to bring buttered surface to top. Cover with waxed paper and a towel and let stand in a warm place (about 80°F) until dough is doubled, about 2 hrs.
5. Punch down dough with fist. Turn out onto a lightly floured surface and allow to rest 5 to 10 min. Divide dough in half and roll each half into an 18x9-in. rectangle. Cut each rectangle lengthwise into thirds.
6. Spread Vanilla-Butter Filling over the six strips, then sprinkle with 1 cup pecans. Roll each strip lengthwise, sealing edges well. Braid strips together in threes, then shape braids into a large wreath, pressing slightly to seal ends. Or shape each braid into a wreath.
7. Place on lightly greased baking sheet. Let rise in a warm place 30 min., or until doubled in size.
8. Bake at 350°F 20 to 25 min., or until golden brown. Cool partially on cooling rack.
9. When still slightly warm, drizzle with Orange Snow Icing and sprinkle with remaining pecans.

1 large or 2 small coffee cakes

Vanilla-Butter Filling—Cream ¾ cup butter until softened; add 1½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar gradually, beating until light and fluffy. Blend in 1 teaspoon vanilla extract.

Orange Snow Icing—Blend 2 tablespoons orange juice and ½ teaspoon vanilla extract into 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar.

Mexican Chocolate

TO PREPARE AND COOK: 20 MIN.

2 sq. (2 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
½ cup double-strength coffee
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/16 teaspoon ground allspice
Few grains salt
3 cups milk
1½ teaspoons vanilla extract

1. Heat chocolate and coffee together in a heavy saucepan, stirring until chocolate is melted and mixture is smooth. Cook 2 min., stirring constantly.
2. Mix in the next four ingredients. Gradually add the milk, stirring until blended; heat thoroughly.
3. Remove from heat; blend in vanilla extract. Top each serving with whipped cream. About 4 servings

Coffee for Twenty (Steeped)

Thoroughly mix ½ lb. regular grind coffee with 1 egg and crushed egg shell. Tie loosely in fine cheesecloth or put into a lightweight muslin bag. Put in a large kettle with 1 gal. freshly drawn cold water. Cover tightly. Set over low heat and bring very slowly to boiling. Boil 3 to 5 min. Taste to test strength. Remove bag when coffee is desired strength. Cover kettle and let stand over low heat without boiling 10 to 15 min.

Easy answer to "what's for dessert?"

Pudding Cheesecake

No cooking.

the tart-sweet smoothness of Jell-O Lemon Instant Pudding—
the mellow tang of Borden's Cream Cheese—
the crunchiness of graham cracker crust!

Jell-O is a registered trade-mark of General Foods Corp.

Lemon Cheesecake in 15 Minutes

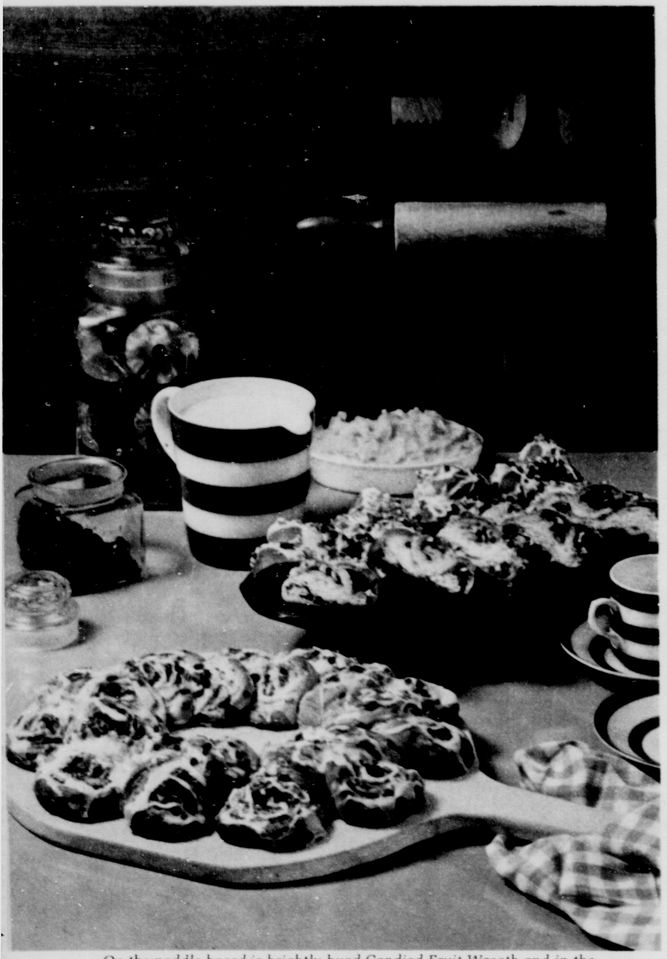

1 (8 oz.) package Borden's Cream Cheese • 2 cups milk
1 package Jell-O Lemon Instant Pudding
8-inch graham cracker crust.

Stir cream cheese until very soft. Gradually blend in ½ cup milk until smooth and creamy. Add remaining milk and the pudding mix. Beat slowly with egg beater 1 minute. (Do not overbeat.) Pour into cooled graham cracker crust. Sprinkle graham cracker crumbs on top to make it extra crunchy. Then chill. That's all—really.

P. S. For luscious cheesecake with Hawaiian tang, use Pineapple Cream Jell-O Instant Pudding instead of Lemon. Just make sure it's Jell-O Instant Pudding. This particular recipe can not be made with any other instant or cooked pudding.

2 cups biscuit mix
¼ cup butter, cut in small pieces
1 3-oz. pkg. cream cheese, cut in small pieces
⅓ cup milk
½ cup whole strawberry preserve

1. Put biscuit mix into a bowl; using a pastry blender, cut in butter and cheese until pieces are the size of peas.
2. Gradually add milk, blending together with a fork. (Mixture will be lumpy and crumbly in appearance.)
3. Turn dough onto a lightly greased baking sheet and roll into a 14x8-in. rectangle. Evenly spread strawberry preserve on dough in a 2-in. wide, lengthwise strip. Cut dough with a knife into 1-in. strips from the outside edge to the filling. Braid the strips over filling by lifting one strip from each side and crossing diagonally in center.
4. Bake at 425°F about 15 min., or until lightly browned. Serve warm.

Mammoth Pecan Braid

GOOD FOR FREEZING

TO PREPARE: 30 MIN.
TO BAKE: 20-25 MIN.

(allow time for rising)

1 pkg. active dry yeast
¼ cup warm water (110°F to 115°F) (Or if using compressed yeast, soften 1 cake in ¼ cup lukewarm water, 80°F to 85°F)
½ cup sugar
½ cup butter, softened
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk, scalded
4 to 5 cups flour
1 egg, well beaten
Vanilla-Butter Filling (see recipe)
1½ cups pecans, finely chopped
Orange Snow Icing (see recipe)

1. Soften yeast in water; let stand 5 to 10 min.
2. Meanwhile, put the sugar, butter, and salt into a large bowl. Immediately pour scalded milk over ingredients in bowl; stir occasionally until butter is melted.
3. Cool to lukewarm; blend in 1 cup flour, beating until smooth. Stir softened yeast and add, mixing well. Add about one-half of the flour to yeast mixture and beat until very smooth. Beat in the egg.
4. Beat in enough of the remaining flour to make a soft dough. Turn dough onto a lightly floured surface and allow to rest 5 to 10 min. Knead until dough is smooth and does not stick to the surface. Form dough into a large ball and put into a buttered deep bowl. Turn dough to bring buttered surface to top. Cover with waxed paper and a towel and let stand in a warm place (about 80°F) until dough is doubled, about 2 hrs.
5. Punch down dough with fist. Turn out onto a lightly floured surface and allow to rest 5 to 10 min. Divide dough in half and roll each half into an 18x9-in. rectangle. Cut each rectangle lengthwise into thirds.
6. Spread Vanilla-Butter Filling over the six strips, then sprinkle with 1 cup pecans. Roll each strip lengthwise, sealing edges well. Braid strips together in threes, then shape braids into a large wreath, pressing slightly to seal ends. Or shape each braid into a wreath.
7. Place on lightly greased baking sheet. Let rise in a warm place 30 min., or until doubled in size.
8. Bake at 350°F 20 to 25 min., or until golden brown. Cool partially on cooling rack.
9. When still slightly warm, drizzle with Orange Snow Icing and sprinkle with remaining pecans.

Mexican Chocolate

TO PREPARE AND COOK: 20 MIN.

2 sq. (2 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
½ cup double-strength coffee
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/16 teaspoon ground allspice
Few grains salt
3 cups milk
1½ teaspoons vanilla extract

1. Heat chocolate and coffee together in a heavy saucepan, stirring until chocolate is melted and mixture is smooth. Cook 2 min., stirring constantly.
2. Mix in the next four ingredients. Gradually add the milk, stirring until blended; heat thoroughly.
3. Remove from heat; blend in vanilla extract. Top each serving with whipped cream. About 4 servings

Coffee for Twenty (Steeped)

Thoroughly mix ½ lb. regular grind coffee with 1 egg and crushed egg shell. Tie loosely in fine cheesecloth or put into a lightweight muslin bag. Put in a large kettle with 1 gal. freshly drawn cold water. Cover tightly. Set over low heat and bring very slowly to boiling. Boil 3 to 5 min. Taste to test strength. Remove bag when coffee is desired strength. Cover kettle and let stand over low heat without boiling 10 to 15 min.

Pudding Cheesecake

the tart-sweet smoothness of Jell-O Lemon Instant Pudding—the mellow tang of Borden's Cream Cheese—the crunchiness of graham cracker crust!

Jell-O is a registered trade-mark of General Foods Corp.

Lemon Cheesecake in 15 Minutes

1 (8 oz.) package Borden's Cream Cheese • 2 cups milk
1 package Jell-O Lemon Instant Pudding
8-inch graham cracker crust.

Stir cream cheese until very soft. Gradually blend in ½ cup milk until smooth and creamy. Add remaining milk and the pudding mix. Beat slowly with egg beater 1 minute. (Do not overbeat.) Pour into cooled graham cracker crust. Sprinkle graham cracker crumbs on top to make it extra crunchy. Then chill. That's all—really.

P. S. For luscious cheesecake with Hawaiian tang, use Pineapple Cream Jell-O Instant Pudding instead of Lemon. Just make sure it's Jell-O Instant Pudding. This particular recipe can not be made with any other instant or cooked pudding.
